Bogota Talks Resumed as Crisis Mounts In Colombia

Army Restlessness Rumored; Gaitan's Widow Demands That Perez Resign

By Mac R. Johnson

Bogota, April 14 (NYHT).—A crucial political situation, revolving around the unburied body of Jorge Eliecer Gaitan, threatened Colombia tonight with a new outburst of trouble.

Several things are shaking the government of Conservative President Mariano Ospina Perez, even as the Ninth Inter-American Conference resumed its sessions here today.

First, Bario Echandia, Liberal Minister of the Government (first minister) in President Ospina Perez's five-day-old coalition cabinet, has handed the President an ultimatum that he will resign unless granted the full powers of office.

Second, with Gaitan unburied, the people are still restless. President Ospina Perez had the Liberal Party ministers plead with the widow to permit burial, but she refused. She reiterated today that the body will not be buried until the President resigns, and this is leading to great unrest as the word spreads.

Nation-wide Strike Urged

Third, the entire Liberal Party, through its board of directors, called for an extension of the general strike in Bogota to the entire country, in the face of the President's appeal to the people to open their stores and offices and go back to work.

A more ominous report came from the Ministry of War, where it was reported that Lieut. Gen. German Ocampo, the nonpolitical Minister of War in the coalition cabinet, was losing ground within the army in supporting Ospina Perez.

The conference resumed sessions in a small, packed, smoke-filled room in the Gimnasio Moderna School in the safer outskirts of the city, about 3 miles from the old meeting place. The senior delegates met as a steering committee and discussed the name the American states should collectively carry under the proposed organic pact. Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina said he didn't like the name "Union of American Republics" because it sounded like the "Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

Army Restlessness Reported

The reports of army restlessness—and for the moment these may best be considered rumors—said that Gen. Rafael Sanchez Amaya, director-general of the army, wanted Ospina Perez deposed in favor of an all-military government.

Echandia complained that the President was using Liberals in the cabinet as a "front" to attract Liberal support until a government could be stabilized. Echandia's position as Minister of Government is tantamount to prime minister.

He said that Ospina Perez has not given him the power of office, which includes the appointment of state governors and the filling of other high posts.

People are getting hungrier every day and today they clutched the pitiful things they could buy—a few potatoes, a few green bananas, a little rice—close to their chests as they walked home.

Colombia Undecided On Soviet Relations

Bogota, April 14 (AP).—Eduardo Zuleta Angel, new Colombian Foreign Minister and a member of the Conservative Party, was quoted in the opposition newspaper El Liberal today as saying the government had taken no decision on the question of diplomatic relations with Russia.

The government radio carried the original announcement two days ago that Colombia had severed diplomatic relations with Russia. This followed a statement that two Soviet agents had been arrested in connection with the revolution. The official Russian

Grand Jury Is Given Data On 'Numbers'

D. C. Law Officials Declare Indictments Are Far Between

By Joseph Paull
Post Reporter

Law enforcement officials are planning a stepped-up drive against the number racket in Washington, it was learned yesterday.

A first move was discovered when Lieut. Roy Blick, head of the Police Department's vice squad, together with George M. Fay, United States attorney, and John W. Finelly, his first assistant, held a long session Tuesday with the District grand jury.

The purpose of the session was to acquaint the jurors with the seriousness of the numbers racket here.

The step was taken, it was learned, as a result of the low number of indictments being returned here in lottery cases. Since the start of this year there have been but 12 numbers indictments. Five cases have been ignored and 17 cases have been referred back to Municipal Court for prosecution as misdemeanors.

Court records show that even if a guilty plea is entered in a numbers case, the defendant faces jail in only 1 case out of 10.

A study of the 114 cases which appeared in the District and Municipal Courts here since January 1 revealed the following:

Only eight resulted in jail sentences for the numbers writers or racket operator. Seventy-eight fines were imposed. Five persons were allowed to forfeit collateral of $50 each and two were released on their personal bond not to repeat the offense. Probation terms were imposed, along with the fines mentioned, in some 40 cases.

The largest jail sentence was for a year, the smallest for 30 days. A 60-day sentence was imposed when a defendant failed to pay a $50 fine in Municipal Court.

Jury trials were unpopular in numbers cases. Only five defendants asked to face the jury. Only one was found innocent. In the Police Pvt. Richard Keith Kallio packs more weight than any man in town, but at the moment he's up to his bulging biceps in hot water.

Kallio, who is a husky 220 pounds and is District A.A.U. heavyweight weight-lifting champion, is to face a Police Trial Board Friday.

He is charged with (1) malingering and feigning illness and disability, and (2) making a false statement to his superior officer.

In sum, Kallio is accused of reporting himself sick and then dashing out to his favorite golf course for a round of hit and follow.

Inspector Floyd Truscott said yesterday the weight-lifting gendarme has been on the police sick list frequently in recent months, complaining of a back injury.

Truscott stated that reports sifted in to police officials that even with his bad back, Kallio still was indulging in his favorite hobbies, weight lifting and golf.

The reports had it that Kallio was still a pretty fair hand at lifting 300-odd pounds of metal in the classical pose, also that his golf game, usually in the low 70s, hadn't suffered noticeably.

When Kallio asked to be excused from duty April 2 because of his aching back, police investigators were assigned to watch his movements, Truscott said.

They reported back that Kallio had gone out for a morning round of golf. So. Capt. Archie M. Winfree, his commanding officer at the Sixth Precinct, suspended him.

The 29-year-old Kallio, a policeman for six years, is supposed to have suffered his back injury last December in a fall down a flight of stairs. He recently announced he would not be able to defend his title in the annual championship lift scheduled May 2 at the Jewish Community Center.

Kallio has no equal as a weight lifter in the District. For three years he has reigned as District A. A. U. champ of the big boys. The local records for the three types of weight lifts are all held by Kallio.

Kallio, who lives at 4915 41st st. nw., said he had no comment to make.

30% Develop Into Addicts

Who Becomes an Alcoholic? Anybody Can, Doctor Replies

Richmond, Va., April 14 (AP).—Ever stop to wonder while you bobbed for that olive in the Martini just what type of person becomes the chronic alcoholic?

It can happen to anybody, and authority on the subject said tonight. Anybody, that is, who takes a drink.

Dr. Robert Fleming of Harvard Medical School's psychiatry department discussed it here before a five-state seminar on mental and nervous disorders. Look at it the way Dr. Fleming explained it:

The novice drinkers go in for what may be called symptomatic drinking. 1. For physical reasons, viz. a small ache or pain may respond readily to a tot of grog. 2. For psychological reasons—to shade a worry or anxiety, and 3. The preponderant group who take it up as a social pastime.

For a majority of the imbibers, fortunately, the business of drinking can be kept reasonably well in hand. But for a substantial minority—say about 30 per cent—the business becomes progressive.

The smaller group finds itself bending over from the symptomatic school of drinking into the class of addictive drinkers. These folks who are drinking for a reason enconuter new troubles. The man who drank to relieve an arthritic twinge now finds the alcohol has killed his appetite. The one who sought to leave his worry in the bottom of the glass picks up a case of insomnia.

So to cure these new difficulties they turn to what seems the logical remedy—drink.

Then, when a man finds out he has drifted into the addictive class he can't let up a bit and snap back.

Sorry, said the doctor. The only cure is total abstinence.

However, he added, there is no case of alcoholism that should be considered hopeless.

Lewis Loses In Motion To Dismiss

Counsel for Union Indicates He Won't Argue for Defense Unless Court Asks

By Alfred Friendly
Post Reporter

The Government completed its presentation of evidence against John L. Lewis yesterday and will argue today that the miners' leader should be punished for contempt of court.

Lewis' attorneys offered no evidence of their own. They even indicated they would not argue for the defense unless "invited" by the court. Federal Justice T. Alan Goldsborough, before whom Lewis' case is being heard, expressed amazement and hinted that he would make such an invitation today.

Dismissal Motions Denied

Earlier, however, he twice rejected motions by Welly K. Hopkins, chief counsel for Lewis, to throw the entire charge of civil and criminal contempt out of court. Hopkins made the motion when the trial began in the morning. He renewed it when the Government rested its case at 3:50 p. m.

Goldsborough meditated for a minute or so. Then he said, "The motion will have to be overruled." Hopkins had argued that the testimony brought forward by the Department of Justice was insufficient and did not prove the charges.

Lewis was present throughout the day but did not take the stand, and Hopkins presented no other witnesses for him. Lewis was dour and communicated with none of his colleagues during the proceeding. A deep scowl never left his face.

Assistant Attorney General H. Graham Morison, who presented the case for the Government, said he would discuss the "whole evidential pattern of the case" today. He meant he would attempt to prove an affirmative answer to the single biggest question at issue: Was the month-long work stoppage in the Nation's coal mines a strike, called by Lewis and the United Mine Workers union?

No Penalty Limit

If it was, according to the argument Morison is expected to make, Lewis and the union could have called off the strike on April 5. This was the day they were instructed to do so by a court order. Lewis did not comply until last Monday, a few minutes before court proceedings against him began. The Government says that in the interim, Lewis and the union were in contempt of court.

There is no limit to the fine or jail sentence Goldsborough may impose if he finds the defendants guilty. The Department of Justice, it was learned last night, leans heavily to the view that it should recommend to Goldsborough a very heavy penalty, if it wins the case.

Although there is a minority opposed to the idea, most officials in the department want to see a jail sentence levied against Lewis—although with the expectation that it would be suspended—and a thumping fine.

Argument probably will end today, but Goldsborough may well take a few days before he hands down sentence.

The miners, their eyes on the outcome of the contempt case, were slow about returning to work. About half had returned to their jobs by yesterday.

In presenting the Government's case, Morison called on a series of witnesses whose testimony ap-

Russia Seen As Conceding Italy Defeat

Stand on Trieste So Interpreted; Consternation in Red Camp Reported

Rome, April 14 (AP)—Rightest newspapers said today that Italy's Communists had been thrown into consternation by Moscow's turndown of the Western powers' proposal to hold a conference on Trieste.

United States diplomatic observers said they believed the Soviet Union's refusal to talk about the American-British-French proposal to return the free state to Italy signified Moscow had abandoned hope of a Communist victory in the Italian elections April 18.

Premier Alcide de Gasperi returned from a northern campaign trip today expressing confidence over the outcome for his Christian Democrats.

Red Campaign Pressed

Communists however, were as vigorous as ever in their campaigning. Six thousand demonstrated in Milan tonight, led by workers who carried placards attacking De Gasperi. They were in evidence at almost every pro-government meeting, where they engaged in heckling.

"Everywhere I find multitudes that show they share my thought," De Gasperi told reporters. "An occasional whistle (jeer) there is always, but it seems to be done especially to show that today in Italy there is democratic liberty."

The bitter peak that has been reached in the national election, in which Italians will choose senators and deputies for their first Republican Parliament, seemed certain to be maintained for at least the next 48 hours.

Final Speeches Friday

Both De Gasperi and Palmiro Togliatti, Communist chieftain, will make their final speeches Friday night in Naples. Italians will have a chance to think for 24 hours before they go to the polls on Sunday.

For them the issue has been made as clear as a newly printed coin—they will make their choice for or against Communism.

De Gasperi made that point today when he returned from the Communist stronghold of Milan, where police took hours to restore order last night.

De Gasperi said a photostatic copy of a secret accord among Communist parties of five nations to coordinate their tactics for conquest in France and Italy was "in the hands of one who can show it."

Secret Meeting Described

He said the delegates of the five Communist parties met secretly during the Cominform organization meeting in Poland last year, and set up a special committee "at the direct orders of Moscow" to master-mind the Communist campaign here and in France.

Speaking at Palermo, Sicily, tonight, he told a crowd of 60,000 that victory for the Communist-led Popular Front would stop American aid.

"It is not we who work for war," he said. "It is they (the Communists) who work for war. They seek the disintegration of the Italian people, and try to undermine its resistance through a fifth column and armies on the outside.

The authoritative newspaper Il Messaggero, which alone among Rome newspapers has maintained impartiality in its news columns during the campaign, today predicted in an editorial that De Gas-

Man-to-Man Appeal of Stassen Takes Primary in Nebraska

By Robert C. Albright
Post Reporter

Harold E. Stassen and his alderman's level person-to-person "here's where I stand" campaign won again in Nebraska Tuesday and set a swift pace over the field for the Republican nomination.

The result jolted more than the Republican lineup for President—it meant the old orthodox style of speak softly on issues and win quietly without jostling is out for this season.

It meant more—that isolationist sentiment is on the wane in its last Midwest strongholds.

Stassen moved to the front of Republican contenders with a probable 15,000 primary margin over Thomas E. Dewey, who ran second, and a nearly 4 to 1 edge over Senator Robert A. Taft.

The rest of the field trailed far behind in this order: Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Gov. Earl Warren and Speaker Joseph W. Martin, jr.

With returns complete in 1868 of the State's 2024 precincts, the score stood: Stassen 74,925, Dewey 59,135, Taft 19,348, Vandenberg, 8340, MacArthur 6269, Warren 1675 and Martin 843.

Stassen won in Nebraska as he won in Wisconsin after forcing Governor Dewey out of Albany and into the field in the sort of sweating, elbow-rubbing, direct appeal to the voters campaign the former Minnesota Governor knows best.

But three free style days of it in Nebraska produced only runner up position for the man who won the primary without lifting a finger in 1940 and received a big write-in vote in 1944.

Senator Taft, long vieing with Stassen in the speak out technique, and supported by the only Republican organization in the State, received only poor show money and a lacing that will be hard to recoup.

The experts promptly reshuffled their 1948 cards, but not the "Big Three contenders." None were getting out of the race.

Stassen leaders repeated what they said after Wisconsin that their man is the "No. 1 contender."

Taft said he was "naturally disappointed" but predicted that a return engagement with Stassen in the May 4 Ohio primaries "will produce the opposite result."

Governor Dewey's pre-convention manager, Herbert Brownell, jr., congratulated Stassen, but said Dewey is still "the leading candidate Nation-wide." He predicted "redoubled" efforts by Dewey sup-

British Begin Closing Down In Palestine

Motor License Office Shut Down; Mandate End Draws Near

Jerusalem, April 14 (AP).—Amid the shot and shell of Jewish-Arab civil war, the British began today to close down the Palestine government they have administered for almost 26 years.

The motor traffic department was the first to go. It closed up before noon and announced there would be no more licensing of automobiles or drivers. Such licenses are already being issued by the Jews in areas they control.

Tomorrow the postoffice department will begin to close its rural stations. Postoffices in the main cities are expected to be shut down by May 5.

The British will terminate their mandate May 15. British troops are to leave by August 1.

A British informant said that by May 1 only 40 British civil servants will remain to administer government departments staffed at one time by 500 to 600 Britons.

Another auto convoy of 100 vehicles carrying British civil servants and their wives and children left Jerusalem today for Haifa and embarkation to England.

The first closing of government departments follows weeks of gradual collapse of essential services. Mail, electricity and water supplies have failed at times. Police and military officials admit privately that in recent weeks their first concern was to get as many of the British home as safely as possible.

Tax collections fell to less than 1 per cent of normal, an official said.

A heavy explosion blasted a house in the Yemen Moshe (right hand of Moses) quarter in Jerusalem today. Arab sources said their fighters drove a captured Haganah car into the Jewish area and placed a small box of explosives in the house.

It was not known whether the blast caused any casualties.

Hughes Calls Senate Report 'Maneuver'

Planemaker Accused Of 'Corrupt Relation' With General Meyers

Howard R. Hughes, West Coast millionaire, accused of wartime plane-building failures by a Senate investigating committee, came back last night with a charge of "skullduggery."

Dividing along strict party lines the Senate War Investigating Committee, now defunct, voted yesterday to release a blistering report on its investigations into Hughes' wartime plane contracts and the activities of Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers (ret.)

Legislative Changes Asked

The majority recommended several legislative changes in its dynamite laden report. Among these were:

1. That investigations involving misconduct of personnel be removed from the chain of command in all branches of the armed services. This recommendation, predicted last fall by The Washington Post, is based on the finding that under the present system there is bound to be "a tendency to cover up or whitewash" high-ranking officers.

2. That procurement officers and members of their immediate families should be required periodically to file sworn statements of their net worth, showing in detail their stock holdings and all other financial interests.

3. That Congress consider legislation to require persons having dealings with the Government and Government officials to report promptly all attempts "at bribery, extortion or other corrupt acts in connection with the negotiation and management of Government business.

Little Meyers Mention

The report laid its greatest emphasis upon Hughes' contracts for the Flying Boat and the XF-11. Comparatively little space was given to Meyers, who is now serving a jail sentence for inducing a witness to commit perjury before the committee on a matter unrelated to Hughes.

The report also stressed the fact that neither Hughes nor Meyers made a report to appropriate authorities on what the GOP majority held were "negotiations of an obviously corrupt nature" between Hughes and Meyers. This referred to testimony that requests for loans and discussion of a postwar job had been talked of by the airplane

Until Europe Settles Down

Many in Congress Would Keep German Paintings for Awhile

If some Congressmen had their way, the German paintings would be kept in this country for awhile.

Many said so last night while attending a private, two-hour showing at the National Gallery of Art. Some non-Congressmen said the same thing.

The after-hours exhibit, which found the Gallery's corridors looking virtually barren compared with the daytime jam, topped a weekday attendance record of 30,143. Total attendance since March 17 stood at 656,926.

Last week's showing drew about 500 members of Congress and attaches.

At 2 p. m. today, in Room 212 of the Senate Office Building, an open hearing will be held on the Fulbright bill, which would permit exhibition of the German art treasures throughout the country.

Like most everyone else who's seen the fabulous works, Senator James P. Kem (R., Mo.) thought they were "wonderful and a privilege to see." He claimed they should be kept in this country "until there's a recognized German state."

Said Representative Mike Mansfield (D., Mont.): and show them around. It's too bad only those who live here have a chance to see them."

Representative Angler L. Goodwin (R., Mass.), who labeled the paintings "magnificent," believed they should be "kept in this country until the international situation is straightened out."

Similar views were expressed by Representative J. Vaughan Gary (D., Va.), Representative Olin E. Teague (D., Tex.), and by Murray Bernhardt, clerk of the House Judiciary Committee.

Air Power Not Enough, Gen. Bradley Tells House

Issue Is Whether We Fight Overseas Or Expose U. S., Says Army's Chief

By John G. Norris
Post Reporter

Gen. Omar Bradley warned yesterday that the issue before Congress is not a choice between supreme air power and a bigger Army backed by universal military training.

The real issue, declared the grizzled Army Chief of Staff, is whether we want to be ready to fight overseas in another war or go on the defensive and lay our cities open to air assault.

Air power alone, he told the House Armed Services Committee, cannot safeguard us against attack. Fighter planes, radar and antiaircraft defenses will not keep out all enemy bombers. Only with an adequate Army and Navy—able to gain control of bases within air range of the United States can we keep the war from our shores.

We Must Hold Bases

"If we, as a result of weakness in land or naval strength," Bradley warned bluntly, "permit any enemy power to seize such bases as Alaska, Greenland, Iceland, Spitzbergen or the Azores, then we shall have laid our industrial and population centers open to air attack.

"All the air forces and antiaircraft artilleries of the world could not prevent it. Only troops actually occupying such bases could give us protection. Those troops are the Army."

The lanky conqueror of Hitler's legions spoke as the House began debate on a $2,376,000,000 warplane procurement spending bill. It would carry out Administration recommendations to speed up aircraft production by placing orders immediately for some 3100 Air Force and Navy planes.

But the measure does not go far enough for Air Force chiefs and the congressional air power advocates. The latter laid before the House late yesterday an amendment calling for 922 million dollars more in contractual authority. That would start toward building the Air Force toward its 70-group program.

Crucial Vote Today

The crucial vote on whether the Nation is to put its emphasis on air power for national security or keep the armed forces in "balance"—as urged by Bradley, Navy chiefs and Defense Secretary James Forrestal—will come today.

Backers of the air power increase attacked this "balanced forces" argument on the floor yesterday. Representative Carl Hinshaw (R., Calif.), who offered the 70-group air force amendment, declared "it is obvious" that the funds for the Army, Navy and Air Force were divided "arbitrarily," with the latter being "outvoted" by the older services.

He asserted the Joint Chiefs of Staff "are still in disagreement" despite the Key West conference and plan to "fight yesterday's war tomorrow."

Representative Lyndon Johnson (D., Tex.) assailed those who oppose air force expansion because it is "too much, too soon." Contending that "any layman would

Truck Derails Speeding Train; 2 or 3 Killed

Kremlin, Okla., April 14 (AP).—The Rock Island Railroad's southbound streamlined Texas Rocket, traveling at more than a mile a minute, plunged from the rails and into a freight train here today. At least two or three persons were killed and two passenger cars set afire. Forty-two persons were hurt.

The State highway patrol reported bodies were so badly mangled and burned it was impossible immediately to tell whether they were those of two or three victims.

The patrol said 27 injured had been taken to hospitals at Enid, 12 miles south of here. Five were in critical condition.

The engineer said the train was traveling 78 miles an hour when a contractor's dump truck plunged into the side of one car at a grade crossing.

The blow knocked the speeding train, en route from Kansas City to Fort Worth, from its tracks. It struck the string of empty tank cars on a parallel track.

Friction from the sideswiping of the two trains set fire to two passenger coaches.

One coach was completely burned out.

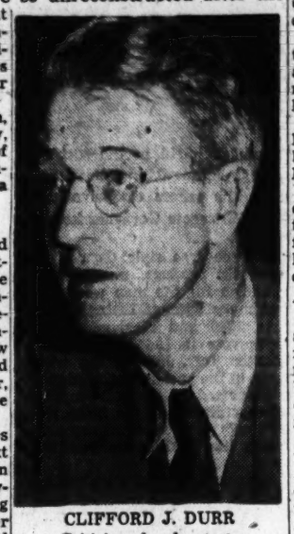
Clifford Judkins Durr Among Foremost Critics of Government's Loyalty Program

Clifford Judkins Durr, Federal Communications Commissioner and vigerous opponent of the President's loyalty test program, comes from rebel stock.

In fact, the Judkinses were so unreconstructed after the War Between the States, that rather than tolerate the Hamyankees, this Confederate family emigrated to Brazil. The Judkinses thought the better of it and after five years returned.



CLIFFORD J. DURR
Criticizes loyalty tests

Except for that heritage, though, there was nothing—superficially, at least—in the early career of tall, angular Cliff Durr that indicated he'd turn out to be a stormy petrel and New Dealer.

Native of Alabama

The 49-year-old gray-haired commissioner was born in Montgomery, Ala. He went through the University of Alabama, sandwiching World War I service in between his undergraduate education. Cliff was a studious fellow and spent three years at Oxford University as a Rhodes scholar, acquiring his law degree in the meanwhile.

He returned to the United States in '22, went into law for the next ten years, and was a corporation lawyer when he joined the Government service in 1933, starting the legal division of RFC. For eight years Durr moved onward and upward in Government service, but except for those who knew him intimately in the Defense Plants Corp., or other RFC activities, he was certainly not regarded as a rebel.

In '41 he was nominated by the late President Roosevelt for a seven-year term to the FFC, as a matter of strict orthodox politics. An Alabama man was going out as commissioner, so it was simple politics to replace him with an Alabaman.

Durr stepped int othe FCC cold on the subject, but quickly became hot. He took a leading role in defending Goodwin Watson and William Dodd, when Congress tried to fire these two former FCC officials by legislative action. The Supreme Court overruled Congress.

Outspoken in Opinions

In 1943 Durr plunged into a head-on fight with Representative E. E. Cox (D., Ga.), charging that Cox had an ax to grind when the Georgian sought to investigate the FCC. As a result, Cox personally withdraw from the probe.

In the communications field, Durr was outspoken in his opinions which sometimes clashed with his fellow commissioners, and sometimes with spokesmen of industry, but at all times Durr was eager and ready to debate the issue in public. Durr is an effective speaker—Southern accent and all—and he believes a public official should expose himself to public questions.

Of late, Durr has been one of the foremost critic of the loyalty tests. That may not hold true after June 30, when his term is up.

Durr married in 1926. His wife is the former Virginia Heard Foster, a sister of Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black's wife. They have four children, all girls, ranging from 13 months to 21 years. They live at Seminary Hill, Alexandria, Va.

'Untouchables' Feared From Loyalty Tests

By Sam Stavisky
Post Reporter

The Federal employe loyalty tests are "on the way to creating a new class of outcasts from society—a caste of economic and social 'untouchables,'" Federal Communications Commissioners Clifford J. Durr declared yesterday.

"This new caste will certainly threaten our security," Durr told a meeting of 150 national civil rights leaders. "It will also challenge our humanity.

The stigma attached to the "disloyal" government employe will brand him throughout his life, Durr asserted, adding:

"Barring from the normal occupations by which people earn their living, its members will be faced with the alternatives of hunger, an uncertain charity, or crime.

Addresses Conference

He spoke before a one-day session of the National Citizens Conference on Civil Liberties, held at the Washington Hotel, and called by a group of civil rights leaders chiefly from denominational organizations.

The session broke into three units, each of which came up with a set of recommendations, to be carried back by the delegates to their own organizations for discussion and possible action.

The unit on governmental invasion of civil liberties recommended:

1. Disapproval of the President's loyalty program on the grounds that it covers all Federal employes and not just those involved with security; that it gives the Attorney General an unchecked hand in designating organizations that are subversive; that it doesn't provide basic rights for the accused.

Would End Thomas Group

2. Abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, on the ground Congress should not inquire into the political beliefs and associations of Americans under so vague a term as un-Americanism."

3. Adoption by Congress of a fair practices code for all investigating committees.

4. An end to the policy of refusing American citizens passports abroad on account of political beliefs and associations. Also that long-resident aliens should not be deported solely on account of political beliefs and associations.

5. Condemnation of proposed House legislation requiring registration of the Communist Party and front organization; of any legislation which would discriminate against the voluntary association of American citizens on account of political beliefs.

Asks Recognition of "Rights"

A second unit urged, as steps toward strengthening academic freedoms:

1. Condemnation of the action by Evansville College, Ind., in dismissing a faculty for supporting the Wallace third party.

2. Recognition that teachers have the right to full freedom of research and publication, subject to adequate performance of their other academic duties; the right to full freedom of discussion in classrooms; the right to organize to protect their group interests; the right to speak or write freely on any subject that interests them; the right to join any organization not outlawed by law.

A third unit, dealing with the President's recommendations for civil rights legislation, recommended:

1. Immediate strengthening of the Civil Rights Section of the Justice Department.

2. Congressional passage of FEPC, anti-poll tax(anti-lynch, and District civil rights legislation.

3. That President ban discriminatory practices in Federal employment, and abolish discrimination and segregation in the armed forces.

4. That local communities set up civil rights action committees.

More Air Power Not Enough, Bradley Tells House Group

recognize" that we are in no danger of attack from land or sea, he added:

"The only lack of balance worrying me is the comparison between our air force and the air force Russia is known to possess."

Representative Carl Vinson (D., Ga.) told the House it would be "gambling with our national existence" if funds are not voted for a 70-group USAF program now. Otherwise, he said, we will not have the planes "at the danger date" in 1950 or 1952, when Russia may have the A-bomb.

Only voice raised against the expansion was that of Chairman John Taber (R., N. Y.), who merely quoted defense chiefs as saying the program approved by his group is as far as we should go at this time. Backers of the Hinshaw amendment predict its passage by a large majority.

No Substitute for UMT

General Bradley, in his testimony before the House committee, did not oppose a 70-group Air Force. His argument was that if this is voted, a larger Army is necessary. And that it is no substitute for UMT.

"There is no relationship between the 70-group program and UMT," he said. "The alternative to UMT is not 70 groups, 170 groups of 1000 groups.

"The alternative to UMT, if we are to have the barest type of security, is a standing army big enough to carry the Army portion of a war burden for one year, until mobilization can be effected. This would require at least 25 divisions initially, or about 1,500,000 men and would cost many billions annually."

Bradley said that with UMT to provide trained reserves to build up the National Guard, we could be "reasonably safe" with a minimum of 18 divisions. Twelve would be in the Regular Army—seven overseas and five in this country—and the other six in the Guard.

Guard Mostly Boys

The Guard, however, is under strength and "largely consists of untrained boys." Without UMT, he said, it will not be ready. Therefore, if the training bill is shelved, he warned, the Army will recommend curtailment of the Guard's planned strength and a 25-division standing army.

The chief of staff asked the House committee to amend the draft and manpower bill before them to give the Army a strength of 837,000 officers and men. As proposed by Secretary Forrestal, the measure provided ceilings as follows: Army, 782,000; Air Force, 400,000; Navy and Marine Corps, 552,000.

As changed by the committee, it provides 502,000 men for the Air Force—to man 70 groups—660,000 for Navy and Marine Corps, but none additional for the Army.

Bradley said the additional manpower would provide 18 additional ack ack battalions in the United States, and additional service troops for the Air Force. It would boost the active strength of the three armed services, under the bill, to 1,999,000 officers and men.

Reds Have 170 Divisions

The Army chief declared that intelligence reports put the strength of the Russian standing army at 170 divisions. He said the Soviet Union could expand this to 300 divisions within 60 days. In addition, there are some 95 divisions in active service in Red satellite armies, Bradley added.

America now has 9 divisions, compared with 90 at the close of the war, he said. We have military equipment for 20 divisions, but some essential modern weapons are lacking. Russia, he said, kept her munitions plants going at war capacity for a year after the shooting ended, and probably has the equipment for all her divisions. Since then, he added, Soviet war production has been ketp at 15 per cent of war capacity.

Bradely emphasized that "this is not a war program"—that much larger forces would be needed then. He said there is nothing to indicate what Russia's intentions are, but that we must be guided by her capabilities.

"I can't visualize them calling off their cold war in the next two or three years", Bradley added.

The committee will hear Acting Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett and Dr. Vannevar Bush, chairman of the Research and Development Board, in closed session today. Opponents of the draft will testify Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday.

Takes Crack at Hughes

Shortly after the report was issued Hughes held a press conference in Los Angeles.

He charged that Committee Chairman Owen Brewster (R., Me.) had maneuvered to put out the report when two of the comittee Democrats were out of town.

Brewster, Hughes said, is "a trick-shot artist" who has engaged in "a sensational piece of skullduggery."

Meanwhile it was learned, the Democratic members of the committee are equally irate and plan to put out a minority report next Monday flaying some of the committee procedures.

"Strange Silence"

The minority report will point out that the GOP majority was "strangely silent" about last summer's dramatic and blazing battle between Brewster and Hughes. Not a word of the Brewster-Hughes "You're a liar" battle is in the report.

At that time Hughes accused Brewster of using the investigation to aid Hughes' Trans-World airlines competitor, Pan-American Airways. Hughes said Brewster promised to call the whole thing off if TWA would merge with Pan-American and Hughes would support the community airline bill, favored by Brewster and Pan-Am.

Brewster dramatically stepped down behind the committee table to take the witness stand as a "plain American citizen under oath" and swear Hughes lied.

Senator Homer Ferguson (R., Mich.), chairman of the subcommittee which conducted the Hughes hearings, said Brewster had nothing to do with the decision to make the report public yesterday. The Maine Senator was not even in town, he said.

New Dallas Owner Eyes Major Status

Dallas, April (AP).—Dick Burnett, new owner of the Dallas ball club in the Texas League, said today he planned to join the Pacific Coast League in a fight for formation of a third Major League.

"I think within a few years Dallas and Houston will be large enough for Major League ball," Burnett declared as he explained the new Dallas set-up.

He said he though Dallas, Houston, Los Angeles, New Orleans and Atlanta should be in this new league. "Los Angeles and San Francisco are right—they should be in a Major League," he declared, "and I am joining forces with them to see that we have another one. The fastest growing section of the Nation is the Southwest. We are going to be ready for Major League ball within two years."

Commons Votes To Abolish Death Penalty on Murder

London, April 14 (U.P.). — Commons, crossing party lines and overriding government opposition, voted 245 to 222 tonight to abolish the death penalty for murder for a trial period of five years.

When the bill becomes law, only high treason, piracy with violance and sabotage of the royal dockyards will be punishable by death in this country, which still had 200 capital crimes at the beginning of the nineteenth century.

Cheers rang through the austere chamber after the unexpected vote. Members jumped excitedly to their feet, shouting, shaking hands, throwing papers into the air in a wild jubilance rarely observed in the House.

Fisherman Lands 15-Pound Dolphin On 3-Thread Line

Bimini, Bahamas, April 14 (AP).—Louis E. Marron of Brielle, N. J., today claimed a new world record for landing a 15-pound dolphin on ultra light tackle.

Marron's big game fish was boated with a three-thread line and 4-ounce tip, the lightest class fishing tackle recognized by the International Game Fish Association.

The fishe bettered by 2 pounds the 13-pound dolphin landed by Kipp Farrington, New York writer and fishing authority, sometime ago.

4 Former Officials

7 Indicted In Passport Fraud Case

Philadelphia, April 14 (AP).—A 141-count indictment described by Federal attorneys as only a fraction of the charges was returned today against two former United States commissioners, two former United States clerks and three Chinese.

Principal figures among the accused are former United States Commissioners Norman J. Griffin and Howard J. Long.

Griffin, who resigned as commissioner last month after seven years in office, was indicted on 34 counts charging sale of fraudulent documents, illegal use of the United States Seal, false statements in passport applications and acceptance of $1350 in bribes.

Long, a former Pennsylvania State representative, was indicated on 14 counts charging that after he left office in 1931 he used the official Seal and forged predated and counterfeit official documents which he sold for cash.

Others named in the indictment are Warren J. Belcher, resigned last March as chief of the passport division of the District Court. He was charged with false acknowledgment, making false documents, illegal use of Seal, accepting $1050 in bribes.

John Lee, Oscar Yew Hoh and Hoy Lee, Chinese charged with aiding and abetting in making of fraudulent documents.

John Lee of Philadelphia also was charged with bribery. Hoh of New York additionally was charged with aiding and abetting false applications. Hoy Lee, now in China, also must answer to false statement accusations.

Prison sentences ranging from 47 to 172 years for individual defendants and fines up to $80,000 are possible in event of convictions.

House Group Votes Tighter Curbs on Reds

By The Associated Press

New and tighter checks on Communists were voted yesterday by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Representative Mundt (R., So. Dak.) announced adoption of an amendment to his bill designed to curb Red activities in the United States.

The amendment would require the Communist Party as well as "front" organizations to register with the Justice Department each July 1. The organizations would have to supply the names and last known addresses of members.

The original draft provided only for the registration of Communist front organizations.

Mundt said the committee also approved sections of the measure which would forbid the issuance of passports to Communists, and make it illegal for any member of a Communist organization to hold a non-elective job in the Government, or run for an elective office without identifying himself as belonging to such a group.

Several other provisions remain to be acted on. Mundt said, however, that Republican leaders have promised his bill a high priority when it reaches the House floor.

Mundt said he also had pledges of strong support for the measure from several members of the Senate.

Greek MPs Kill 25 Red Prisoners

Own Commander Also Slain in Sparta Outbreak

Athens, April 14 (AP).—An entire company of the gendarmerie—the Greek military police—rebelled in Sparta last night and killed their commander and 25 or 26 imprisoned Communists.

Sparta is in the southern Peloponnesus, which is considered a right wing stronghold.

Minister of Public Order Constantine Rentals said the attack was "an abominable crime."

He said the gendarmes of the Second Mechanized Company at Sparta became enraged at the Communists during the day because an officer and four others were wounded when their vehicle struck a mine on the Tripolis Highway.

Upon arrival of the gendarmerie convoy in Sparta the rebels seized three armored cars and attacked the jail. They disposed of the guards and killed the Communists.

Maj. Dimitrios Fitisios, commander of the Sparta gendarmerie, went to the prison to halt the attack. The rebels killed him and wounded a gendarme with him.

Six other gendarmes were wounded and one Rightist prisoner died of a heart attack.

Rentis said he was not certain what happened to the rebels, but added they probably were under arrest.

Prime Minister Themistokles Sophoulis and Vice Premier Constantin Tsaldaris have ordered Lieut. Gen. Dimitrios Yadzis, Greek army chief of staff, to impose exemplary punishment on the rebels, Rentis declared.

Reds in Berlin Step Up Drive To Oust Allies

Berlin, April 14 (U.P.).—Russia again today intensified attempts to freeze the western allies out of Berlin.

Taegliche Rundschau, official newspaper of the Russian army, called for new restrictions in regulations covering Allied planes flying over the Russian occupation zone.

United States and British authorities said at once that if Russia made any attempt to enforce new regulations they would give their planes fighter protection.

Maj. Gen. W. E. Hall, chief of the American section of the four-power air directorate here, said:

"Gen. Clay proposes to use the air corridors as he sees fit, irrespective of any Russian requests or demands to the contrary."

(Gen. Lucius D. Clay is the American commander in chief.)

Charge Safety Violations

Clay arrived today by plane from his headquarters at Frankfurt.

Taegliche Rundschau alleged that American and British pilots were repeatedly violating air safety rules over the Russian sector of Berlin.

"It has been proved that many British and American pilots are extremely inexperienced and need strict control," the newspaper said.

The Russians already have seized control of railroad, highway and telegraph communications between Berlin and the western occupation zones. The airways provide the only free movement of traffic.

The Russians boycotted today the Anglo-Russian joint investigation of the April 5 aerial collision which resulted in the deaths of all 14 persons aboard a British airliner and the pilot of the Russian fighter plane which hit it.

The British proceeded with the investigation alone. A number of American, British and German witnesses were called to testify.

In one gesture to the western Allies Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, Soviet commandant in Berlin, announced that he had issued instructions for clearing up a backlog of more than 105 railroad mail cars loaded with packages for western Germany.

General Clay returned here to discuss with the British and German officials plans for the administration of the merged American and British occupation zones.

British authorities said a four-...ck convoy with 15 British soldiers and two automobiles driven by British soldiers had been permitted to pass the Soviet checkpoint at Semmering, 50 miles southeast of Vienna.

Previously, Britons who did not show photo identity cards were turned back.

An American photographer was turned back because he could not produce a four-power travel permit stamped by the Russians.

Moscow Tells 'Difficulties' Of Italy Reds

Moscow, April 14 (U.P.).—The influential trade union weekly, New Times said today that "progressive" forces in Italy faced a more difficult situation in next Sunday's election than they did in the election of June, 1946.

The New Times frequently sounds the keynote for comment in such situations.

"Reaction" has mobilized all its forces for the Italiam election," the publication said.

'American Imperialism'

"American imperialism helps reaction," the publication declared. "The Vatican supports it. It widely applies terroristic methods in the struggle against democratic elements."

The newspaper Red Fleet, organ of the navy, complained that Italian Premier Alcide de Gasperi has not yet outlined his course in the event that the Communist front wins.

Attack on Turkey

New Times also published the first attack on Turkey which has appeared in the Moscow press in a long time.

Turkey, the New Times said, has sold its sovereignty to the United States and is now part of American "adventurist and expansionist plans."

Moscow newspapers have given much space to the uprising in Bogota, Colombia. They have mostly quoted American press dispatches, including one reference to alleged Communist influence. This morning they published the Tass Agency denial that Soviet agents were implicated.

Czechoslovak Constitution Submitted

Prague, April 14 (AP).—Czechoslovakia proclaims itself a people's democratic republic in the proposed new constitution made public today and sets itself up in "the great family of Slav nations."

It was indicated the constitution would be accepted May 9.

In the constitution Slovakia is guaranteed equal rights with the Czech Territories of Bohemia and Moravia but the central government in Prague is given power to dissolve the Slavak council of ministers.

The single house of parliament will consist of 300 members elected for six years. They will choose a President to serve seven years.

Women will have equal rights wth men. The voting age is 18 and the minimum age for holding public office is 21.

The constitution guarantees the right of education, work, just compensation and rest periods, as well as national pension laws and the nationalization of industry, finance and natural resources.

The constitution also stipulates that those who work the land must own it; that small enterprises shall be protected; that there be immunity of personal property, and that a single economic plan will guide the country.

France Seizes Issues of Red Paris Paper

Paris, April 14 (U.P.).—The government today confiscated editions of the Communist newspaper Ce Soir and opened legal proceedings against it for allegedly attacking the national credit.

The newspaper published that the government might withdraw 1000-franc notes, just as it withdrew 5000-franc notes, despite its repeated denials.

Justice Department Acts

The cabinet ordered the Justice Department to act against Ce Soir. It also:

1. Ordered security reinforcements sent to Marseille Sunday when Gen. Charles de Gaulle speaks at a rally which the Communists have threatened to break up.

2. Reportedly decided not to join the Americans and British in creating a centralized western Germany at the moment. It was understood the ministers would cling to their demands for weak, federated German states.

Newspaper Headline

Ce Soir, which has the largest afternoon circulation in Paris, carried a front-page headline: "Why Do People Talk of Blocking of 1000-franc notes?" The first five words were in small type, the rest in large block type.

Ce Soir claimed one of the reasons 1000-franc notes might be withdrawn was the inability of the government to get enough francs to match United States intermediary aid.

The Communist-controlled General Labor Federation has ordered a massive counter-demonstration for Sunday to protest De Gaulle's presence in Marseille, a Communist hotbed.

Rep. Lodge Demands in House Soviet Free 24,000 Italians

At least 24,000 Italian prisoners are still unaccounted for in Russian hands, Representative John Davis Lodge (R., Conn.) charged on the House floor yesterday.

Basing his charge on official Soviet figures, Lodge demanded that the Soviet government release "these men who are being held in slavery."

"I call on Stalin's Italian gauleiter, Palmiro Togliatti, to help deliver these victims of Soviet despotism from the stinking hell-holes of oppression in which they are still languishing," he declared.

Lodge said that on March 20, 1943, months before Italy surrendered, the Soviet Embassy in Washington announced through its Information Bulletin that 46,000 Italians had been captured on the Russian front, and that 69,000 others had been wounded.

In contrast, he cited statements in March, 1947, by Soviet Colonel-General Golikov that 21,097 Italian prisoners had been returned. At that time, said Lodge, Italy was officially informed that the process of repatriation had been completed.

"The Soviet government has never given any figures showing how many Italians had died in hospitals or in captivity during the war," Lodge told the House, suggesting that there was a mystery which needed to be cleared up without delay.

Currently, he said, there are posters "all over Italy" demanding that Russia return 40 000 Italian prisoners. Some Italian estimates are even higher, among them one in February, 1947, by the then Defense Minister, Giuseppe Gasparotto putting the number of prisoners in Soviet hands between 60,000 and 80,000.

Trieste, April 14 (U.P.).—Communist labor unions called special sessions today to map an "action program" expected to result in a wave of strikes and interference with pro-Italian demonstrations.

Communist-led bakery workers walked out last midnight, cutting off bread to all Trieste except military establishments, hospitals and charitable institutions.

The strike and special meetings were scheduled soon after Russia refused to discuss the Western powers' proposal to return Trieste to Italy.

A parade of 50,000 Italians to celebrate the Western proposal will be staged Thursday night. Police were alerted.

American Red Airs Views to Ministers Here

The viewpoint of an American Communist on American-Soviet relations was heard yesterday by Methodist ministers from 38 States who are attending an American University graduate seminar here.

During a morning session at the Willard Hotel, the ministers listened to Arnold Johnson, legislative secretary of the Communist Party and amember of its national committee.

Johnson was invited to speak by Dr. Paul F. Douglass, president of American University, so that both sides of the question could be considered.

Also Hear Bohlen

Later, the delegates went to the State Department Auditorium to hear an og-the-record address on United States foreign policy by Charles E. Bohlen, State Department counsellor.

During the day conference officials announced that a poll of 100 ministers showed 80 of them do not believe the United States is dealing with Russia in an intelligent manner. There were 17 dissenters and three with no opinion.

The poll showed 91 of the clergy feel universal military training is unnecessary at this time.

Truman Policies Criticized

Asked for an opinion on President Truman's handling of world affairs, 63 of the ministers commented "inferior," 29 said "average," and 8 said "worst possible."

The opinion that the Marshall Plan is not a strong enough weapon to combat the spread of communism was voiced by 83 of the 100 ministers, and 82 thought the United States lost prestige by reversing its policy on the Palestine partition plan.

PRR Sets Dividend Longevity Record

Philadelphia, April 14 (AP).—The Pennsylvania Railroad pays stockholders a dividend of 50 cents a share tomorrow, marking the 101st consecutive year of cash returns upon company stock.

President M. W. Clement said the PRR "has the longest record for continuous cash returns of any firm listed in the New York Stock Exchange, and the only one extending over 100 years."

Russian Gets Into Trouble When Pig Tumbles From Attic

Moscow, April 14 (U.P.).—The director of a State farm was in hot water today because he kept a pig in the attic of a workers' club.

The trade union organ, Trud reported the incident.

"The good people had assembled in their club around a radio which had just been set up, Trud said. "An interesting prgoram began, but soon stopped. It wasn't the usual electrical hindrances or thunder, but ordinary pig's grunts.

"And then the ceiling separated and through the break a big pig crashed down on the table. One of those present tried to joke, 'get your knives and forks ready.' But the others hissed him. There was no reason for laughter.

"The pig, in a skillful manner, had dismantled the new radio. The law of physics on the force of fall was caried out.

"Another thing, unfortunately, was not carried out—the decision of the collegium of the ministry of state farms of the U.S.S.R. and of the central committee of trade union workers of state farms of the center, which categorically prohibits the utilization of clubs and red corers (small clubs) for economic purposes.

"The director of the state farm, Avanguard, is one of those who doesn't take this prohibition into consideration. Desiring, evidently, to acquaint four-legged ones with the cultural life he opened a pig-breeding establishment in the premises just above the hall."

The director of another state farm was told to watch out. He, Trud said, is known to be keeping sheep in a club.

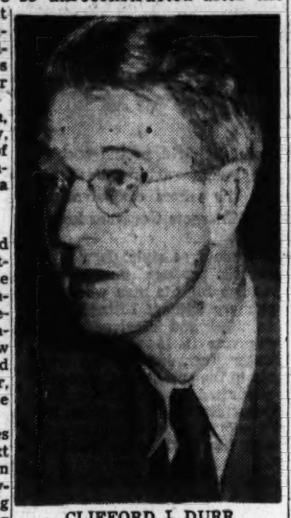
Clifford Judkins Durr Among Foremost Critics of Government's Loyalty Program

Clifford Judkins Durr, Federal Communications Commissioner and vigerous opponent of the President's loyalty test program, comes from rebel stock.

In fact, the Judkinses were so unreconstructed after the War Between the States, that rather than tolerate the Hamyankees, this Confederate family emigrated to Brazil. The Judkinses thought the better of it and after five years returned.



CLIFFORD J. DURR
Criticizes loyalty tests

Except for that heritage, though, there was nothing—superficially, at least—in the early career of tall, angular Cliff Durr that indicated he'd turn out to be a stormy petrel and New Dealer.

Native of Alabama

The 49-year-old gray-haired commissioner was born in Montgomery, Ala. He went through the University of Alabama, sandwiching World War I service in between his undergraduate education. Cliff was a studious fellow and spent three years at Oxford University as a Rhodes scholar, acquiring his law degree in the meanwhile.

He returned to the United States in '22, went into law for the next ten years, and was a corporation lawyer when he joined the Government service in 1933, starting the legal division of RFC. For eight years Durr moved onward and upward in Government service, but except for those who knew him intimately in the Defense Plants Corp., or other RFC activities, he was certainly not regarded as a rebel.

In '41 he was nominated by the late President Roosevelt for a seven-year term to the FFC, as a matter of strict orthodox politics. An Alabama man was going out as commissioner, so it was simple politics to replace him with an Alabaman.

Durr stepped int othe FCC cold on the subject, but quickly became hot. He took a leading role in defending Goodwin Watson and William Dodd, when Congress tried to fire these two former FCC officials by legislative action. The Supreme Court overruled Congress.

Outspoken in Opinions

In 1943 Durr plunged into a head-on fight with Representative E. E. Cox (D., Ga.), charging that Cox had an ax to grind when the Georgian sought to investigate the FCC. As a result, Cox personally withdraw from the probe.

In the communications field, Durr was outspoken in his opinions which sometimes clashed with his fellow commissioners, and sometimes with spokesmen of industry, but at all times Durr was eager and ready to debate the issue in public. Durr is an effective speaker—Southern accent and all—and he believes a public official should expose himself to public questions.

Of late, Durr has been one of the foremost critic of the loyalty tests. That may not hold true after June 30, when his term is up.

Durr married in 1926. His wife is the former Virginia Heard Foster, a sister of Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black's wife. They have four children, all girls, ranging from 13 months to 21 years. They live at Seminary Hill, Alexandria, Va.

'Untouchables' Feared From Loyalty Tests

By Sam Stavisky
Post Reporter

The Federal employe loyalty tests are "on the way to creating a new class of outcasts from society—a caste of economic and social 'untouchables,'" Federal Communications Commissioners Clifford J. Durr declared yesterday.

"This new caste will certainly threaten our security," Durr told a meeting of 150 national civil rights leaders. "It will also challenge our humanity.

The stigma attached to the "disloyal" government employe will brand him throughout his life, Durr asserted, adding:

"Barring from the normal occupations by which people earn their living, its members will be faced with the alternatives of hunger, an uncertain charity, or crime.

Addresses Conference

He spoke before a one-day session of the National Citizens Conference on Civil Liberties, held at the Washington Hotel, and called by a group of civil rights leaders chiefly from denominational organizations.

The session broke into three units, each of which came up with a set of recommendations, to be carried back by the delegates to their own organizations for discussion and possible action.

The unit on governmental invasion of civil liberties recommended:

1. Disapproval of the President's loyalty program on the grounds that it covers all Federal employes and not just those involved with security; that it gives the Attorney General an unchecked hand in designating organizations that are subversive; that it doesn't provide basic rights for the accused.

Would End Thomas Group

2. Abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, on the ground Congress should not inquire into the political beliefs and associations of Americans under so vague a term as un-Americanism."

3. Adoption by Congress of a fair practices code for all investigating committees.

4. An end to the policy of refusing American citizens passports abroad on account of political beliefs and associations. Also that long-resident aliens should not be deported solely on account of political beliefs and associations.

5. Condemnation of proposed House legislation requiring registration of the Communist Party and front organization; of any legislation which would discriminate against the voluntary association of American citizens on account of political beliefs.

Asks Recognition of "Rights"

A second unit urged, as steps toward strengthening academic freedoms:

1. Condemnation of the action by Evansville College, Ind., in dismissing a faculty for supporting the Wallace third party.

2. Recognition that teachers have the right to full freedom of research and publication, subject to adequate performance of their other academic duties; the right to full freedom of discussion in classrooms; the right to organize to protect their group interests; the right to speak or write freely on any subject that interests them; the right to join any organization not outlawed by law.

A third unit, dealing with the President's recommendations for civil rights legislation, recommended:

1. Immediate strengthening of the Civil Rights Section of the Justice Department.

2. Congressional passage of FEPC, anti-poll tax(anti-lynch, and District civil rights legislation.

3. That President ban discriminatory practices in Federal employment, and abolish discrimination and segregation in the armed forces.

4. That local communities set up civil rights action committees.

More Air Power Not Enough, Bradley Tells House Group

recognize" that we are in no danger of attack from land or sea, he added:

"The only lack of balance worrying me is the comparison between our air force and the air force Russia is known to possess."

Representative Carl Vinson (D., Ga.) told the House it would be "gambling with our national existence" if funds are not voted for a 70-group USAF program now. Otherwise, he said, we will not have the planes "at the danger date" in 1950 or 1952, when Russia may have the A-bomb.

Only voice raised against the expansion was that of Chairman John Taber (R., N. Y.), who merely quoted defense chiefs as saying the program approved by his group is as far as we should go at this time. Backers of the Hinshaw amendment predict its passage by a large majority.

No Substitute for UMT

General Bradley, in his testimony before the House committee, did not oppose a 70-group Air Force. His argument was that if this is voted, a larger Army is necessary. And that it is no substitute for UMT.

"There is no relationship between the 70-group program and UMT," he said. "The alternative to UMT is not 70 groups, 170 groups of 1000 groups.

"The alternative to UMT, if we are to have the barest type of security, is a standing army big enough to carry the Army portion of a war burden for one year, until mobilization can be effected. This would require at least 25 divisions initially, or about 1,500,000 men and would cost many billions annually."

Bradley said that with UMT to provide trained reserves to build up the National Guard, we could be "reasonably safe" with a minimum of 18 divisions. Twelve would be in the Regular Army—seven overseas and five in this country—and the other six in the Guard.

Guard Mostly Boys

The Guard, however, is under strength and "largely consists of untrained boys." Without UMT, he said, it will not be ready. Therefore, if the training bill is shelved, he warned, the Army will recommend curtailment of the Guard's planned strength and a 25-division standing army.

The chief of staff asked the House committee to amend the draft and manpower bill before them to give the Army a strength of 837,000 officers and men. As proposed by Secretary Forrestal, the measure provided ceilings as follows: Army, 782,000; Air Force, 400,000; Navy and Marine Corps, 552,000.

As changed by the committee, it provides 502,000 men for the Air Force—to man 70 groups—660,000 for Navy and Marine Corps, but none additional for the Army.

Bradley said the additional manpower would provide 18 additional ack ack battalions in the United States, and additional service troops for the Air Force. It would boost the active strength of the three armed services, under the bill, to 1,999,000 officers and men.

Reds Have 170 Divisions

The Army chief declared that intelligence reports put the strength of the Russian standing army at 170 divisions. He said the Soviet Union could expand this to 300 divisions within 60 days. In addition, there are some 95 divisions in active service in Red satellite armies, Bradley added.

America now has 9 divisions, compared with 90 at the close of the war, he said. We have military equipment for 20 divisions, but some essential modern weapons are lacking. Russia, he said, kept her munitions plants going at war capacity for a year after the shooting ended, and probably has the equipment for all her divisions. Since then, he added, Soviet war production has been ketp at 15 per cent of war capacity.

Bradely emphasized that "this is not a war program"—that much larger forces would be needed then. He said there is nothing to indicate what Russia's intentions are, but that we must be guided by her capabilities.

"I can't visualize them calling off their cold war in the next two or three years", Bradley added.

The committee will hear Acting Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett and Dr. Vannevar Bush, chairman of the Research and Development Board, in closed session today. Opponents of the draft will testify Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday.

Newspaper Editors Meet Here Today

The American Society of Newspaper Editors opens its annual meeting here today—a three-day program highlighted by appearance of President Truman, Defense Secretary James Forrestal and Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett.

Society President Nathaniel R. Howard, of The Cleveland News, will address the opening session at 10 a. m. in the Statler Hotel.

Reports from the Board of Directors, which met last night, will be submitted to the meeting today.

President Truman will give a 15-minute address Saturday night over a national radio hookup, and then speak off the record to the editors. Secretary Forrestal will speak off the record at a Saturday luncheon, and Undersecretary Lovett will address the luncheon meeting at 12:30 p. m. today.

Tonight's session will hear a report on Congressional activity from:

Commons Votes To Abolish Death Penalty on Murder

London, April 14 (U.P.) — Commons, crossing party lines and overriding government opposition, voted 245 to 222 tonight to abolish the death penalty for murder for a trial period of five years.

When the bill becomes law, only high treason, piracy with violance and sabotage of the royal dockyards will be punishable by death in this country, which still had 200 capital crimes at the beginning of the nineteenth century.

Cheers rang through the austere chamber after the unexpected vote. Members jumped excitedly to their feet, shouting, shaking hands, throwing papers into the air in a wild jubilance rarely observed in the House.

Fisherman Lands 15-Pound Dolphin On 3-Thread Line

Marron's big game fish was boated with a three-thread line and 4-ounce tip, the lightest class fishing tackle recognized by the International Game Fish Association.

The fishe bettered by 2 pounds the 13-pound dolphin landed by Kipp Farrington, New York writer and fishing authority, sometime ago.

4 Former Officials

7 Indicted In Passport Fraud Case

Philadelphia, April 14 (AP).—A 141-count indictment described by Federal attorneys as only a fraction of the charges was returned today against two former United States commissioners, two former United States clerks and three Chinese.

Principal figures among the accused are former United States Commissioners Norman J. Griffin and Howard J. Long.

Griffin, who resigned as commissioner last month after seven years in office, was indicted on 34 counts charging sale of fraudulent documents, illegal use of the United States Seal, false statements in passport applications and acceptance of $1350 in bribes.

Long, a former Pennsylvania State representative, was indicated on 14 counts charging that after he left office in 1931 he used the official Seal and forged predated and countefeit official documents which he sold for cash.

Others named in the indictment are Warren J. Belcher, resigned last March as chief of the passport division of the District Court. He was charged with false acknowledgment, making false documents, illegal use of Seal, accepting $1050 in bribes.

Robert T. Press, resigned deputy clerk, charged with counterfeiting of public records, wrongful use of Seal.

John Lee, Oscar Yew Hoh and Hoy Lee, Chinese charged with aiding and abetting in making of fraudulent documents.

John Lee of Philadelphia also was charged with bribery. Hoh of New York additionally was charged with aiding and abetting false applications. Hoy Lee, now in China, also must answer to false statement accusations.

Prison sentences ranging from 47 to 172 years for individual defendants and fines up to $80,000 are possible in event of convictions.

House Group Votes Tighter Curbs on Reds

By The Associated Press

New and tighter checks on Communists were voted yesterday by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Representative Mundt (R., So. Dak.) announced adoption of an amendment to his bill designed to curb Red activities in the United States.

The amendment would require the Communist Party as well as "front" organizations to register with the Justice Department each July 1. The organizations would have to supply the names and last known addresses of members.

The original draft provided only for the registration of Communist front organizations.

Mundt said the committee also approved sections of the measure which would forbid the issuance of passports to Communists, and make it illegal for any member of a Communist organization to hold a non-elective job in the Government, or run for an elective office without identifying himself as belonging to such a group.

Several other provisions remain to be acted on. Mundt said, however, that Republican leaders have promised his bill a high priority when it reaches the House floor.

Mundt said he also had pledges of strong support for the measure from several members of the Senate.

Russia Cracks Down On Bootleg Booze

Moscow, April 14 (AP).—The Russian government cracked down today on samogon. Samogon is the Russian word for bootleg booze.

The Presidium of the Supreme Soviet published a decree authorizing sentences of one to two years for making bootleg liquor for home use and up to seven years for possessing or making it for sale and for the sale of stills. The decree provide for confication of liquor and stills.

Howard Hughes Calls Report By Senate Group a 'Maneuver'

Takes Crack at Hughes

Shortly after the report was issued Hughes held a press conference in Los Angeles.

He charged that Committee Chairman Owen Brewster (R., Me.) had maneuvered to put out the report when two of the comittee Democrats were out of town.

Brewster, Hughes said, is "a trick-shot artist" who has engaged in "a sensational piece of skullduggery."

Meanwhile it was learned, the Democratic members of the committee are equally irate and plan to put out a minority report next Monday flaying some of the committee procedures.

"Strange Silence"

The minority report will point out that the GOP majority was "strangely silent" about last summer's dramatic and blazing battle between Brewster and Hughes. Not a word of the Brewster-Hughes "You're a liar" battle is in the report.

At that time Hughes accused Brewster of using the investigation to aid Hughes' Trans-World airlines competitor, Pan-American Airways. Hughes said Brewster promised to call the whole thing off if TWA would merge with Pan-American and Hughes would support the community airline bill, favored by Brewster and Pan-Am.

Brewster dramatically stepped down behind the committee table to take the witness stand as a "plain American citizen under oath" and swear Hughes lied.

Senator Homer Ferguson (R., Mich.), chairman of the subcommittee which conducted the Hughes hearings, said Brewster had nothing to do with the decision to make the report public yesterday. The Maine Senator was not even in town, he said.

New Dallas Owner Eyes Major Status

Dallas, April (AP).—Dick Burnett, new owner of the Dallas ball club in the Texas League, said today he planned to join the Pacific Coast League in a fight for formation of a third Major League.

"I think within a few years Dallas and Houston will be large enough for Major League ball," Burnett declared as he explained the new Dallas set-up.

He said he though Dallas, Houston, Los Angeles, New Orleans and Atlanta should be in this new league. "Los Angeles and San Francisco are right—they should be in a Major League," he declared, "and I am joining forces with them to see that we have another one. The fastest growing section of the Nation is the Southwest. We are going to be ready for Major League ball within two years."

Greek MPs Kill 25 Red Prisoners

Own Commander Also Slain in Sparta Outbreak

Athens, April 14 (AP).—An entire company of the gendarmerie—the Greek military police—rebelled in Sparta last night and killed their commander and 25 or 26 imprisoned Communists.

Sparta is in the southern Peloponnesus, which is considered a right wing stronghold.

Minister of Public Order Constantine Rentals said the attack was "an abominable crime."

He said the gendarmes of the Second Mechanized Company at Sparta became enraged at the Communists during the day because an officer and four others were wounded when their vehicle struck a mine on the Tripolis Highway.

Upon arrival of the gendarmerie convoy in Sparta the rebels seized three armored cars and attacked the jail. They disposed of the guards and killed the Communists.

Maj. Dimitrios Fitisios, commander of the Sparta gendarmerie, went to the prison to halt the attack. The rebels killed him and wounded a gendarme with him.

Six other gendarmes were wounded and one Rightist prisoner died of a heart attack.

Rentis said he was not certain what happened to the rebels, but added they probably were under arrest.

Prime Minister Themistokles Sophoulis and Vice Premier Constantin Tsaldaris have ordered Lieut. Gen. Dimitrios Yadzis, Greek army chief of staff, to impose exemplary punishment on the rebels, Rentis declared.

Reds in Berlin Step Up Drive To Oust Allies

Berlin, April 14 (U.P.).—Russia again today intensified attempts to freeze the western allies out of Berlin.

Taegliche Rundschau, official newspaper of the Russian army, called for new restrictions in regulations covering Allied planes flying over the Russian occupation zone.

United States and British authorities said at once that if Russia made any attempt to enforce new regulations they would give their planes fighter protection.

Maj. Gen. W. E. Hall, chief of the American section of the four-power air directorate here, said:

"Gen. Clay proposes to use the air corridors as he sees fit, irrespective of any Russian requests or demands to the contrary."

(Gen. Lucius D. Clay is the American commander in chief.)

Charge Safety Violations

Clay arrived today by plane from his headquarters at Frankfurt.

Taegliche Rundschau alleged that American and British pilots were repeatedly violating air safety rules over the Russian sector of Berlin.

"It has been proved that many British and American pilots are extremely inexperienced and need strict control," the newspaper said.

The Russians already have seized control of railroad, highway and telegraph communications between Berlin and the western occupation zones. The airways provide the only free movement of traffic.

The Russians boycotted today the Anglo-Russian joint investigation of the April 5 aerial collision which resulted in the deaths of all 14 persons aboard a British airliner and the pilot of the Russian fighter plane which hit it.

The British proceeded with the investigation alone. A number of American, British and German witnesses were called to testify.

In one gesture to the western Allies Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, Soviet commandant in Berlin, announced that he had issued instructions for clearing up a backlog of more than 105 railroad mail cars loaded with packages for western Germany

General Clay returned here to discuss with the British and German officials plans for the administration of the merged American and British occupation zones.

ustria-Zone Reds elax Travel Curbs

Vienna Austria, April 14 (U.P.).—e Russians surprisingly relaxed ir traffic restrictions on Britons veling through the Soviet zone day.

British authorities said a four-uck convoy with 15 British soldiers and two automobiles driven by British soldiers had been permitted to pass the Soviet checkpoint at Semmering, 50 miles southeast of Vienna.

Previously, Britons who did not show photo identity cards were turned back.

An American photographer was turned back because he could not produce a four-power travel permit stamped by the Russians.

Moscow Tells 'Difficulties' Of Italy Reds

Moscow, April 14 (U.P.).—The influential trade union weekly, New Times said today that "progressive" forces in Italy faced a more difficult situation in next Sunday's election than they did in the election of June, 1946.

The New Times frequently sounds the keynote for comment in such situations.

"Reaction" has mobilized all its forces for the Italiam election," the publication said.

'American Imperialism'

"American imperialism helps reaction," the publication declared. "The Vatican supports it. It widely applies terroristic methods in the struggle against democratic elements."

The newspaper Red Fleet, organ of the navy, complained that Italian Premier Alcide de Gasperi has not yet outlined his course in the event that the Communist front wins.

New Times also published the first attack on Turkey which has appeared in the Moscow press in a long time.

Ataack on Turkey

Turkey, the New Times said, has sold its sovereignty to the United States and is now part of American, "adventurist and expansionist plans."

Moscow newspapers have given much space to the uprising in Bogota, Colombia. They have mostly quoted American press dispatches, including one reference to alleged Communist influence. This morning they published the Tass Agency denial that Soviet agents were implicated.

Czechoslovak Constitution Submitted

Prague, April 14 (AP).—Czechoslovakia proclaims itself a people's democratic republic in the proposed new constitution made public today and sets itself up in "the great family of Slav nations."

It was indicated the constitution would be accepted May 9.

In the constitution Slovakia is guaranteed equal rights with the Czech Territories of Bohemia and Moravia but the central government in Prague is given power to dissolve the Slavak council of ministers.

The single house of parliament will consist of 300 members elected for six years. They will choose a President to serve seven years.

Women will have equal rights with men. The voting age is 18 and the minimum age for holding public office is 21.

The constitution guarantees the right of education, work, just compensation and rest periods, as well as national pension laws and the nationalization of industry, finance and natural resources.

The constitution also stipulates that those who work the land must own it; that small enterprises shall be protected; that there be immunity of personal property, and that a single economic plan will guide the country.

France Seizes Issues of Red Paris Paper

Paris, April 14 (U.P.).—The government today confiscated editions of the Communist newspaper Ce Soir and opened legal proceedings against it for allegedly attacking the national credit.

The newspaper published that the government might withdraw 1000-franc notes, just as it withdrew 5000-franc notes, despite its repeated denials.

Justice Department Acts

The cabinet ordered the Justice Department to act against Ce Soir. It also:

1. Ordered security reinforcements sent to Marseille Sunday when Gen. Charles de Gaulle speaks at a rally which the Communists have threatened to break up.

2. Reportedly decided not to join the Americans and British in creating a centralized western Germany at the moment. It was understood the ministers would cling to their demands for weak, federated German states.

Newspaper Headline

Ce Soir, which has the largest afternoon circulation in Paris, carried a front-page headline: "Why Do People Talk of Blocking of 1000-franc notes?" The first five words were in small type, the rest in large block type.

Ce Soir claimed one of the reasons 1000-franc notes might be withdrawn was the inability of the government to get enough francs to match United States intermediary aid.

The Communist-controlled General Labor Federation has ordered a massive counter-demonstration for Sunday to protest De Gaulle's presence in Marseille, a Communist hotbed.

Laramie Has Big Fire

Laramie, Wyo., April 14 (AP).—Fire roared through a downtown business block today and damage was estimated at more than one million dollars. No deaths or injuries were reported.

Rep. Lodge Demands in House Soviet Free 24,000 Italians

At least 24,000 Italian prisoners are still unaccounted for in Russian hands, Representative John Davis Lodge (R., Conn.) charged on the House floor yesterday.

Basing his charge on official Soviet figures, Lodge demanded that the Soviet government release "these men who are being held in slavery."

"I call on Stalin's Italian gauleiter, Palmiro Togliatti, to help deliver these victims of Soviet despotism from the stinking hell-holes of oppression in which they are still languishing," he declared.

Lodge said that on March 20, 1943, months before Italy surrendered, the Soviet Embassy in Washington announced through its Information Bulletin that 46,000 Italians had been captured on the Russian front, and that 69,000 others had been wounded.

In contrast, he cited statements in March, 1947, by Soviet Colonel-General Golikov that 21,097 Italian prisoners had been returned. At that time, said Lodge, Italy was officially informed that the process of repatriation had been completed.

"The Soviet government has never given any figures showing how many Italians had died in hospitals or in captivity during the war," Lodge told the House, suggesting that there was a mystery which needed to be cleared up without delay.

Currently, he said, there are posters "all over Italy" demanding that Russia return 40 000 Italian prisoners. Some Italian estimates are even higher, among them one in February, 1947, by the then Defense Minister, Giuseppe Gasparotto putting the number of prisoners in Soviet hands between 60,000 and 80,000.

perl's Christian Democrats would finish ahead of the Popular Front "by several lengths."

Trieste, April 14 (U.P.).—Communist labor unions called special sessions today to map an "action program" expected to result in a waye of strikes and interference with pro-Italian demonstrations.

Communist-led bakery workers walked out last midnight, cutting off bread to all Trieste except military establishments, hospitals and charitable institutions.

The strike and special meetings were scheduled soon after Russia refused to discuss the Western powers' proposal to return Trieste to Italy.

A parade of 50,000 Italians to celebrate the Western proposal will be staged Thursday night. Police were alerted.

American Red Airs Views to Ministers Here

The viewpoint of an American Communist on American-Soviet relations was heard yesterday by Methodist ministers from 38 States who are attending an American University graduate seminar here.

During a morning session at the Willard Hotel, the ministers listened to Arnold Johnson, legislative secretary of the Communist Party and amember of its national committee.

Johnson was invited to speak by Dr. Paul F. Douglass, president of American University, so that both sides of the question could be considered.

Also Hear Bohlen

Later, the delegates went to the State Department Auditorium to hear an og-the-record address on United States foreign policy by Charles E. Bohlen, State Department counsellor.

During the day conference officials announced that a poll of 100 ministers showed 80 of them do not believe the United States is dealing with Russia in an intelligent manner. There were 17 dissenters and three with no opinion.

The poll showed 91 of the clergy feel universal military training is unnecessary at this time.

Truman Policies Criticized

Asked for an opinion on President Truman's handling of world affairs, 63 of the ministers commented "inferior," 29 said "average," and 8 said "worst possible."

The opinion that the Marshall Plan is not a strong enough weapon to combat the spread of communism was voiced by 83 of the 100 ministers, and 82 thought the United States lost prestige by reversing its policy on the Palestine partition plan.

Air Armada Readies for Atlantic Hop

Goose Bay, Labrador, April 14 (AP).—A fleet of American Superfortresses was serviced here today for the transatlantic leg of a long flight to Germany. They were expected totake off at about 9 o'clock (EST) tonight.

The B-29s arrived here last night from Westover Field, Mass. They are en route to Furstenfeldbruck, Germany, from Smoky Hill Air Base, Kans.

PRR Sets Dividend Longevity Record

Philadelphia, April 14 (AP).—The Pennsylvania Railroad pays stockholders a dividend of 50 cents a share tomorrow, marking the 101st consecutive year of cash returns upon company stock.

President M. W. Clement said the PRR "has the longest record for continuous cash returns of any firm listed in the New York Stock Exchange, and the only one extending over 100 years."

Russian Gets Into Trouble When Pig Tumbles From Attic

Moscow, April 14 (U.P.).—The director of a State farm was in hot water today because he kept a pig in the attic of a workers' club.

The trade union organ, Trud reported the incident.

"The good people had assembled in their club around a radio which had just been set up, Trud said. "An interesting prgoram began, but soon stopped. It wasn't the usual electrical hindrances or thunder, but ordinary pig's grunts.

"And then the ceiling separated and through the break a big pig crashed down on the table. One of those present tried to joke, 'get your knives and forks ready.' But the others hissed him. There was no reason for laughter.

"The pig, in a skilful manner, had dismantled the new radio. The law of physics on the force of fall was caried out.

"Another thing, unfortunately, was not carried out—the decision of the collegium of the ministry of state farms of the U.S.S.R. and of the central committee of trade union workers of state farms of the center, which categorically prohibits the utilization of clubs and red corers (small clubs) for economic purposes.

"The director of the state farm, Avanguard, is one of those who doesn't take this prohibition into consideration. Desiring, evidently, to acquaint four-legged ones with the cultural life he opened a pig-breeding establishment in the premises just above the hall."

The director of another state farm was told to watch out. He, Trud said, is known to be keeping sheep in a club.

U. S. Bogota Group Expected Picketing

Forewarned of 'Peaceful Protests,' But Not of Violence, Says Lovettt

The American delegation at Bogota had been forewarned of peaceful protest demonstrations but not of actual violence, Acting Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett told his press conference yesterday.

By "demonstrations," Lovett explained, he meant the kind of placard picketing often seen in Washington and other American cities. He said he knew of no complaint by Secretary Marshall about the lack of warning that there would be an assassination, or that Bogota would be sacked and burned.

Lovett's statement was followed by the assertion on the House floor by Representative Norris Powlson (R., Calif.) that the lack of accurate warning was "an irreparable defeat" for the United States.

Poulson placed the entire blame on the Central Intelligence Agency under Rear Admiral Roscoe H. Hillenkoeter. He said the CIA had become "so bureaucratic an agency, overweighted with military brass," that it could find no room for recent civilian applicants trained in intelligence work in wartime.

'Recall Donovan If Necessary'

"American prestige and American security have no place for another Bogota," Poulson declared. "I urgently petition those officials who are responsible for this Nation's security to revitalize our intelligence agency and to expand its operations.

"If that means recalling William J. Donovan and his civilian experts, who know what to do, and how and when to do it, then let us recall them."

Former Major General Donovan was director of the Office of Strategic Services, which carried on intelligence and espionage work during the war.

At his press conference Lovett declined to speculate on who killed the Liberal leader, Jose Gaitain, or who ordered the killing. What made the uprising so serious, he said, was the clear evidence of central direction, organization and planning behind it.

Followed Clear Pattern

This was not the normal social-unrest type of protest, he said; coordinated radio appeals by the rebels were in full swing within an hour of the assassination. Whatever touched the thing off, he continued, the organized activities thereafter followed a clearly discernible pattern.

Lovett explained he was merely reporting the feeling among the delegates at Bogota rather than stating an official American judgment on the uprising.

The Argentine Embassy complained yesterday, in a statement by Counselor Martin Luis Drago, about implications in "some sections of the American press and especially The Washington Post, "that Argentina was trying to disrupt the Bogota conference.

The statement asserted that Argentine Foreign Minister Bramuglia had sponsored a resolution stressing inter-American solidarity and proposing continuance of the Bogota conference.

'Boy of Year' Presented To Truman

Frankie Harrison, "national boy of the year," visited President Truman yesterday at the White House.

Frankie

The 14-year-old Valdosta, Ga., newsboy was chosen from 275,000 in the Boys' Clubs of America as an outstanding participant in community affairs such as Red Cross, March of Dimes, Community Chest and cancer control drives. A winner also has to make good grades in school studies.

Harrison was presented to the President by Representative Wheeler (D., Ga.). The boy told reporters later he gave Mr. Truman a copy of the Boys' Clubs' "Marching Song" and the President told him he would get his daughter, Margaret, to sing it at the White House.

The boy was selected by such judges as Joe DiMaggio, the baseball star; Paul Whiteman, the band leader; Movie Star Roy Rogers and others.

Frankie is a busy boy. He gets up each morning at 4 o'clock to carry his newspapers. When there's something special going on at the Boys' Club, he stays up until around 9 or 9:30 o'clock at night.

In addition to his newspaper duties and his B-plus average in school work, he plays football, baseball and basketball.

Costa Rican Factions Open Peace Talks

San Jose, Costa Rica, April 14 (U.P.).—President Teodoro Picado today began negotiations with a personal emissary from revolutionary commander-in-chief Gen. Jose Figueres in an effort to end the civil war.

Figueres' emissary was brought to the capital by United States Ambassador Nathaniel P. Davis, Mexican Ambassador Carlos Ojeda and Papal Nuncio Msgr. Albrito Centoz. His identity has not been disclosed. He was taken immediately to the presidential palace.

President Picado asked for personal talks with Figueres' representative after reading the peace proposals brought back by the foreign diplomats from the rebel chieftain yesterday.

A cease-fire order was issued by both sides early yesterday to permit diplomatic mediators to move safely.

Rebel forces are now only about 20 minutes' drive from the capital.

Figueres' proposals were said to comprise a nine-point plan covering settlement of both military and political questions. No details were disclosed.

(A dispatch from Managua, Nicaragua, reported planes had arrived there from San Jose carrying President Picado's wife, their four daughters and the president's mother.

(The Costa Rican first lady was quoted as saying the situation in Costa Rica "is desperate," and that her husband refused to leave the capital.)

The civil war began March 12 after the congress had ruled invalid the election of right-wing newspaper publisher Otilio Ulate who won a majority of the votes in the February 12 elections.

Red Pressure

South Korea Electricity Threatened

By the United Press

Russia has begun putting pressure on American occupation forces in southern Korea by threatening to cut off the zone's electric power, Government officials disclosed yesterday.

The tactics were described as similar to those used by the Russians against American and British communications in Berlin and Vienna.

Soviet-occupied north Korea supplies practically all power for the American-held southern section.

To meet the threat, the United States has moved one power barge to south Korea and another has been ordered.

Officials here said the Russian threats have been made indirectly through the Communist puppet government in northern Korea.

Soviet-Backed Parley Of Koreans Postponed

SEOUL, April 14 (AP).—The Soviet-backed unity conference of northern and southern Korea political leaders, scheduled in the Russian zone today, has been postponed indefinitely.

The Pyongyang (Soviet zone) radio announced the postponement late last night. The broadcast gave no definite reason, but implied the north Korea sponsors were still waiting to learn whether two prominent south Koreans would attend.

The two are rightist Kim Koo and liberal Kimm Kiu Sic. Kim Koo said today he plans to go north before April 20.

These candidates have been pledged support by the Maryland League of United Voters, an independent organization of labor, civic and liberal groups, and the Maryland State and District of Columbia Labor's League for Political Education.

Bogota Conference Resumes As New Trouble Threatens

news agency has denied that Soviet agents were involved.

But today Zuleta was quoted as saying now that the Conservative director of the government radio had been ousted because of the announcement regarding Russia, and Alfonso Araujo, a Liberti, had been appointed in his place.

Speculation in the capital was that the Liberals were unwilling to make a diplomatic break with Russia.

In Caracas, Venezuela, the newspaper El Nacional said Liberal Party rebels continued in control of many sections of northern and western Colombia. A dispatch from the Colombian-Venezuelan frontier said the Bogota government had only been able to establish communication with seven of Colombia's 14 departments.

The dispatch said the rebels held the towns of LaDorado and Victoria in Caldas Department; Armero, Mariquita, Ortega, Alvarez and Tlalamanca in Tolima; the important seaport of Buenaventura and San Pedro, La Cumbre, El Toro and Armero Nuevo in El Valle.

Production of oil has not yet been resumed and the government is watching the attitude of labor unions at the oilfields. Colombian labor unions have been infiltrated by Communist leadership. Military sources said the government hesitates to take control of the oil fields for fear that trouble might lead to blowing up the installations.

American Embassy officials are going ahead with a plan to move all members of the delegation and the press corps to a central point in order to simplify the problem of feeding them.

Reds Guided Revolt, Rep. Jackson Says

Miami, Fla., April 14 (AP).—Representative Donald L. Jackson (R., Calif.) said today he will tell Congress tomorrow that the revolt in Colombia was "guided by Communists."

Jackson, who arrived here by Clipper en route to Washington from Bogota, said in an interview "from my own personal experiences in Europe of seeing Communist-inspired mob action, I can only report that the mob violence in Bogota was directed by Communists."

"I saw several red flags with the Russian hammer and sickle in the city and mobs were literally tearing the city apart," he said.

"The entire thing was too well planned to be spontaneous. It not only broke out all over the city at the same time, but all over the country.

"I have heard a rumor—I can't vouch for its authenticity—that riots broke out in one Colombian city 15 minutes before the assassination."

The Santa Monica, Calif., Congressman said he had asked the Speaker of the House for time to "make a full report on the Colombian situation."

Anti-Submarine Cables Guarding Manila Bay

Manila, Philippines, April 13 (U.P.).—The Philippine naval patrol today notified ships and fishing vessels that a network of antisubmarine cables had been laid across the entrance to Manila Bay.

The patrol recently reported sighting an unidentified submarine off Luzon.

Indonesians Apologize for Mobbing Dutch

Kalioerang, Republican Java, April 14 (AP).—Two Indonesian apologies headed off tonight a Dutch threat to quit negotiations here for bringing the Indonesian Republic into the projected United States of Indonesia.

Members of the Dutch delegation said they were spit upon, kicked and beaten by hostile crowds upon their arrival in a special train at Jogjakarta for the negotiations in which the United Nations good offices commission will take part.

A spokesman for the Dutch delegation said it was recommending to H. J. Van Mook, the acting governor general of the Netherlands East Indies, that the negotiations continue, provided the Republicans display no more hostility or anti-Dutch propaganda.

Mohamed Roem, chief of the Indonesian delegation, presented his government's regrets and said steps would be taken to prevent any recurrence.

The Dutch considered that statement unsatisfactory. Several wanted to withdraw from the talks immediately. Then three members of the Republican delegation called on three Dutch leaders with a fuller apology.

U. N. Truce Plan Would Bar From Palestine All of Military Age, Put Halt to Arms Traffice

New York, April 14 (AP).—The United Nations tonight announced terms of a truce plan designed to end fighting in Palestine.

One section would bar all persons of military age—either Arabs or Jews—from entering the Holy Land.

Security Council delegates were reported in virtual agreement on most of the provisions of the plan which will go to a council vote Thursday at Lake Success.

There was no immediate comment from the Jewish Agency and the Arab High Committee, which previously failed to agree on a truce.

The main points included these appeals to the Arabs and Jews:

1. End all military activities, violence, terrorism and sabotage.

2. Refrain from bringing into Palestine armed bands or individuals capable of bearing arms. This would block all Jewish immigration except women and children and halt infiltration of Arabs from neighboring countries.

4. Stop all political activity pending reconsideration of the partition project by the General Assembly which open Friday.

The truce was understood to be designed to start immediately and continue until a successor government to the British is established. The British will terminate their mandate rule May 15.

A spokesman said the United States had accepted the plan. Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko said it was "not quite satisfactory." Faris el Khoury of Syria, only Arab nation on the council, said his final support depends on "the interpretation given some of the provisions."

A final draft was worked out today by the 11 delegates.

The only incomplete section has to do with composition of the truce commission which was left up to the council meeting tomorrow.

The Palestine Commission decided unanimously to proceed at once to form the nucleus of a non-Palestinian police force for Jerusalem.

Truman Visitors Report He Still Favors Partition

Two White House visitors yesterday quoted President Truman as saying he has "never retreated" from his advocacy of partition of Palestine.

They were Senator Myers (D., Pa.) and Maj. David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh.

Myers told reporters after a White House conference that Mr. Truman reiterated his belief the proposed trusteeship for Palestine should be temporary.

They said the President told them the important thing is to "establish the atmosphere of peace in Palestine."

British to Terminate Jewish Agency Status

London, April 14 (U.P.)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the Commons today the special status of the Jewish Agency for Palestine will terminate May 15 with the British mandate. Further British relations with Zionist authorities, he said, will depend on the course of events in the Holy Land.

Press Parley Upholds Right To Correction

Geneva, Switzerland, April 14 (U.P.)—The policy committee of the International Conference on Freedom of the Press today approved a French proposal establishing the "international right to correction of false and distorted news."

Paragraph by paragraph by votes ranged between 26 to 4 and 27 to 6. Russia and its satellites either voted "no" or abstained.

Under the proposal, each government would have the right to submit its own version of any news dispatch it considered distorted or false to the government of the country in which the dispatch was published.

The government receiving this "corrected" version would then be required to distribute it through the usual channels of government information.

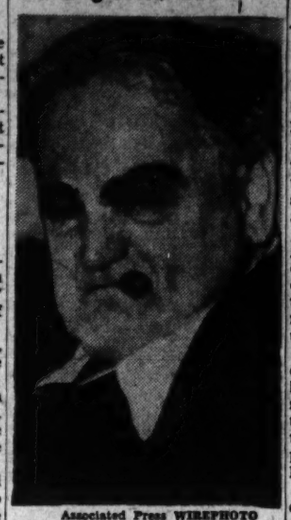
The United States accepted the proposal only after it had been amended to remove all suggestion that the press was required to publish the version distributed by the government.

At United States insistence, domestic political gossip and editorial and political columns would not be subject to "correction" from abroad.

Edwin Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor and United States Representative on the policy committee, left by plane today en route to the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington.

Canham said he believed the conference had been a success from an international viewpoint, adding, "I think some sound general principles have been laid down and some practical methods of implementing them have been found."

Look Again—It's NOT John L.



Associated Press WIREPHOTO

JOHN "TUBBY" THOMAS, a striking double for John L. Lewis, relaxed in his Pittsburgh home yesterday while here in Washington the president of the United Mine Workers faced trial for contempt of court. When passersby stop and stare at Tubby on the streets of the coal center, he chuckles and peels off gags about miners: "I'd rather be a clown than a coal miner," says the 210-pound retired postal clerk

Lewis Counsel Won't Argue

peared to be largely directed to showing that the coal strike imperiled the "national health or safety." These are the words in the Taft-Hartly Act which justify the issuance of the sort of restraining order which was applied against Lewis.

Again and again, Hopkins objected to the testimony. At the end, his call became a kind of chant: "It's remote, it's hearsay thrice removed, irrelevant, immaterial, speculative, highly prejudicial."

Again and again, Goldsborough overruled him. He sustained Hopkins' objections only when Morison asked questions about the future—by calling for opinions from the witnesses on what would happen if the strike continued any longer.

Dr. W. H. Young of the Bureau of Mines told the court how coal supplies had dwindled during the strike. V. Lewis Bassie of the Department of Commerce testified on the importance of coal exports and the dependence of industry on coal.

Nelson Lee Smith, chairman of the Federal Power Commission, testified that half of the Nation's electricity is generated from coal. Arthur H. Gass of the Office of Defense Transportation gave data on the curtailment of coal and its effect on railroad traffic.

Only once did Goldsborough sustain Lewis' counsel on a major point. This was when Morison sought to introduce in the record two copies of the union's publication, the United Mine Workers Journal, dated June 1, 1946, and August 15, 1944.

They contained passages indicating that the union's policy was "no contract, no work." Morison wanted to use them to demonstrate that Lewis ordered the work stoppage. A letter from Lewis to the miners, on March 12, said their contract with the operators was being "dishonored." Morison wanted to tie this up with the previously announced policy and show that "dishonored" was just another expression to mean "no contract."

Evil Effects Seen From Kinsey Report

Mrs. Meyer Says Sex Habits Study Is a Misuse of Scientific Methods

The Kinsey report "can and will have evil effects," according to Mrs. Eugene Meyer, who yesterday cited it as an illustration of the "flagrant misuse of scientific method."

Speaking before the annual meeting of the Instructive Visiting Nurse Society, Mrs. Meyer, writer and wife of the chairman of the board of The Washington Post Co., challenged the "emphasis upon the animality of sex" which she said runs all through the Kinsey report on "Sexual Behavior in the Human Male."

"Granted that Dr. Kinsey's array of figures on the sex life of the American male are all accurate," said Mrs. Meyer, "what possible use can they be? We all know that there is too much sexual promiscuity, marital infidelity and homosexuality in our country. The court records are sufficient proof of that. What does it add to our knowledge and our approach to these problems to know the exact percentage in each of these three areas?" she asked.

Published at Indiana U.

The Kinsey report, headed by Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey, professor of zoology at Indiana University, and supported by the university, the medical division of the National Research Council and the medical division of the Rockefeller Foundation, was published late last year at Indiana University.

(Among its startling revelations was that more than half of American males could go to jail as sex offenders at some time in their lives. The study was started nine years ago and so far has covered 12,000 persons, male and female, Editor's note.)

"You who are working in the public health field," Mrs. Meyer told her listeners yesterday, "will not find your understanding, your methods, your directions changed one iota by these percentages. The purposeless amassing of facts upon which so much energy and money are spent in our country shows a sad lack of insight into personality problems and into basic community needs."

Religion Provided Impulse

Mrs. Meyer said that public and private welfare workers "must learn to work with people, not for them."

"I think," she said, "the instructors and students should bear in mind that the original impulse which created the profession of the nurse and other forms of social work was religious . . . We cannot therefore with impunity forget that it was the passionate human sympathy of our religious heritage that founded the care of the sick, the poor, and the distressed.

"Since those beginnings we have learned how to carry out these responsibilities with far greater skill, but that skill has become self-defeating because we have forgotten why we ever set out to develop better methods of expressing our concern for our fellowmen.

"The Kinsey report," she added, "is another proof that neither public nor private research in sociology is close enough to the field of political and social action. Facts have no importance except as they can be interpreted into a philosophy of life and into policies, practices and administrative procedure."

Kinsey Conclusions Denounced

In a scathing denunciation of the Kinsey statistics, Mrs. Meyer charged these statistics "prove what anybody would know, that the loosest sex behavior is in the lowest income brackets of society and most restrained behavior among college graduates. Thus his data is clear proof that what this country needs is more education and a slum clearance program.

"Instead of coming to these obvious conclusions, Dr. Kinsey wishes us to modify our laws to conform with the prevalence of what is now illegal sex practice. It would be just as reasonable to say that our criminal laws must be relaxed because of the high prevalence of crime."

Pointing out that "all societies have, quite rightly, resisted the increase of homosexuality for the sound reason (among others) that it threatens their continuity," Mrs. Meyer charged Dr. Kinsey "is on specially dangerous ground when he urges the courts to remember when judging homosexuals that according to his statistics almost half the male population at some time has been guilty of such practices."

Freud's Teachings Cited

"Quite apart," she said, "from the fact that his figures are particularly unreliable in this area, his conclusions are dangerously antisocial. If we are not only to condone but accept homosexuality, then we are headed toward a very different kind of world . . .

"Dr. Kinsey, who scorns the term 'normality' when applied to sex practices, tries to persuade us that homosexuality should be considered normal since it is an 'expression of capacities that are basic in the human animal.' This attempt to equate us with the animal by statistics is as silly as it is revolting."

"Freud, whom Dr. Kinsey pities for his inadequate sex data, sweeps all of Dr. Kinsey's stuff out of the window with his conclusion that civilization is impossible of attainment without sexual self-control.

"The plain fact is that Dr. Kinsey makes science ridiculous when he piles up physiological statistics on sex and pretends that he can ignore their inescapable moral and psychic implications," she said.

Publicity Methods Criticized

Terming "morally questionable" the "flamboyant publicizing of this book," Mrs. Meyer asked her listeners what its effect would be upon youth.

"Many young people who are already leading an uninhibited sex life will find their behavior rationalized in this book. But this group would find other means of self-justification even without Dr. Kinsey's encouragement.

"But the book will be a regrettable influence on the youngsters who are hovering on the brink of decision as to the solution of their sex conflicts. These may well be pushed in the wrong direction when they read how many 'scholarly and skilled lawyers' and other people of 'social significance' see no reason for sex restraint. And in many boys and girls this purely physiological concept of sex can create a deeper psychic disturbance than the most unfortunate personal experimentation with sex."

Danger to Science

Mrs. Meyer said she feared that "the average reader will acquire a fine contempt for a science that boasts of its objectivity and then reveals as much subjectivity as any of our contemporary bedroom novelists.

"Nothing would be more disastrous to our country at this moment than a revolt against science and a loss of faith in the empirical approach to social problems."

Declaring that the lack of censorship of scientific publications imposes a great obligation on conscientious professional people to restrict their work to its proper audience, Mrs. Meyer went on:

"Unless our scientists establish their own professional ethics as to the dissemination of their publications and exhibit a sensitivity to the meaning and the social influence of the work they produce, the popular reaction may become so violent that it will hamper the free development and the free publication of scientific research."

Members Are Congratulated

Mrs. Meyer congratulated members of the Instructive Visiting Nurse Society for steps they have taken in reducing the complexities of life "to a new and a more humane simplicity. The fact that you coordinate your work so carefully with the nursing services of the District Health Department, that you take upon yourselves services which the public health nurses cannot give, the fact that you bring this cooperation into play by having your offices together, these are all indications that you, like many other voluntary groups throughout the country, are fully aware of the problems upon which I have touched."

Members of the IVNS board of directors who attended yesterday's luncheon at the YWCA Barker Hall heard Mrs. Gertrude P. Bowling, IVNS executive director, explain that nurses under her direction had assisted 23,695 patients during 1947 by 137,756 visits. Mrs. Bowling said that present trends are toward more and more "long-term illnesses," such as cardiac afflictions and cancer, and cited work of nurses in attempting to enter these cases in time to save lives.

Daniel Bell Again Heads Chest Board

Daniel W. Bell, who served as first president of the Community Chest Federation, yesterday was elected to a second term by the federation's board of directors.

Bell

Bell, who is president of the American Security & Trust Co., will serve until annual elections in 1949. Upon his election, he said he thinks the chest "can anticipate several achievements which we earnestly hope will tighten and strengthen the structure and efficiency of the federation's member chests. Each of the six member chests is moving in the direction of bringing their Chest functions (excluding campaigning) and the planning council functions under a single administrative unit for each Chest area."

The federation directors also elected six vice presidents, representing area organizations: J. Harold Stehman, president, Arlington County Community Chest; Edgar F. Czarra, president, Community Chest and Planning Council of Prince Georges County; Arthur J. Phelan, president, Montgomery County Community Chest and Council; Ernest H. Weicking, member, board of directors, Community Chest of Fairfax County; the 1948 president of the Alexandria Community Chest, when he is elected; and Lee D. Butler, president, Community Chest of Washington.

In making the nominations, the federation committee declared: "It was agreed that the officers for the coming year must be eminently qualified by experience and knowledge of the operating of the Chest Federation in order adequately to give to the federation the advice and guidance which is needed."

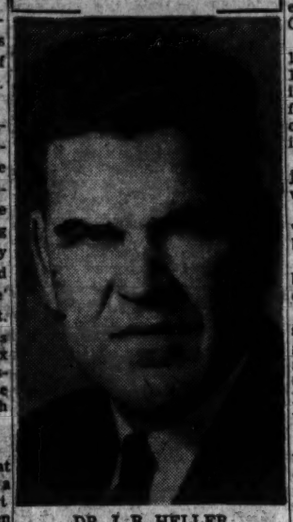
Heller Named Director of Cancer Unit



DR. J. B. HELLER
Promoted

Dr. John R. Heller, United States Public Health Service's venereal disease chief, was yesterday appointed director of the National Cancer Institute at Bethesda, Md.

He succeeds Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, recently sworn in as surgeon general for USPHS. Heller, in turn, will be succeeded in his post of chief of the venereal disease division by Dr. Theodore J. Bauer of Iowa City, Iowa.

The appointments were announced yesterday by Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing.

As institute director, Dr. Heller will direct the Federal cancer program, including research conducted at the Bethesda laboratories, research grants-in-aid to other laboratories and hospitals, and Federal aid in teaching and control work for center.

Dr. Bauer, presently on detail with the Chicago Board of Health where he now serves as city venereal disease control officer and as medical officer of the Chicago Intensive Treatment Center, has worked principally in the field of venereal disease control. He has been with USPHS since 1930.

Dr. Heller, 43, of 8615 Lynnbrook dr., Bethesda, is a native of Fair Play, S. C. He was graduated from Emory University School of Medicine, Atlanta, Ga., in 1929. In 1930 he entered public health work as a clinician for the Georgia State Board of Health on a syphilis control project conducted jointly with Public Health Service.

Dr. Heller was appointed chief of the division of venereal diseases, USPHS, on July 1, 1943, where he has since directed the wartime and postwar Federal program of venereal disease control. Last fall, in Europe to attend the Paris assembly of the International Union Against Venereal Disease, he made a survey for American military authorities on civilian venereal disease control in the United States zone of Germany.

He is expected to assume his new duties about May 15. Meanwhile, it was announced, Dr. David E. Price, chief of the Cancer Research Grants Branch, will serve as acting director of the National Cancer Institute.

Reassessment May Up Taxes By $550,000

By Roger Farquhar
Post Reporter

Approximately $550,000 in additional taxes will be paid Montgomery County annually as result of the recently completely reassessment of residential property in Bethesda and Chevy Chase.

This was estimated yesterday by Wilton T. Allen, Montgomery County supervisor of assessments.

The reassessment, he estimated, together with evaluation placed on new construction since 1946 will add approximately 30 million dollars to the county's assessable base.

Allen said the $550,000 expected to come from the reassessment is based on the present tax rate of $1.88 per $100 assessed valuation. With adoption of the 1948-49 budget in June, the county commissioners may increase the tax rate, it was pointed out.

Some 25,000 Bethesda-Chevy-Chase residential property owners have received reassessment notices and the remaining 3000 notices should be mailed by Monday, Allen said. The five-year reassessment, he said, is now complete.

The county's total assessable base now is 208 million dollars including a 23-million-dollar increase last year on Bethesda-Chevy Chase commercial properties.

Prince Georges Jury Suggests 3 Jail Returns

A three-point program to "reduce the possibility of escape" from county jails was recommended yesterday by the Prince Georges County grand jury.

The grand jury also returned 100 indictments after investigating 129 cases brought before it. It ignored 25 cases and continued 4 for further investigation. A total of 253 witnesses were heard during the eight days' deliberation.

Remedial steps proposed by the jury for improved jail procedure were that:

1. A public alarm system be provided for the county jail at Marlboro.
2. Direct telephone connection between the jail and police headquarters be provided.
3. Reasonably high physical standards be set for jailors and guards having charge of prisoners at both the county jail and the County Service Building lockup in Hyattsville.

Would Minimize Escapes

"Such precautions, it is felt," the report read, "would greatly discourage disorder among the inmates and reduce attempted jailbreak aand the possibility of escape to a minimum."

Judge Charles C. Marbury, of the County Circuit Court, to whom the report was presented, in the Marlboro Court House declared himself "heartily in accord with the recommendations."

"If carried out," the jurist said, "there should be no recurrences of such incidents as have occurred in the last six months, since the last session of the grand jury."

Judge Marbury referred to the escapes of four prisoners from the jail last December when they overpowered the head jailor, 67-year-old Vincent Wells, and of a 16-year-old girl who walked out after unlocking her cell with a duplicate key last month. Wells, who was severely beaten by the four, has since resigned.

Jail conditions were also censured in February when a report by the State Board of Correction found such unrest among prisoners that "only a spark is needed to set the exposion off." Prisoners were described as "unruly" and the jailor termed conditions "clearly apprehensive."

After inspection the day after publishing of the State body's report, the Board of County Commissioners said the report was "unjustified." Morale of prisoners was said to be "exceptionally high" and it was denied that any uprising was impending.

The grand jury was commended by Judge Marbury for its dispatch in handling the cases before it. Clearing its books in eight days was "somewhat of a record in recent years," he said.

County Police Commended

The county police force, "notwithstanding the fact that the force may be possibly somewhat inadequate in number of personnel, appears to be doing an efficient and very satisfactory job of law enforcement," the jury reported.

General conditions "appear to be excellent" and the condition of the county jail, County Service Building and county alms house, near Ritchie, "appeared to be generally satisfactory and to warrant no particular comment."

No mention ws made of gambling, the perennial bane of Prince Georges County grand juries. The large operators are all reportedly "shut down" since Maj. Ralph W. Brown's police "crackdown" on gambling shortly before the Octo-

Proximity of American and British ships in the Adriatic, troops in Trieste and air power in the whole Mediterranean will make a great difference in Italian politics, Dr. Jurac Slavik, former Czechoslovakian Ambassador to the United States, predicted.

Speaking at the District Bar Association's Junior Bar Night at the Mayflower Hotel Tuesday night, Dr. Slavik added that Communists will not gain control of the Italian government by violence or in the elections, "because they do not control the Italian army or the internal police force."

$40,000 Sought in Capital Area For United Negro College Fund

The United Negro College Fund wants to raise $40,000 in the Washington area to aid its 32 member colleges, a fund organizing committee announced yesterday.

National campaign goal in the drive which got under way in New York Tuesday is $1,400,000.

Four prior campaigns have netted four million dollars. Last year the Washington area contributed $25,000 of a $1,032,571 total.

The 32 private accredited Negro schools that benefit from the drive have increased their enrollment over the past four years from 16,000 to 31,000. The money is used for scholarships, additional teachers and improved libraries and physical plants.

Dr. Mordecai Johnson, president of Howard University, presided at the organization meeting held in the university library.

Others attending were Mrs. Eugene Meyer, writer and wife of the chairman of the board of The Washington Post Co.; Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, president and founder of the National Council of Negro Women and president emeritus of Bethune-Cookman College; Mrs. Felix Frankfurter, wife of the Supreme Court justice; Dr. Dorothy Ferebee, Washington physician; Dr. W. Montague Cobb, professor of anatomy at Howard University; Mrs. Regina Chandler and W. W. Blocker, Washington representative for the fund.

Bel Air Blaze Hits 4 Buildings In Downtown Area

Bel Air, Md., April 14 (AP).—Fire hit the downtown shopping area of Bel Air today. Four buildings suffered serious damage, which may run to $100,000.

Firemen said the blaze started in the Korner restaurant building at the Main and Office street intersection. The two-story structure was damaged worst.

A beauty parlor and antique shop located above the restaurant also were wrecked.

The adjacent drug stores of David Getz and Guy Fink, as well as the Jones Taxicab Co. likewise were damaged.

The flames were checked after more than two hours. Fire companies from surrounding communities were called to help.

Frank Hiser, president of the Bel Air fire company, blamed defective wiring in the restaurant building for the blaze.

New Wallace Book Raps U. S., Russia

Communism Sharply Rebuked; American, Soviet Foreign Policies Denounced

Henry A. Wallace criticizes both Russian and American policy in his new book, "Toward World Peace," published today by Harcourt, Brace and Co.

Communism gets some sharp rebukes from the former vice president.

Communists are criticized for trying to slip dialectical materialism "under our back door," and the emphasis on this explanation of the universe is rejected.

Communist refusal to permit criticism of Soviet policy is denounced, and Russian freedom of expression compared unfavorably with that in the United States.

Americans are "on the point of losing a number of fundamental freedoms," Wallace asserts, but he finds "the situation a long way from being as bad as it is in Russia." He is sure Russia would not allow such dissenting journals as the New Republic, the Nation, PM and Readers' Scope to be printed there.

Labor Camps 'Disturbing'

Russian labor camps are found "disturbing." Even if the reports are exaggerated, Wallace doesn't "like slave labor."

Communist Party support of Hitler in 1940 and 1941 is denounced as "thought control from Moscow." Americans are urged not to let Moscow do their thinking, in the following paragraph:

"As strongly as anyone I want peace with Russia; but that doesn't means that I want Moscow to think for me or for any other American. Americans who accept Moscow or Marxian orthodoxy are foolishly giving up up one of their own dearest possessions.

"The non-Russian Communists act as though Moscow were the sacred custodian of all that is pure and holy and therefore they should defend everything Moscow does. Personally, I want to feel free to criticize what Washington, London, Moscow, Paris or any other capital city stands for."

Russian "counter-propaganda" is reproached for having more "loud noise" than "accuracy."

Two-Way Blame

Russia is blamed for indulging in "bitterness and recrimination" and for brandishing the sword and calling names, at the same time similar American tendencies are assailed.

"Russian diplomatic tactics at times have been characterized by continuous irritating and unnecessary delay," Wallace admits.

Russian communism, "with its faith in the materialistic dialect and economic determinism," found by Wallace to be as guilty as England and the United States of putting faith in force as the "ultimate arbiter." All three powers are declared "equally sinners."

"Russia and England have undoubtedly had as many practitioners of the Machiavellian art (of preaching force and deceit in interntional affairs) as the United States," it is contended.

No 'Red-Baiting'

At the same time, the third party presidential candidate declines to join in "Red-baiting."

Peace, in his opinion, can only by having the two systems work together by making changes in both. Such a peace he believes a first essential to making the U. N. work or to making any other treaties effective.

Wallace criticisms of administration foreign policy are all repeated and emphasized anew. As an alternative to ERP, he would have a reconstruction fund, under the United Nations. He advocates internationalization of the Ruhr, withdrawal of American and Russian troops from Germany, payment of German reparations to Russia, abandonment of the Truman Doctrine.

Wallace commits his "New Party" to fight for "freedom of expression," "peace and understanding with Russia," "elimination of expensive totalitarian, militaristic Wall Street control of civil government," 'lower prices," Taft-Hartley Act repeal," "control o monopoly," "$100-a-month- old-age insurance", Federal aid to education, "government planning" to avoid depression and unemployment.

In an attack on the Truman administration, Wallace says that it has become apparent to "all thoughtful people" that the foreign policy of the United States is "failing all over the world". He blames the Truman doctrine for the Czech crisis of February 1948, and says "rightists who have precipitated(with American support, the crisis which backfired, know that they are the victims of American-Russian power politics just as certainly as the Greek people are victims".

Rperesentatives Vito Marcantonio and Leo Isacson, both active supporters of Wallace's "New Party" declined to coment on the book. They said they had not read it.

10 Call on Truman to Pledge Loyalty

Ten Democratic members of the House went to the White House yesterday to "pledge our loyalty" to President Truman.

Representative Kirwan of Ohio, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, said they told Mr. Truman he is "doing a good job."

It was the second similar visit to the White House led by Representative Kirkan. He said he brought along 12 others two weeks ago.

"We wanted to reaffirm our confidence in the President," Kirwan said. "We told him he is doing a good job. We pledged our loyalty to him."

In the group were Representatives Byrne of New York, Walter of Pennsylvania, Huber of Ohio, Lesinski of Michigan, Donahue of Massachusetts, Fernandez of New Mexico, Forand of Rhode Island, Murdock of Arizona and Engle of California.

Another caller yesterday was one of President Truman's law school buddies, who said the President was a "smart student."

Harold Wagner of Albuquerque, N. Mex., told reporters that reminiscences of those days as night school students at the old Kansas City School of Law marked his White House visit.

He said Mr. Truman's activities forced him to leave the school before graduation but he was "a smart student."

Other White House callers during the day included a delegation of Shriners and a group of public health nurses. Mr. Truman got an honorary membership in the nurses organization."

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive
Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell
Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength—and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.
Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.
To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that S.S.S. Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the S.S.S. Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.
Also, S.S.S. Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.
Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on S.S.S. Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. S.S.S. Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Stassen Wins 2 Out of 3 Primaries

By The Associated Press

Harold E. Stassen, by his victory in Tuesday's Nebraska "popularity" primary, has now won two out of three primaries involving contests for the Republican presidential nomination.

He won in Wisconsin last week and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey won a majority in New Hampshire March 9.

Republicans have now chosen 362 of their 1094 national convention delegates.

As far as can be determined from pledges, semipledges and uncontested claims, here's how they line up:

Dewey	111
Stassen	66
Vandenberg	41
Gov. Green, Ill.	16
MacArthur	8
Taft	5
Uninstructed	160
Total	402

Dewey's 111: New York 90, New Hampshire 6, Oklahoma 15. Stassen's 61: Minnesota 25, Nebraska 25 (on the basis of first ballot promises), New Hampshire 2, Wisconsin 1. Vandenberg's 41: Michigan 41, if he wants them. Green's 16: Illinois 16, according to poll of delegates. MacArthur's 8 are in Wisconsin. Taft's 5 in Illinois, poll indicates.

The 160 uninstructed and uncommitted: Arizone 8, Illinois 31, Iowa 23, Kansas 19, Louisiana 13, Maine 13, North Caroline 26, South Caroline 6, Virginia 21. (Dewey and Stassen claims overlap in some of these States.)

Democrats have named 264 of their 1234 deleagtes as follows:

Truman	76
Eisenhower	1
Uninstructed	187
Total	264

The Truman delegates include: Maine, 10; Nebraska, 12; New Hampshire, 12; Wisconsin, 24; Alaska, 6; Arizona, 12. Eisenhower has one in New York.

GOP Supporters Of Taft-Hartley Act Renominated

Chicago, April 14 (AP).—Strong AFL and CIO opposition to seven Illinois Republican Congressmen failed to prevent their renomination in primary contests Tuesday.

All seven had voted for the Taft-Hartley labor law. Organized labor leaders in the State publicly urged their defeat.

Senator C. Wayland Brooks won renomination by about 6 to 1 over William J. Baker, a Chicago engineer. Brooks also voted for the labor law. Baker campaigned for its repeal.

Nominated without opposition were Republican Dwight H. Green and Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson for Governor, and Democrat Paul H. Douglas for United States Senator. Green seeks a third four-year term.

The State voting total indicated about a 7 to 5 edge for Republicans. The total vote appeared likely to be about 1,350,000—the lowest, in modern primary history in the State. Lack of State-wide contests was the major reason.

Each party nominated 26 Congressmen, with contests for 18 Republicans and 12 Democratic seats.

Republican House members who won contests included Busbey, Church, Reed, Twyman, Mason, Chiperfield, McMillen and Bishop. Bishop did not vote for the Taft-Hartley law. The Democratic winners were Dawson and Adolph J. Sabath, dean of the National House, who has served continuously for 42 years.

Stassen Wins Nebraska Vote

porters to assure him the nomination.

Stassen and Dewey will meet again in the Oregon primaries May 21. Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (R., Wis.) said he does not see "how the party leaders at the Republican National Convention can turn Stassen down" if he wins again in Oregon.

In Minneapolis, Stassen commended Governor Dewey and Senator Taft for their "clean and constructive" campaigns, thanked Nebraska voters for their support, and added:

"We will carry on together in developing a vigorous, forward-looking and humanitarian Republican Party dedicated to winning and expanding freedom and an increasingly better life for Americans, and for all mankind, without the tragedy of a third world war."

In Albany, Governor Dewey said he appreciated and is "much heartened by the support of so many of the citizens of Nebraska in yesterday's primary."

James C. Hagerty, his executive assistant, said it was "pretty good speculation" that Dewey will carry his campaign into Oregon.

Hagerty released a statement by J. Lee Rankin, Dewey's Nebraska campaign manager, saying the heavy vote for the Governor in Nebraska cities was "not sufficient to overcome the advantage of Mr. Stassen in the rural areas, resulting from his continuous personal campaign in the State over the past two years." (Dewey lead in Omaha, the State's largest city, but Stassen ran first in the State capital, Lincoln.)

Rankin added: "While we regret that Governor Dewey's official duties prevented him from waging a similar campaign, we are delighted that his support is nearly twice that of all the other five candidates put together."

Senator Vandenberg ran fourth in the race despite the fact that he asked supporters not to vote for him and said he didn't want the nomination. Still refusing to mix into nomination politics, he told reporters he is "not even saying no comment."

Consensus of observers was that Vandenberg's dark horse status, as a possible convention compromise, was strengthened by the Nebraska results.

General MacArthur, whose availability touched off a terrific Wisconsin build-up, promptly knocked down 19 to 8 by Stassen, declined comment in Tokyo on his fifth position in Nebraska. Most observers read MacArthur out of the 1948 race but in Tokyo some speculated that he would be willing to accept the Vice Presidency.

Arlington Shutout

The recent shenanigans in Richmond aimed at reading President Truman out of the Democratic Party in Virginia have nothing on the Arlington County Democratic organization. Rules of procedure drawn up for the county Democratic convention June 1 are calculated to make that affair about as tight a little clique as can be contrived. The effect is to leave practically no voice to rank-and-file Democratic voters, especially those of independent mind. In a one-party State, this amounts virtually to disfranchisement.

Since there are to be no precinct mass meetings in Arlington, technically any qualified voter has the right to attend the county convention as a delegate. The first obstacle he will run into, however, is a $5 filing fee, proceeds of which go to the county Democratic committee for convention expenses. Nor is he certain to be admitted even if he is willing to hand over this contribution. He must swear that he supported all Democratic candidates in the last election, and even then the county executive committee reserves the right to pass on his qualifications. This reservation, if invoked, gives the committee authority to screen out anyone who, for reasons of heresy or otherwise, is not acceptable to the machine.

Moreover, the designation of all county convention participants as "delegates" appears ingeniously contrived to exclude Federal employes, who are prohibited by the Hatch Act from engaging in political activity. Since Government workers have been among the most vigorous champions of reform in Arlington, this exclusion will eliminate many thorns in the side of the county machine. Finally each delegate to the State convention selected by the county convention will be required to sign a pledge to abide by the action of the State meeting and any subsequent State conventions. This makes such delegates automatically a part of the Southern revolt. In other words, should a future State convention decide that the national Democratic nominee is unacceptable, county delegates will be forced to participate in the insurrection. And, since national electors are to be bound by the State convention, the end result could well be to frustrate completely the preference of Virginia Democratic voters.

The Arlington Democratic convention as now set up is a good example of how the machine is able to squelch intraparty opposition and keep its hold on State and county offices through relatively small but closely knit courthouse factions. It is becoming more and more obvious that the only way in which Virginia voters will be able to obtain genuine representation for their views is through the establishment of a vigorous two-party system.

Aiding Defiance

Not content with stopping a basic industry in a time of national emergency, John L. Lewis has also used his power to impede the operation of an agency of government. Mr. Alfred Friendly pointed out in The Washington Post of April 11 that objections from the United Mine Workers, which Mr. Lewis dominates, have prevented the confirmation of Dr. James Boyd as director of the Bureau of Mines. Dr. Boyd, an eminent mining expert, was approved for this assignment by the Public Lands Committee after hearings as to his qualifications more than a year ago. Under an interim appointment he has served as head of the Bureau of Mines (without salary since the first of this year) to the apparent satisfaction of everyone, except Mr. Lewis, some members of his union and Senator Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado.

Senator Millikin says that he has been deluged with letters from miners in Colorado who have no confidence in Dr. Boyd. But apparently this "lack of confidence" stems from the fact that Dr. Boyd was appointed without consultation with Mr. Lewis. The UMW chieftain bristles with hatred for Secretary of the Interior Krug, who defeated him in his lawless efforts to break his contract with the Government back in 1946. Lewis strongly intimated at the hearing on Dr. Boyd's nomination that he would fight any Bureau of Mines chief selected by Mr. Krug. The mystery is why Senator Millikin wishes to make this defiance of the Government effective by misuse of the courtesy rule under which the Senate usually refuses to confirm a nominee over the opposition of a Senator from the nominee's home State.

It is desirable, of course, for the head of the Bureau of Mines to have the confidence of the men working in the mines. In this instance, however, there are strong indications that opposition to Dr. Boyd has been trumped up solely to aid Mr. Lewis in his feud with Secretary Krug. The Senate ought to beware of putting the President and Mr. Krug in the position of having to bow to the dictatorial head of the UMW in order to get an important Government post filled. Continued failure to confirm this appointment could only aid Lewis in his defiance of all government. That would be a strange attitude for the Congress which passed the Taft-Hartley Act.

Red-Hot Stassen

When all the qualifying "ifs" are weighed, Harold Stassen's victory in the Nebraska Republican preferential primary makes him a man to be reckoned with. It is hard to say how much of his success was attributable to the momentum he gained last week in Wisconsin, but unquestionably his emergence as a formidable challenger has attracted some skeptics to his bandwagon. The Nebraska primary was regarded initially as a test between Stassen and Senator Taft. Mr. Taft ran third, behind Stassen and Governor Dewey; in other words, Stassen did to Taft in Nebraska what he did to Dewey in Wisconsin.

However, it would be easy to attach too much significance to the Nebraska results. In the first place it may be pointed out that the primary was purely advisory, and that Nebraska's 15 delegates are only morally bound to vote for Mr. Stassen in the Republican convention. The possibility of vote-swapping after the first ballot remains. Too, it may be observed with considerable point that it takes 6½ Nebraskas to make up for one New York. In other words, with virtually all New York's 97 delegates sewed up, Governor Dewey is not badly hurt by the Nebraska outcome in itself, except as it may reflect a national trend. Even then it is well to remember that the nomination is made not by the voters but by the convention.

What the Stassen triumph does do is to damage the candidacy of Senator Taft. Mr. Taft had worked hard for support in Nebraska. With the peculiar candor which is his hallmark, he had had the courage to come out for a drastically revised farm program with lower support prices. This may have cost him votes in a farm State. We suspect, however, that the drubbing Taft received was due as much to other factors. The most significant development in Nebraska was the repudiation of the forces of Senator Hugh Butler, an anti-Stassenite who had thrown all his support to Taft. The Butler organization represented the vestiges of isolationism in Nebraska and had enjoyed singular success as late as 1946. The cold shoulder given Taft Tuesday, along with the insignificant showing of General MacArthur, indicates pretty clearly that the old brand of Middle West isolationism is dead. This is a generalization that can be made broadly from the farm belt, with the exception of portions of Illinois and Minnesota.

Whether the Taft balloon is punctured beyond repair will of course not be indicated until the Ohio primary, May 4. It is practically a foregone conclusion that most of that State's votes will go to Senator Taft as a favorite son. But Mr. Stassen has been working energetically in Ohio, taking the issues to the voters, and any substantial showing for Stassen would be considered a damper on Taft. There is, however, one apparent danger for Mr. Stassen's prospects in these early successes. The more he wins, the more he makes possible a stop-Stassen combination of Dewey and Taft, a combination that might operate to insure a deadlock in favor of a compromise candidate such as Senator Vandenberg. Indeed, it is by no means impossible that the real victor in Nebraska will turn out to be a dark horse.

Ashcan For U. N.

The energy which 16 Senators are giving to sponsorship of a resolution calling upon President Truman to initiate various changes in the United Nations Charter is worthy of a better cause. Their resolution is piously offered as "the minimum necessary to insure the effective operation of the reorganized United Nations." Actually, its effect would be to destroy the United Nations. The proposed changes would be effected "with Russia if possible, without Russia if necessary." In other words, adoption of this resolution would put the United States in the position of saying that the U. N. Charter must be changed in accord with American dictates or a new organization will be set up in its place. Our policy of international cooperation to keep the peace would be turned inside out by such a maneuver.

We have grave doubts, moreover, as to the wisdom of the particular amendments proposed by the 16 Senators, not one of whom is a member of the Foreign Relations Committee. They would eliminate the veto in the Security Council, "but only in matters of aggression and preparation (armament) for aggression." In voting on all other questions the veto of the big powers would be preserved. To our way of thinking this would put a premium on the use of force to bring about desirable international settlements. The United States now has a plan before the "Little Assembly" to eliminate the big-power veto in dealing with some 30 kinds of procedural issues. Approval of this plan would free the hand of the Security Council in the settlement of disputes up to the point of using force. It would greatly enhance the usefulness of the Security Council in exploring explosive situations and in bringing pressure to bear upon disputants, even though a big power might still veto resort to force. Under the 16 Senators' plan the veto power over all these peaceful procedures would be preserved, and only force could be invoked by less than a unanimous vote. The effect of this crude arrangement would be to shift the emphasis on the Security Council's function from peace to war.

We hope that the voting system in the Security Council can be modified by mutual consent, but if that is to be accomplished the first step will certainly have to be a lifting of the veto from peaceful procedures. And the nature of the changes will naturally have to be worked out in the United Nations itself—not in the American Congress. The mere adoption of the 16-man resolution by Congress would be resented by other countries, and to put any such program on a take-it-or-leave-it basis would critically detract from American influence both in shaping the future of the U. N. and in effectuating democratic solidarity to resist aggression outside of the Security Council. The objective to be sought is strengthening of the U. N. plus cooperative efforts to keep the peace in this difficult interim period. We do not think progress can be made in this direction by unilaterally throwing the U. N. into the ashcan.

Argentina's Stand

We welcome any sign from Buenos Aires of a cooperative spirit in developing the ties that bind the American republics and are glad to print the statement issued yesterday by the Argentine Embassy. The statement says that Dr. Bramuglia proposed the resolution at Tuesday's meeting of the chief delegates at Bogota which ended all doubt that the Inter-American Conference would be continued. That is the main point. It would have been disastrous to Pan American solidarity, and, indeed, to peace itself, if the Soviet Union had killed or even interrupted this conference. The offensive that it launched at Bogota would thereby have been turned into a victory in the subversive war that it is waging everywhere. The object of this war is to end the independence and freedom that remain, and to prevent any such outcome is the concern of all the republics of this hemisphere as well as of the United States.

In Bogota there was a good deal of initial hesitation which disturbed observers at this distance who feared that the Soviet Union would get away with it. In the early stages Argentina was among the wavereres, and its position is such that it communicated its attitude to other Latin neighbors. On Monday, for instance, when the vote to continue was offered by Cuba, there were 10 dissentients, though the vote was regarded as a tentative expression of opinion. Then, as a result of the reminders of what abandonment would mean, the quitters were converted, and the bandwagon then hove in sight, with Argentina, evidently, given the honor of putting it in motion.

We hope Argentina will proceed to show the same leadership in making the conference a success, and a quick one. Solidarity can overcome aggression, but in late conferences Argentina, obsessed by its feeling that it is a world unto itself, has indulged in vexatious and obstructive Americanophobia. It seems obsessed with a complex about its independence in a world which, as the events of Bogota show, must act interdependently, or perish. To paraphrase Representative Poulson in the House yesterday, Argentine, let alone American, prestige and security have no place for another Bogota.

Good Character

The newest and fanciest in a long line of wrinkles designed to restrict suffrage has been broached in Mississippi. Both houses of the Legislature of that State have now indorsed a proposed constitutional amendment which would require a "good moral character" as a condition of voting. The proposal is in no sense, according to its sponsors, intended to effect any racial discrimination. Indeed the Mississippi Senate adopted a resolution saying it "was the intent and purpose of this amendment (proposed) to apply to all persons equally, and in the same manner, regardless of race, creed or color."

This attitude is as exemplary as it is novel. And if Mississippi Negroes are skeptical about it, this can only be because they have gotten into the habit somehow or other of becoming skeptical. In point of fact, however, Negroes will not be the chief sufferers from this change in the constitution of the State, should it be adopted; they have long been accustomed to disfranchisement. The chief sufferers will be the supporters of the amendment who will find themselves hoist by their own petard. For a character test is patently one of those intentionally indefinite qualifications for voting designed to keep from the polls all those who dissent in any way from the clique in power.

Whatever its legality, it is wholly inconsistent with our professions. Unhappily, the rest of the country would suffer from such a restriction, too. It was as a result of just such suffrage limitations that the late Senator Theodore G. Bilbo came to serve as the "Mayor of Washington."

CITY BIRDS

We shall not hear it long,
This lull of early song,
This eloquence of birds,
Purling the quiet words
Of morning while the light
Is gathering in the bowl of night.

A moment we shall hear
Before the daily veer
Of noises to the street.
So crystalline, so sweet,
It hangs a moment there
And goes as goes the starry air.

The city cannot hold
The evanescent gold
Of those soft throats.
Only the heart still floats
Upon the sound and sees,
Higher than walls, the lift of trees.

Long-Range Bombers

Airman's letter of April 12 makes it clear that he has misread my letter of April 6. My letter does not urge, as Airman says, "that only by means of land-based long-range bombers can American air power overcome an enemy." Actually, it was concerned only with the Navy's position "opposing the use of long-range bombers in favor of carrier-based planes for delivering the atom bomb." Only the problem of delivering the atom bomb was considered.

I agree enthusiastically with everything Airman says about "balanced air power." However, the Navy itself, in a report by Admiral Gallery, has said that surface fleets are obsolete and, as demonstrated by the Gallery report, carriers to be used with an obsolete surface fleet cannot be justified. Only if the Navy can "get in the atom-bomb-delivery act" can it justify its former role as the first line of defense and first to be considered for defense appropriations.

My letter simply said that in the 10 years necessary to develop a carrier and carrier-based plane capable of delivering the atom bomb the Air Force will have long-range jet bombers, making unnecessary the use of the vulnerable carrier for that purpose.

Prolonged Art Exhibit

The extraordinary interest shown by the public in the priceless collection of German art which was saved by the American Army raises the question whether it would not be desirable to extend the exhibition for at least another month.

There have been several suggestions to let the show tour the country. For the sake of the paintings, however, they ought to be left here in the National Gallery of Art, which has all the facilities, protection measures and guards to take proper care of the works of art.

The enormous crowds which have filled the rooms have not allowed up to now consideration for the educational value of the paintings. In case of a prolonged exhibition we may have a chance to send the students of our six universities, the art schools and the many high schools on guided tours.

I urge our authorities to consider the measure in this last week of the regular exhibition and give the Nation a chance to study and enjoy the treasures of European art for a longer period.

"Maritime Policy"

The editorial, "Maritime Policy," published in The Washington Post on March 3, 1948, has come to my attention.

The transfer of American flag vessels to the nations participating in the Marshall Plan has now definitely been eliminated by the Congress. Such a transfer, as Mr. Curran suggested, would have resulted in an overtonnage of world dry cargo vessels. The immediate effect would have been the laying up of an equivalent number of American flag vessels, thus putting American seamen on the beach, curtailing American shipping operations and decreasing the volume of work in American ship repair yards, which can ill afford such a decrease at a time when future prospects are far from bright.

The maintenance of an active and adequate merchant marine and a healthy and progressive shipbuilding and ship repairing industry is indispensable to national security. Any action detrimental to either or both jeopardizes national security. The return of transferred ships after the emergency is over would not have met any of the objections cited. One would be naive, indeed, to believe that European nations would forgo building additional vessels in consideration of the transfer, temporary or otherwise, of additional Liberty vessels for their use. Shipbuilding to them, as it should be to us, is an indispensable industry, essential to their national economy and security, employing large numbers of skilled craftsmen, and enabling them to earn the dollars of which they are so greatly in need.

As you have stated, there is a lack of a coordinated American maritime policy in the light, not only of the postwar shipping situation, but also of our national economy and national security. The failure thus far to implement the Keller report and its recommendations indicates that lack of coordination, and further indicates a complete lack of comprehension of the indispensable role played by the merchant marine and the shipbuilding and ship repairing industry in conjunction with the Army, the Navy and the Air Force in the national security.

Wallace's Appeal

I have just finished reading the report of the message sent by Henry Wallace's loud-voiced organization to Italy. It reads in part:

"We repudiate our Government's threat to cut off food from Italy unless the election results please it. Hungry children must not go unfed because their parents do not vote as ordered from abroad."

I am deeply disturbed lest people who are busy, tired and uninformed read this specious and devious twaddle and find it reasonable.

We should shout from the housetops the reminder that all the nations of Europe were invited to join the ERP. The Communists greeted the plan with vilification and one group of voters in Italy is busy telling the populace that the ERP is a device of Wall Street and the monopolists and the warmongers.

Why should Henry Wallace try to send cheer to that crowd, and why should we as a people build up our enemies when we have so many needy friends? Let the Italians decide whether they will follow our enemies or our friends. If they decide we are warmongers and monopolists and there is no good in us, they have a clear right to show it in their elections.

Henry Wallace's gang can find so much to condemn at home and their tolerance for communism abroad is a great and shining thing. I am sick of them.

Explaining ERP To The World

We now have the European Recovery Program, but all the efforts put into it could go for nothing if we should have no informational program of equal stature and scope. Every kind of media should be marshaled, every means of intelligence should be used to acquaint the peoples of the world with the story not only of our aid but of the true workings of democracy in the United States. For with the beginning of ERP's operations everything that we do may be distorted and turned against us.

We seem unwilling to recognize the extent and effect of propaganda used against us. We still do not measure accurately the force of this new weapon. Entire countries are "captured" with no other weapon.

The intents of ERP are of the highest—food, reconstruction, rehabilitation, preservation of liberties through economic freedom. We must make that known to all peoples, not through exhortation or official pronouncements, but through a sincere and compelling recital of our story in media in which we Americans excel—sketch strips, panels, matted and plastic illustrated stories, colored pamphlets, word of mouth, as well as radio. Graphic material will cross boundaries, penetrate iron curtains, be handed from person to person. Imagination can surmount all barriers. Use of radio, of course, is a basic element, but it should be considered as only one element. Often it is a weak element, for in various countries merely a few thousand out of millions can hear.

The need is for a comprehensive program, with many elements, to go hand in hand with ERP's other operations and with the State Department's program.

We must assume that counteraction to our rehabilitation efforts will appear simultaneously in various parts of the world in the form of propaganda to turn people violently against us.

Events in Colombia may be an object lesson. We have permitted our informational efforts in the other American nations to wither away. Beginning in 1940, the United States, through a new agency which became known as the Office of Inter-American Affairs, established among its other functions a two-way informational program, the first of its kind ever instituted by this Government. It not only supplied news and feature stories and photos in adapted media to the publications of the other American countries, but it also joined with the publications and governments of those nations to obtain a better understanding of their peoples among our publications and citizens.

That was an intelligence service of high order. It performed a psychological task which was essential to the other operations which bound us so closely to the other American nations during the war.

When the Office of Inter-American Affairs passed out of existence, the State Department assumed what remained of the informational program. Then when budgets became tighter and the situation in eastern Europe grew tense, efforts had to be centered there.

Since then, Russian informational services in the other American countries have increased extensively and the quality, so far as mechanics are concerned, has been improved greatly.

All this is mentioned merely to point up the necessity to protect ERP—and ourselves—from attack from all parts of the compass. Otherwise, all the dollars, all the food, all the reconstruction, will be turned against us. And we shall be the most misunderstood people in the world.

ERP can perform another function also, as pointed out by William Benton, chief American delegate to the International Conference on Freedom of Information and the Press, in Geneva. Through its contractual arrangements with the various nations, it can increase the flow of information. There are a surprising number of restrictions, tariffs and quotas against news publications and the facilities of flow and publication.

Indeed, restrictions of all sorts will fall away as countries regain a degree of economic stability. And man will cease to turn in desperation to political forms which are destructive of human rights. The task of freeing man from economic slavery is unique in history. That unique effort is the story that ERP has the opportunity to tell.

Cowardly Campaigning

By Malvina Lindsay

Intimidating Women

IN FACE of widespread below-the-belt campaigning, the Women's Action Committee for Lasting Peace showed backbone at its recent convention in deciding to retain its title—which contains the bugaboo word "action."

This is a stand that may suffice other nonpartisan women's groups and many individual women leaders, who, in their efforts for international or social legislation, have become objects of an intimidation campaign by demagogues. Inevitably the catcall of the day, "Communist," has been the main weapon in this.

The Women's Action Committee has suffered especially in this attack since its name makes it an easy mark for those trying to confuse the public. Communist groups in Europe and elsewhere have used "action" committees extensively in their aggressions, hence some timorous Americans would delete "action"—probably also "democracy"—from the dictionary. Underhanded efforts to connect the Women's Action Committee with the Communists succeeded so well in one remote small town that efforts were made to bar the branch there from participation in the Freedom Train ceremonies.

YET ironically the national leaders of this organization include many "uppercrust" women, socially and financially. Among its consultants are two widely known anti-Communist writers, Dorothy Thompson and Anne O'Hare McCormick. Its 15 national member organizations include the leading and most respected women's groups in the country. Its local branches are generally in control of the Communist-hated bourgeoisie.

The smearing of course is not all through the name. This group, together with several others, is paying the price for taking direct political action for and against candidates, depending on how they support certain international measures, instead of merely passing noble and abstruse resolutions—as women's clubs have so long been ridiculed for doing.

What has happened so far is a forewarning of the thought intimidation individuals and groups may expect to face in this election campaign. Fear and suspicion are running high on international issues and deep emotion has been stirred over the civil rights controversy. Women are particularly vulnerable to political smear techniques because they belong to more organizations than men, have more leisure for altruistic endeavor, are more interested in the social legislation that the woolly headed associate with Communism. Even such groups as the Young Women's Christian Association and the United Council of Church Women have been victims of ideological smearing, chiefly because of their stands on racial matters.

THE PATTERN of attack women's groups may expect if they oppose definite candidates or publicize candidates' voting records has been clearly marked out. The candidate gets a letterhead of the organizations opposing him, ferrets out the name of some officer, board member or committee chairman who has been connected with liberal movements, and begins shrieking that the group opposing him is dominated by Communists or fellow travelers. If the candidate is a member of Congress with access to the files of the Committee on Un-American Activities, he may come up with a sheaf of material on "that woman."

For example: One nationally known professional woman who has given generously of her time to public movements was given the "treatment" as a means of discrediting an organization with which she was connected. She was charged with belonging to 35 "subversive" organizations—though how on her income she could have paid dues in all of them and met the other financial demands societies increasingly make of their members, nobody could figure out.

In common with the late Carrie Chapman Catt and other prominent American women she was "accused" of having sent greetings to the Soviet women at the height of the Nazi assault on Russia. Of some of the "subversive" organizations she knew nothing, several she remembered speaking before in the 1930s; to a few she had made small contributions at the request of friends.

This is the sort of political scarecrow tactics women's groups and women candidates are likely to come up against in the months ahead. But the stand of the Women's Action Committee indicates they will remain undaunted in exercising their constitutional rights.

"Unequal Tax Cut"

Reference is made to my communication of April 10 regarding the distribution of tax relief under the recently passed tax reduction law. In my analysis of the distribution of relief on a per taxpayer basis the amount of relief afforded to the 2.4 million taxpayers with incomes, after deduction but before exemptions, of over $5000, should have read "a little less than $600," instead of the obviously incorrect $60 figure that was shown.

Similarly in Table I the figure for the percentage of the total income tax bill for 1947 for which the $5000 and over group was liable should have read 44.6 per cent. And in Table II the corresponding figure for 1948 should have read 44.7 per cent.

Today And Tomorrow

By Walter Lippmann

State Department And Pentagon

CORRESPONDENTS and commentators have been reporting the hopes and the doubts of officials in the State Department who are thinking about the President's promise that "the United States will, by appropriate means, extend" to the free nations of Europe the military support which they need in order "to protect themselves."

Lippmann

But while these officials are thinking about what to propose, the Congress is about to dispose of the matter—certainly for the next crucial months—as soon as it has settled the dispute between Secretary Forrestal and Secretary Symington.

For once the new military program is adopted, it will be set, unless war breaks out, at least until there is a new Administration next winter. Yet neither the Forrestal nor the Symington program is designed to provide "appropriate means" by which the Western Union nations can "protect themselves." The Pentagon, however divided on the relative size of the Air Force, the ground Army, and the Navy, is proposing no program which takes into account the fact that the State Department promoted the Brussels alliance and that the President and Secretary Marshall have committed the country to support it.

THE BRUSSELS pact is a defensive alliance to resist the invasion and occupation of western Europe. American military policy—the strategical doctrine and the actual program to support it, both Mr. Forrestal's and Mr. Symington's—is not designed to defend particular countries against invasion; it is designed to deter aggression against any country by the threat of a crushing reprisal against the centers of the Soviet Union itself.

Until these two military conceptions have been reconciled inside the Administration, we shall not be moving towards an understanding with the Western Union but towards a most dangerous misunderstanding. The Brussels pact is to prevent invasion. The Pentagon policy is to defeat Russia eventually. In 1939 Britain and France went to war when Poland was attacked. But they did not defend Poland. In 1941 the United States went to war with Japan. But it was unable to defend the Philippines.

THE QUESTION, therefore, is not whether the United States will by treaty or joint resolution formally promise to go to war if the Western Union is attacked. It is whether it can and will adopt military measures which enable Great Britain, the United States, France, and the Benelux nations to oppose effectively an advance by the Red army into western Europe.

The essence of the problem is what will happen to France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg if our strategic Air Force is not a sufficient deterrent against all aggression, if indeed, while it is being built up, the Soviet Union decides to occupy western Europe and hold it as the hostage against our strategic Air Force and the atomic bomb.

IT IS therefore beside the point, and in fact quite misleading, to talk about whether the Senate should be asked to ratify a treaty of alliance which pledges us to go to war if the Western Union is attacked. The United States would as a matter of fact be at war before the Western Union was at war. For the Red army cannot cross the Rhine until it has crossed the Elbe; it cannot cross the Elbe without attacking the American Army before it attacks the Belgians, the Dutch, and the French. The presence of General Clay and his troops in Germany is an absolute guaranty, more certain and more automatic than any treaty could be, that the United States would not be neutral.

Therefore, the guaranty that the United States would go to war exists and cannot be made any stronger. What is wanting are the "appropriate means" to give western Europe a good fighting chance to defend itself successfully. Without such measures an eventual victory—such as the Pentagon has in mind—would be, as regards western Europe—apart from Britain which cannot easily be invaded—a case where the operation was successful but the patient died.

SO WHEN Mr. Bevin signed the Brussels pact when Mr. Marshall promoted it, when Mr. Truman promised to support it, they committed themselves to a reconsideration of Anglo-American military strategy and military policy. Were the affairs of the democracies well conducted there would have been military staff agreements before the Brussels pact was signed and before the Forrestal and the Symington programs were presented to Congress. But as in Greece, Iran, Palestine, China, Korea, so now once again we have followed the practice of making commitments first, and then of scratching our heads while we wonder what to do about it.

What is actually going to happen, unless there is a prompt change of view in Washington and London, is that the Western Union nations will have military staff conversations in London in the next month or so. These conversations are bound to call for a modification, or a very considerable enlargement, of American and British military plans. But before this can be done Congress will have disposed of the Forrestal-Symington dispute, and it will not be easy—with the conventions and the election coming—to reopen the question of how to implement the Brussels alliance.

THE QUESTION will, however, have to be reopened. If Congress adopts the Symington program for a great strategical Air Force aimed at the vitals of Russia—but incapable of delivering the assault for a long time to come; if at the same time Britain and the United States do not take measures to defend the Western Union at the Elbe and the Rhine, the situation will be more than ever dangerous.

For without defensive measures in western Europe, the great strategic Air Force, which will take some years to create and deploy, may then not be a deterrent. It may, on the contrary, provoke military measures against western Europe, measures designed to forestall and to neutralize, and to compensate for the eventual striking power of the Air Force. If we direct our military effort exclusively against Moscow, and do not make the necessary effort to defend Paris, then the capital of communism should be moved to Paris, though Moscow were destroyed.

Washington Calling

By Marquis Childs

Lewis' Strange Compromise

THE POWER that John L. Lewis exercises over an essential industry has been demonstrated once again. He has reduced the Nation's stockpiles of coal almost to zero and he has cost the miners approximately 100 million dollars in wages.

Childs

Whether mining will be resumed at full scale is still a question. The contempt case against Lewis may persuade his more fanatical followers that they owe it to him to continue to stay out.

There is no mystery in the source of Lewis' power. He has convinced the mass of the miners—and with a large body of fact to back him up—that he is the only person who has done anything to improve their wages and working conditions. Mining is a hard, hazardous occupation, and miners throughout the world are prone to develop almost tribal loyalties.

On the base of this loyalty, Lewis has built an organization which he runs with dictatorial powers. Gangster methods have been used in the past to suppress opposition. Power, as Lord Acton noted, is a heady wine, and absolute power is a temptation to corruption of the spirit that few men in history have been able to resist.

So we see the great John L. playing Republican politics in an attempt to find a way out of his latest enactment of the familiar drama, "Me Against the Nation." Speaker Joseph Martin has taken the play from Lewis and he is given the credit for "settling" the work stoppage.

THIS MAY prove to be a dubious honor. It could not have come about if Lewis had not willed it. And he has a habit of collecting for political favors, sometimes at the most embarrassing moments. Moreover, in the past he has proved a doubtful political ally. When it serves his purpose, Lewis can shift with remarkable speed.

One of his most effective public appeals is on the issue of mine safety. Recently the United Mine Workers Journal urged the need for a Federal law enforcing standards of safety.

Ever since the Centralia, Ill., disaster, which took 111 lives, the need for a Federal law to enforce minimum safety standards has been urged. Following that disaster, Congress passed a law calling on the Bureau of Mines in the Department of the Interior to report quarterly on how the individual States were living up to safety standards.

Each State has its own safety laws. The Bureau of Mines, a Federal agency, has the power to inspect coal mines in the States but it cannot enforce changes which would reduce the hazards in the mines. This is a perfect example of how, with power divided between State and Federal governments, it is impossible to fix responsibility.

THE OTHER day the third quarterly report was sent to Congress by the Bureau of Mines. It showed that nearly half of the violations of safety codes were uncorrected. Specifically, on the basis of 949 reports, the bureau noted 12,786 violations and indicated that nothing had been done to correct 6060 of these.

Standards of enforcement vary widely from State to State. Pennsylvania and Colorado, for example, have a good record. In Pennsylvania, State mine inspectors are under civil service and they are paid more than Federal mine inspectors.

In Illinois the inspectors are political appointees. Investigation of the Centralia disaster plainly showed how politics had interfered with safety enforcement.

At this point, of course, you get the familiar States' rights arguments. It is a powerful shield for careless companies that would be required by a Federal statute to live up to the standards of the States with the best records.

Speaker Martin is a strong advocate of States' rights. So are most of the conservative Republicans in the Senate and House who stand out against any change of any kind. They inveigh against the iniquity of the Federal Government prying into what is the business of the individual States.

In this light Lewis' choice of Martin to make the play for peace in the coal fields has an odd look. The moral is, I suppose, that one must never look for consistency in the swiftly shifting play of power politics. Absolute power is a law unto itself.

But the miner who goes down into a mine that he knows to be full of danger must sometimes wonder a little. In spite of his dogged loyalty to his leader, he must be a little puzzled to find himself in the camp of the States' righters committed to keeping the Federal Government from snooping.

Germans Ask 1.9 Billions Of Aid Funds

Frankfurt, Germany, April 14 (AP).—German officials in the British-American occupation zones asked today for more than one-third of the entire funds approved by the United States Congress for the European Recovery Program.

They laid before the British and American occupation commanders a plan calling for $1,960,000,000 to finance imports of food and raw materials during the first year of the Marshall Plan.

The Congress approved expenditures of $6,098,000,000 for ERP. Some goes to China and Turkey but up to $5,300,000,000 is earmarked for the 16 western European nations participating in the program.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, said the German proposal would be studied. He would not comment on the possibility of the Germans getting the amount they asked.

Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, the British commander, will go to Paris tomorrow to represent the British-American zones in the Marshall Plan conferences opening on Friday.

Grain-Saving Plan Rejected By Brewers

The first voluntary grain-saving agreement under the Taft anti-inflation law blew up yesterday, when the brewing industry backed down on a conservation plan.

The Nation's brewers agreed with the Luckman Citizens Food Committee last October to a grain-saving program. At the request of Secretary of Agriculture Anderson it continued that program, awaiting an agreement reached under the Taft law.

The latter plan was approved by Attorney General Clark last month, and submitted to the brewers for their agreement.

Yesterday the brewers turned it down on the grounds that the distilling industry had refused to agree to any conservation program.

Marshall Plan Nations Form 'Junior U. N.'

Paris, April 14 (AP).—Delegates from Europe's Marshall Plan countries completed today the formal draft of a charter for a junior united nations of western Europe to implement their economic reconstruction effort.

The charter establishes a European organization for economic cooperation and will be submitted tomorrow to a meeting of foreign ministers' deputies. The deputies also will set up an agenda for a plenary session of the foreign ministers for Friday.

A preview of the charter discloses the organization is patterned in many details after the United Nations. It will comprise an executive committee of seven members elected for annual terms, a council of ministers representing all participating states, and a permanent general secretariat whose head, the secretary general, will be the key administrative officer.

Truman Asks Congress to Put Up Cash For First Year of European Recovery

By Ferdinand Kuhn, Jr.
Post Reporter

President Truman formally asked Congress yesterday to appropriate $4,245,000,000 for the first year's operations of the European Recovery Program.

The President's request, in a letter to House Speaker Martin, began the second stage of the legislative effort to get western Europe back on its feet. Congress has already authorized the spending of $5,300,000,000 in the first year, but the actual appropriations still have to be justified and approved.

Administrator Paul G. Hoffman plans to go before the House Appropriations Committee soon, probably Friday, with detailed estimates. Although he has only been on the job for a week, he intends to state the case himself with the help of his three chief consultants, Calvin B. Hoover, Richard M. Bissell, jr., and Edward S. Mason, all of whom served with him in the Harriman Committee last fall.

Meanwhile, without waiting for actual appropriations, Hoffman last night authorized further emergency grants of $37,877,000 for food shipments to Austria, France Greece, Italy and the Netherlands. The Economic Cooperation Act signed last week permits him to make such grants, using some of the billion dollars advanced by the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The food, Hoffman explained, would consist mostly of grain but would also include lard, horsemeat, mixed seeds, dried peas, canned fish, and evaporated and dried skimmed milk. He said six cargoes of grain, five for France and one for the Netherlands, were already on the high seas or loading at Texas ports out of a previous emergency grant of 21 million dollars.

The appropriation figure of $4,245,000,000 requested by the President covered the whole of the authorized program of $5,300,000,000 minus two items. One was the billion dollars to be provided by the Treasury for loans or guarantees to private investors; this sum will be made available, under the recent Act, as a "public debt transaction" and will not need to be appropriated.

The second was a 55-million-dollar item already appropriated to prevent a break in the pipeline supplies for Europe.

The President's letter to Martin requested quick action and recalled that in passing the Economic Cooperation Act Congress had "recognized the imperative need for prompt American assistance to the free peoples of Europe." Chairman John Taber (R., N. Y.) of the House Appropriations Committee has already said May 10 will be the earliest possible date for reporting a bill.

Three more members were appointed yesterday to the ten-man Joint Congresional Committee, provided by the recent act of Congress to keep an eye on the workings of ERP. They were Representatives John M. Vorys (R., Ohio), James G. Fulton (R., Pa.) and Sol Bloom (D., N.Y.), all of them members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and all of them ardent supporters of ERP. Two members still have to be appointed from the House Appropriations Committee. The five Senators on the committee have been named already.

The President's Calling List

By The Associated Press

President Truman saw the following callers at the White House yesterday:

11—Senator Connally (D., Tex.), Representative Regan (D., Tex.), et al.

House Overrides Vendor Bill Veto

Senate Expected to Follow Suit on Measure Barring Newsboys From Social Security Aid

The House yesterday voted 307 to 28 to override President Truman's veto of a bill barring independent news vendors from Social Security coverage.

Representative Bertrand W. Gearhart (R., Calif.), author of the measure to exclude independent vendors, predicted the Senate would also override and the act would become law.

In his veto message the President said the legislation was one of a series of efforts to undermine the social security structure.

The bill, the President declared, "proposes to remove the protection of the social security law from persons now entitled to its benefits. Thus, it raises the fundamental question of whether or not we shall maintain the integrity of our social security system."

Gearhart insisted that news vendors were independent contractors who should never have been placed under the Social Security Law.

His bill, he told the House, will affect possibly not more than 1000 news vendors now covered, but the principle of the act, he said, extends to hundreds of thousands.

Without the legislation, Gearhart declared, "wide confusion will result, since so many vendors sell many newspapers and do not have a single employer. They frequently sell fruit and candy along with newspapers," he pointed out.

He was backed by Representative Walter A. Lynch (D., N. Y.), usually an Administration supporter, who said that failure to enact this legislation would result in "a lot of litigation to determine who should pay social security taxes."

A total of 206 Republicans were joined by 101 Democrats in voting to override. Two Republicans, Representatives Jacob Javits of New York and Merlin Hull of Wisconsin, joined 24 Republicans and the two American Labor Party members in voting to sustain the veto.

Despite the President's firmly worded message, House Democratic leaders observed a hands-off policy toward the legislation. Democratic Leader Sam Rayburn said he personally did not try to line up any votes to support the veto.

Gearhart introduced the bill in response to a court decision holding that vendors are employes within the meaning of the law.

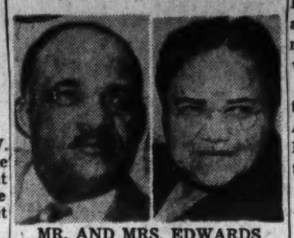
Reap Fortune In Junk Business



MR. AND MRS. EDWARDS

Oklahoma City, April 14 (AP).—Italians will be told Saturday how a junk business and a serious illness combined to provide Negroes with a $431,000 hospital here.

This story will be described on the State Department's "Voice of America" broadcast to prove to Italians that Negroes have opportunities in America.

Communists have discounted free enterprise in America in propaganda for April 18 Italian elections.

W. J. Edwards, 55-year-old Negro junk dealer of Oklahoma City, reaped a fortune in the junk business.

His 50-year-old wife was stricken with a serious illness. The only hospital in Oklahoma City available to her had only one ward crowded with five other Negro patients, so she was flown to Mayo Bros., Rochester, Minn.

Sunday, April 18, a 105-bed hospital, patterned after the Mayo clinic, will be dedicated in Oklahoma City.

Part of the cost of construction of the hospital was provided by Uncle Sam—some $42,000. The Edwardses paid the rest. They even took up duties as foremen to speed up construction, which started 18 months ago.

Single Agency For Transport Is Opposed

Robert Ramspeck, former Democratic Representative from Georgia, yesterday told the Senate Commerce Committee it would be "dangerous" to place all means of transportation under a single Federal regulating agency.

Now executive vice president of the Air Transport Association, Ramspeck was first witness before the committee. It is studying revision of national transportation policies.

Speaking for the Transportation Association of America, Donald D. Conn, its executive vice president, urged legislation to exempt all surface carriers from antitrust restrictions "to no lesser extent than are regulated airway carriers."

It Takes Men to Make Steel and PROFITS to protect jobs

Jobs don't just grow. Jobs are made.

For when you're talking about jobs, you're talking about the equipment, machinery, buildings and materials that fit together to make a job. The cost averages about $6,400 per job.

And that's where the pinch comes!

Like every other dollar, the profit dollar has taken a licking. Its purchasing power . . . the "real profit" . . . has been seriously reduced.

When a steel company sets out today to buy a coke oven, this year's profit dollar buys only 40 cents worth of oven compared with 1938.

Steel profits on sales averaged 6.3 cents on the dollar last year.

Steel profits on investment averaged 9.4 cents on the dollar last year.

Steel profits are dangerously low measured against the cost of the things that create new jobs and support old ones.

FEDERAL EMPLOYEES

STAND SHOULDER TO SHOULDER

IN THE FIGHT AGAINST CANCER

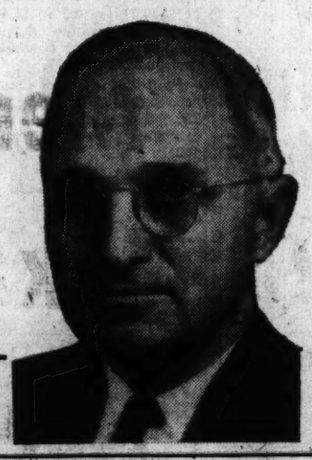
THEY ARE GIVING OF THEIR TIME, EFFORT AND MONEY TO HELP BRING THIS VICIOUS DISEASE UNDER CONTROL • THEY ARE GIVING GENEROUSLY TO SAVE THE LIVES OF THEIR FELLOW AMERICANS AND THEIR LOVED ONES

The Honorable Edward F. Bartelt, Fiscal Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and National Chairman for Federal Employees.

"Federal employees can always be depended upon to accept their full share of responsibility in any humanitarian program.

We are fortunate that the American Cancer Society is using its resources and facilities in a search for the cause and cure of cancer.

We of the Federal Service are glad to participate in this program by contributing to the 1948 fund-raising campaign."



FROM THE PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION

* * * NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby set apart the month of April 1948 as Cancer Control Month; and I invite the Governors of the several States and the Territories and possessions of the United States to issue similar proclamations. I also invite the medical profession, the press, the radio, the motion-picture industry, and all organizations and individuals interested in a national program for the control of cancer by education and other cooperative means to unite during the month of April in a concerted effort to impress upon the people of the Nation the vital importance to their health and to the welfare of the Nation of a program for the control of cancer and the necessity for their cooperation in such a program.

Mr. Robert C. Owers, Vice President and Treasurer of the Washington Gas Light Company and General Chairman for the 1948 campaign of the District of Columbia Division of the American Cancer Society.

"The splendid generosity of the Federal employees in the Cancer Campaign is a very notable contribution to the American Cancer Society's campaign in the District. Because of the generosity of all of our people funds will be available for an expanded and continued cancer control program in the District. We are deeply appreciative of the fine spirit of all of our people in this campaign."

N. S. & T. Spurt Bolsters Local Deposit Total

By S. Oliver Goodman

Combined deposits of Washington's 19 banks totaled $1,020,564,330 as of April 12, they reported yesterday in response to a call for condition by the Comptroller of Currency.

This was $3,111,022 less than the $1,023,675,352 reported on December 31, 1947. The drop would have been greater had not the National Savings & Trust Co. come through with a sharp increase of $17,346,806 in deposits between the two call dates.

Eleven of the 19 banks showed a seasonal dip in deposits for the first quarter. The others, with the exception of National Savings & Trust, showed slight gains.

The declines generally were attributed to heavy withdrawals for Federal income tax payments and the Treasury's continued drain on its deposits.

Earlier this week, a Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond report on 17 of the 19 local banks showed deposits totaled $918,703,000 as of March 31, a decline of $8,218,000 for the first three months. Two Washington banks are not members of the Reserve System.

On other call dates in 1947, combined deposits of all Washington banks amounted to $1,015,057,816 on June 30 and $1,028,345,521 on October 6. There was no call for condition last year for the first quarter.

On the two most recent call dates, deposits of individual banks compared as follows:

RED FACES: There are some very red faces in the public relations department of the Missouri Pacific Railroad. In the mid-March edition of the railroad's "News Reel," the back page was a paean of praise for Dallas, Tex., with an aerial view of the skyline. When the publication hit Dallas and Fort Worth, citizens of the highly competitive cities noted that the aerial view was of the Fort Worth skyline, not Dallas. Confusing Dallas with Fort Worth is as combustible an error as printing the Hecht Co. when you mean Woodward & Lothrop.

IN BANK POST: J. Wilton Peters, former War Production Board executive, yesterday was appointed assistant to President Wilmer J. Waller of Hamilton National Bank. Peters, a graduate of Yale University, for the past three years has conducted a public relations and business consultant service here. After two years foreign service in World War I, he entered the investment banking field where he remained until 1941 when he was called to Washington as priorities specialist. Shortly thereafter he became WPB assistant deputy vice chairman.

B. & O. REPORT: The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad's annual report emphasized that last year the road put into service the following new rolling stock: 30 steam locomotives, 7 diesel passenger locomotives, 1940 steel box cars, 7365 steel hopper cars and other equipment. Scheduled for delivery this year are: 5636 steel hopper cars, 60 diesel freight locomotives, and 100 diesel switchers. As reported previously, B. & O. grossed $367,600,000 last year, second largest in its history. Out of this, the railroad netted $9,259,381, a return of 3.04 per cent on its net investment.

UNDERWRITERS: Members of the District of Columbia Life Underwriters Association will nominate six new directors at today's luncheon meeting in the Mayflower. Three will be elected to the board at the May meeting. Principal speaker today will be John J. Sutton, former football coach and now a top producer for the Guardian Life in Oneida, N. Y.

SECURITY: Nine American workers out of 10 are more interested in job security than in higher pay and 87 per cent are satisfied with their present job. More than two out of three (68 per cent) say that the present pay in their jobs provides them with a reasonably comfortable living. These are the outstanding results of a survey of worker attitudes conducted by the Ross Federal Research Corp. for the magazine Modern Industry.

ODD LOTS: Directors of National Savings & Trust Co. declared the regular $2 quarterly dividend on capital stock, payable May 1 to stock of record April 22 . . . Gulf Oil Corp. is increasing its oil storage capacity in 14 coastal and Eastern States by 159 million gallons . . . Canadian newsprint production in March was 387,672 tons, an increase of 15,190 tons over same 1947 month . . . Dun & Bradstreet food price index for week ended April 13 stood at 6.76, compared with 6.72 a week ago and 6.24 a year ago . . . A 26-hour air service between New York and Buenos Aires, eight hours less than at present, will start today, according to Pan American and Pan American-Grace Airways . . . First quarter sales of Celanese Corp. approximated 57 million dollars, compared with $44,700,000 in same 1947 period. The Amalgamated Bank of New York, a trade union's venture into the realm of high finance, yesterday marked its twenty-fifth anniversary with resources of $37,963,524.

Eaton Sought Way to Renege, Witness Says

By The Associated Press

A New York banker said yesterday that Cyrus Eaton Cleveland financier, ordered his lawyer to see if a contract to sell Kaiser-Frazer stock had any loopholes. He added that Eaton said he would "rather have a lawsuit on his hands than be dead broke."

Eaton

The banker was Harold Allen of Allen & Co., testifying before the Securities and Exchange Commission which is inquiring into the withdrawal February 9 of two banking firms from a contract to sell 900,000 shares of Kaiser-Frazer common stock.

The two firms are Otis & Co. of Cleveland, headed by Eaton, and the First California Co., San Francisco. Allen & Co. was one of a group organized to handle the deal.

Kaiser-Frazer has filed a multi-million-dollar suit alleging that the Otis firm "inspired" a Kaiser-Frazer stockholder to halt the stock deal.

Ordered to Seek Loophole

A Kaiser-Frazer attorney, Charles M. Walton, jr., testified Tuesday that a "phony" lawsuit was filed against Kaiser-Frazer in Detroit February 9 by James F. Masterson, a Philadelphia lawyer and owner of 100 shares of the motor company's stock.

The original Kaiser-Frazer contract with Otis provided that the bankers could withdraw from the contract if "a material lawsuit should be filed against the corporation before 10 a. m. February 9."

Allen said yesterday that Eaton had ordered Carter Kissell, Otis counsel, to "read that contract (the original stock deal contract) thoroughly and see if there are any outs in it . . . I've never seen it to fail when you lawyers didn't have some out in a contract."

Allen said this incident took place at a meeting February 5 attended by Eaton, Kissell, William Daley of Otis and Co.; H. T. Birr, jr., of the First California Co. and himself.

He said there was a heated discussion and that he and Birr wanted to go ahead with the contract.

"I said," Allen testified, "this would jeopardize our position greatly. I said that Allen and Co. would make their contract good."

He added that Birr then said he would take up his stock "even if it costs me my bottom dollar."

"Rather Have Lawsuit"

Birr then asked Eaton, Allen continued: "Cy, do you want me to tell Kaiser you won't take up the stock?" (He referred to Henry J. Kaiser, wartime shipbuilder and chairman of the Kaiser-Frazer Corp.).

Allen testified that "Eaton said he would rather have a lawsuit on his hands than be dead broke." He said the stock might drop to $5 a share.

Edgar Kaiser, son of Henry Kaiser and vice president of the motor firm, has testified that his father gave Eaton a long talk on the "sanctity of contracts" but that Eaton had merely "shrugged his shoulders."

Eaton is expected to tell his side of the story Monday.

Kaiser-Frazer Prospectus Smote Eaton's Conscience

By J. A. Livingston

"DISCORD, a sleepless hag who never dies," boldly entered Examiner Milton P. Kroll's hearing room at the Securities and Exchange Commission and never left. Titans had fallen out.

Rotund Henry J. Kaiser, a man with an easy, I'll-tell-all manner, was on the witness stand—and disillusioned. He had entered into a contract with Otis & Co., Cleveland investment bankers, to sell 900,000 shares of Kaiser-Frazer Corp. stock at $11.50 a share. But the bankers had not gone through with the deal. "It was a terrible shock to me," said the chairman of the board of Kaiser-Frazer.

Livingston

Joseph W. Frazer, the rotund, urbane and sumptuously dressed president of the corporation, was also disillusioned and distressed. Through it all, however, Kaiser and Frazer acted like stout-hearted men who would retain a zest for fine food after this business is over.

Cause of their disillusionment was the man who wasn't there—Cyrus Eaton, who nearly became a preacher, and is the largest stockholder in Otis & Co. He is presented by his public relations counsel as "a Cleveland industrialist and banker with broad interests in the iron ore, lake shipping, steel, coal and railroad industries," and yet "finds time to supervise the operation of his 850-acre shorthorn farm midway between Cleveland and Akron, to write essays and articles on philosophy, economics and government, and to serve as trustee of the University of Chicago and a number of other universities, colleges and civic organizations."

COMPLETE with files, folders Kaiser-Frazer prospectus, a double-breasted suit, patrician manner, white hair, blue eyes and a secretary, Eaton is installed in a several-room suite at the Hotel Carlton, where his stanch friend, John L. Lewis, customarily lunches. Eaton is waiting his turn to testify, and he, too is shocked. That Kaiser, that Frazer should tell such stories! That it should even be testified, as Kaiser and Frazer have testified, that he—Eaton—had said to Herman T. Birr, jr., president of First California Co., "Anyone who kept his commitment when he would lose money was a sucker!"

The Kaiser-Frazer version of the financial fiasco has been told many times by the Kaiser-Frazer interests. It seems that on Monday, February 2, Otis & Co., First California Co. and Allen & Co. agreed to an underwriting deal if market conditions were favorable. The next day Kaiser-Frazer Corp. bought 186,000 shares at a cost of $2,500,000. Never before had a company undertaken to stabilize its own stock, prior to public offering, on such a scale. Eaton personally gave the orders to E. F. Hutton & Co., brokers.

Kaiser and Frazer both say the stabilization was part of the agreement. A spokesman for Otis & Co., who prefers not to be named, says that's "completely false." Eaton, so the Otis story goes, gave the "buy" orders to E. F. Hutton only because Kaiser didn't know any brokerage firm.

OSTENSIBLE reason for calling off the deal was the sudden filing of a stockholder's suit. But that, apparently, was not the basic reason. Eaton now plans to tell the SEC how he had believed implicitly in the Kaiser-Frazer prospectus, and then, lo, he made discoveries.

When Otis & Co. security salesmen called on Kaiser-Frazer dealers to sell K-F stock, instead of giving a sales talk, they got one. Wouldn't they buy Kaiser-Frazer cars for immediate delivery? Most of the K-F automobile dealers, it seems, were so loaded up with automobiles that they didn't have any money to buy stocks. That alerted Otis & Co.

Why did Kaiser-Frazer want new financing to expand production when apparently dealers had more cars than they could handle? Then Otis & Co. remembered what was in the prospectus. In December, Kaiser-Frazer Corp. had paid off notes of 11 million dollars which had been personally guaranteed by Kaiser and Frazer. Reasoned Otis: The proceeds of the financing would be used to "replace funds withdrawn to pay the notes."

Thereupon Otis & Co. began reflecting on the balance sheet of the company. A spokesman averred that cash and Government securities were down 20 million dollars in two months and that inventories were up 11 million. That, said the Otis spokesman, "constituted a material change in the company's position," yet the company had signed a contract declaring that "no substantial adverse change in condition, financial or otherwise" had taken place.

TH'S UPSURGE of conscience occurred after the sale of Kaiser-Frazer stock fizzled and after Otis & Co. attorneys had gone over the prospectus and even suggested a change in the accountant's report certifying the balance sheet and income account; also after Otis & Co. knew Kaiser-Frazer was increasing output and, therefore, was shifting cash into inventories.

If the stock had sold like wildfire—if Kaiser-Frazer had gone up on February 4 instead of down—would Otis & Co. have been conscience-stricken by the financial condition of the company on February 9, when the money was due to be handed over? And if the underwriters had been faced with a profit instead of a loss, would Hag Discord have had her days in the SEC hearing room?

Chicago Grain

Chicago, April 14 (AP).—With more attention being paid to dry weather in the southwest, grains crept higher today. No rain was reported in the Southwestern winter wheat belt, where grain men said moisture was needed to help along the new crop.

Corn and oats also were higher with wheat on the Board of Trade. Both grains were aided by small supplies at terminal markets and a strong demand in the cash trade. Spot prices of both feed grains were unchanged to 2 cents higher. Buyers paid higher premiums over May contracts.

Wheat closed ¾-1⅛ higher, May 2.51⅛@2.51¼; corn was 1⅛-1⅜ higher, May 2.30½@2.30⅝; oats were ⅛-⅜ higher, May 1.18⅝@1.18½, and May soybeans were up 3 cents, the daily limit, at 3.96. Only the May soybean contract changed hands and dealings in that were light.

Some confusion was caused by reports from Kansas City on the Commodity Credit Corporation's buying campaign. At first it was said the CCC was not following the price upturn in wheat, then that the agency had raised its price and finally that it wasn't accepting wheat at the higher price.

In any case, the amount taken by the Government agency was not believed to be large. Yesterday the CCC bought 1,070,000 bushels at Kansas City and 91,000 at Chicago. None was purchased at Minneapolis.

Truman Asks Party to Back Housing Bill

By Mary Spargo
Post Reporter

President Truman yesterday asked Democratic leaders in Congress to give strong support to the long-range bipartisan Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill now before the Senate.

The measure, which the Senate started to debate yesterday, calls for an annual expenditure of approximately 200 million dollars a year to provide some 1,500,000 new homes a year for 10 years.

Senator Robert A. Taft (R.,O.) who together with Senators Allen J. Ellender (D.,La.) and Robert Wagner (D., N. Y.) sponsored the measure, is leading the drive to get the bill through the Senate.

Senator Alben Barkley (D., Ky.), Senate Democratic leader, said the acute housing shortage makes passage of the TEW bill imperative.

"The President is very much interested in getting this long-range program into operation as soon as possible," Barkley declared. "He said the situation is still acute. We told him we hoped to pass it through the Senate Monday or Tuesday."

Barkley together with Representative Sam Rayburn (D., Tex) went to the White House with the minority members of the House Banking and Currency Committee to hear the President plead for action on housing.

The meeting was called after the President had been informed that there was considerable opposition among Democrats as well as Republicans—particularly in the House—to housing legislation.

Senate acceptance of the measure is believed likely but the House Banking and Currency Committee has bottled up the legislation.

Approximately 125 House members have signed a petition to discharge the committee and a drive is under way to obtain the other signatures to make up the required 218.

Senate backers of the bill have another strategy at hand also to force House action. One section of the TEW bill would extend through next March the Government's authority to insure home loans. The House already has passed a measure simply continuing that authority.

If Chairman Jesse Wolcott (R., Mich.) of the Housing Banking group will not agree to act promptly on the TEW measure, Senate backers plan to make the TEW bill an amendment to the House-passed home insurance bill.

This would immediately by-pass both the Banking and Currency and the House Rules Committee, and send both measures to conference, where a compromise might be worked out.

Writer's Lawyer Faces Trial Himself

Accuses Judge of Improper Question And Is Assured Action for Contempt

By Dillard Stokes
Post Reporter

A defense lawyer in the "Hollywood Communism case" faced a contempt of court trial last night, for charging Justice Edward M. Curran—to his face—with improper conduct.

These fireworks topped off three days of bitter wrangling in the District Court, where movie writer John Howard Lawson is on trial. He is accused of refusing to tell Congress whether he was a Communist Party member.

Lawson admits he was asked this question at a hearing of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. But he claims he was thrown out of the hearing before he got around to answering it.

Thomas First Witness

The committee chairman—Representative J. Parnell Thomas (R., N. J.) was the first witness called yesterday by Prosecutor William Hitz. Thomas read the court the record of the hearing, at which Lawson accused the committee of trying to censor the movies, of building up a Communist scare as the Nazis did, of trying to get people the committee didn't like discharged from their jobs and of denying him his rights as a citizen. While this was going on, Lawson was asked two or three times whether he was, or ever had been, a Communist. He was still making his charges, but had not given an answer, when Chairman Thomas told an officer to put him off the witness stand.

Justice Curran asked Thomas what the committee was investigating, and Thomas said, the infiltration of communism into the movie business.

Calls Question Improper

Soon afterward, Defense Counsel Ben Margolis told Curran that this question by the court was highly improper. Curran's eyebrows went up.

"Are you serious about that?" he asked.

Margolis said he certainly was.

"Then as soon as this trial is over," the justice snapped, "I'll take up the question of your being in contempt of court."

The jurors, although they were only a few feet away, did not know of the clash. Having been told not to read the newspapers, or listen to radio news, they will not learn of it until after they have given their verdict.

Margolis clashed, too, with Prosocutor Hitz. The defense lawyer asked Chairman Thomas if it was true he once called Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt "a Sinatra in pants," that he once said it was Unamerican to support the New Deal and that he said communism, fascism and the New Deal were the same thing. Each time, Hitz objected, and Justice Curran ruled out the question. Hitz then said he didn't think the defense counsel believed his questions were proper.

Judge Excludes Questions

"I charge that is misconduct," Margolis flared, "and I ask that the jury be instructed to disregard it."

Curran brushed this aside and asked if Margolis had more questions on the same line. Margolis said he had many questions to ask Thomas, to show that the Congressman was prejudiced and was out to harm Lawson and other movie notables.

"They are all excluded," the justice told him.

Besides these clashes, defense counsel so far have accused Curran of being an unfair judge and have tried to make the charge stick in the United States Court of Appeals here. They also have called the District jury system unfair and irregular and witnesses before the Thomas Committe liars and perjurers.

As the court rose yesterday, Curran ruled that the question that was asked Lawson was pertinent to the committee's investigation. The defense claims this question ought to be put up to the jury.

Grand Jury Gets 'Numbers' Data; Few Indictments Cited by Law Officials

other cases, the usual penalty was a $50 fine.

A half dozen others waived jury trial and elected to be tried by the judge alone. In four cases, an acquittal judgment was won. In the other two, fines of between $50 and $250 were the result.

In 13 instances, the United States attorney's office directed a nolle prossequi of all cases against refendants. In virtually all cases reaching the District Court certain counts of indictments were voluntarily dropped in compromise measures to obtain guilty verdice on other counts.

Division of Cases

The District Court tries the more serious numbers cases such as operating a lottery, which is classified as a felony. Municipal Court handles the misdemeanor of possession of numbers slips.

No obvious difference could be discerned in the type of sentences handed numbers violators in the two courts.

In District Court, a monopoly appeared to have developed between a defense attorney and one judge in disposing of cases.

Justice Alexander Holtzoff, outspoken foe of giving jail sentences to the "little man of the racket" until police bring in the "big shots," handled 34 out of 41 cases in the District Court.

Preference for Holtzoff

The attorneys maneuvered cases to get them before Justice Holtzoff. In case after case, the record shows not guilty pleas entered before Justices David A. Pine, Edward M. Curran and Richmond B. Keech. These same cases were disposed of later by a guilty plea before Justice Holtzoff. Attorneys who obtain permission from a judge can plead clients guilty before that judge, even though the case may be originally assigned elsewhere.

Attorney Denny Hughes handled 18 of the numbers cases appearing in District Court.

In District Court, Justice Holtzoff sent one man to jail, Justice Pine jailed two as did Justice Curran. None of the sentences was for more than a year.

In Municipal Court, Judge Armond W. Scott caused one man to be jailed, as did Judges George D. Neilson and John P. McMahon. The sentences varied between 30 and 60 days.

Prayer and Quiet Advised

New York (U.P.).—The city would be quieter—and perhaps better—if motorists followed the suggestion of Dr. Norman Vincent Peale in a sermon at the Marble Collegiate Reformed Church. He said that instead of honking their horns while waiting for a traffic light to change, the taxicab drivers, bus operators and motorists should rest and pray.

Little Hen Takes Walk And Finds Way Home

Exeter, Calif. (U.P.). — Pigeons aren't the only birds with a homing instinct. A hen owned by Ralph Biaz proved that.

This little hen walked home—seven miles.

When her owner planned to be away on a trip, he took the hen to another ranch for safekeeping. The chicken was put in the same yard with a flock of turkey hens, which gave the newcomer a rough reception.

The little hen vanished one day. Five days later, tired and bedraggled, she showed up again in the yard of the Biaz home.

Phils Snap Nats' 1-Game Winning Streak, 7 to 1

This Morning

—With Shirley Povich

CHARLOTTE, N. C., APRIL 14—Joe Kuhel is $100 poorer today as a result of a slight case of mistaken identity yesterday. The umpire, short, stocky and rabbit-eared, tuned in on the name-calling from the Nats' bench and got his stations mixed. He wheeled and thumbed Kuhel out of the game, but the real culprit went unpunished.

POVICH

The latter fact is never of any disturbing importance to the umpire, any umpire. As long as he puts somebody out of the ball game, the majesty of the umpiring profession is preserved. It is written in the umpire's code that better ten innocent men feel the lash than one umpire be exposed to ridicule.

The $100 fine that Kuhel must pay for being thrown out of an exhibition game is automatic. It's a recent rule of baseball, from which there is no appeal. The commissioner's office wrote it, because ball players were getting away with murder in the spring, before the umpires were given authority to crack down. It's a greater baseball sin now to dispute an umpire in the spring than during the regular season, when there is no mandatory fine for being thrown out of the game.

BALL PLAYERS HAVE been wronged by umpires before in cases similar to Kuhel's and they are never flabbergasted when the umpire selects an innocent victim, as did George Moriarty several years back in Detroit. Moriarty was getting a fearful riding from the Washington bench and his neck was getting redolent with anger. Finally he stomped into the Nat's dugout and waved out of the game Treddie Sington, the only Washington player who had said nothing.

The players have a standard cat-call for the thin-skinned umpire who may be the object of their razzing. If he turns to warn them, they always let him have it with "You always could hear better than you can see." That and "Rabbit Ears." It doesn't make any difference to an umpire even if they say it with a smile.

According to the ball players, all umpires are thin-skinned, some more sensitive than others, but none of them can take it. But how much is an umpire supposed to take? If you don't think a gang of ball players can get nasty from the bench, you haven't been around the bench.

THE WORST UMPIRES as far as getting into trouble with the fans and players are, well, simply the worst umpires. The good ones like Bill McGowan and Bill Summers, get along pretty well simply because they call them so well, they don't get into so many jams. The more inept umpires need a sense of humor, or they're in trouble with everybody.

What makes an umpire pompous anyway? Most of 'em are, like the one who got sore at the fans in a South Carolina town the other day, and did big league baseball no service with his crack about "you jerks down here will still be eating grits for a long time while I'm eating steaks." If Commissioner Chandler had been in the stands, he'd have fined him.

And what's so sacred about umpires. They're entitled to make honest mistakes, but they don't deserve the security in the jobs that they've been getting. Umpires ought to be fired for incompetency, just like ball players and baseball writers, but few of them are. With most big league umpires, it's a life job unless they feel like retiring.

I'VE ALWAYS THOUGHT that the big leagues were slow in firing umpires because it would be an admission that they had hired an incompetent guy in the first place. There's no suspicion that umpires are dishonest, but any day there's evidence that they don't know how to call 'em right.

The umpires have a wonderful sweep of authority. They are the absolute autocrats of the ball game on all matters of umpiratical judgment. It may be just a face-to-face exchange between a ball player and an umpire with their words carrying no farther than 10 feet, but why is a player thrown out of the game? Because as the umpire can contend, "the player's actions were inciting a riot."

Tommy Connolly the boss of American League umpires who was the best of his time and rarely found himself in a jam, tabbed the chief weakness of the present crop the other day. "They don't know how to smile," he said.

Cards Beat Cubs, 9-4, Sweep Series

Houston, April 14 (AP).—The St. Louis Cardinals spotted the Chicago Cubs a four-run lead here today and then rallied to gain a 9-4 victory and a clean sweep of the three game series between the National League rivals here.

All of the Chicago runs came off Harry Brecheen, who worked seven innings for the Red Birds. Victim of three and four-run Cardinal innings in the second and seventh frames was young Bob Rush. Reliefer Don Carlsen was touched for a two-run homer by Enos Slaughter in the eighth. Red Schoendienst, Nippy Jones and Joe Garagiola also drove in a brace of runs for the Cardinals.

Indians Win; Kerr KO'd

Topeka, Kans., April 14 (AP).—With a big five-run inning to help their cause, the Cleveland Indians defeated the New York Giants, 7 to 5, to forge ahead, seven games to six, in their cross-country exhibition tour.

Dave Koslo was the victim of the Indians' assault. He yielded one run in the third inning and then lost control and the game in the fifth. Three walks, an error, Jim Hegan's double and three singles produced the Indians' five runs.

Pat Seery hit a solo homer for Cleveland off Joe Beggs in the eighth.

Buddy Kerr, New York shortstop, was knocked unconscious by a ball thrown by Al Clark in the eighth. The ball his him as he was sliding into third base. He recovered and left the field under his own power but was sent to a local hospital for examination.

Yanks Win Road Finale

Indianapolis, Ind., April 14 (AP).—Playing their thirty-fourth and final road exhibition before a chilled crowd of 6150 fans, the New York Yankees edged Indianapolis Indians of the American Association 3-2, today, and then made a quick jump to Detroit to catch a train for New York where they are due tomorrow morning.

It was announced that Pitcher Bill Bevens will rejoin the Yanks Friday when they play at Ebbets Field. His arm is reported improved, after treatment in Baltimore, and workouts with the Baltimore International League Orioles.

Hal Newhouser, in his final tuneup for the Tigers prior to the American League opener, gave just three singles and no runs before giving way to Hal White in the sixth. The Vols bunched five hits for all four runs off White in three frames.

Dodds, Hulse May Race in 'C' Club Meet

Gil Dodds, holder of the world's indoor mile record, and Bill Hulse, America's outdoor mile record holder, may meet May 15 in a special feature of the Central High "C" Club Track Meet at Central Stadium.

Hulse has already accepted an invitation to run. Dodds, the famed "Flying Parson," is being contacted by "C" Club officials through the Young Baptist League of Wheaton College. Dodds, an ordained minister, is affiliated with the Baptist group.

Also definitely entered in the special mile are Tommy Quinn of the New York Athletic Club and Phil Thigpen of Seton Hall College. Quinn, former National A. A. U. mile champ, set the District's outdoor mile record of 4:13.6 at last year's "C" Club Meet. Thigpen won the National A. A. U. 1000-yard run last January.

If Dodds accepts, it will be his first track appearance in Washington. It will also be his first race since early last February when he was stricken by the mumps.

Undefeated in indoor competition since 1943, Dodds set the world's indoor record last January at Madison Square Garden where he circled the 11-lap oval in 4:05.3 Hulse set the national outdoor mile record of 4:06 at Berea, Ohio, in 1943.

Dodds was invited to run against Quinn in last year's "C" Club Meet but declined because of a previous commitment. He promised, however, to make every effort to compete in the 1948 meet.

Bob Newby, secretary of the Alumni "C" Club said last night that the winner of the AAU Olympic mile trials slated for May 4 at the University of Maryland will also beinvited to compete in the special race.

He also reported that although entry blanks haven't been sent out yet for the fifty-first running of the scholastic meet, 22 schools have already filed their entry list.

Ed Sause, Dave Smith, Mort Kane and Ronald Allen are entered in the varsity mile medley relay. Sause runs the 440, Smith the 880, Kane and Allen the 220.

Louis, Walcott Sign (Finally) for Title Bout

By Gayle Talbot

New York, April 14 (AP).—Jersey John Walcott appeared to be the coolest man in a very hot room today while he and Joe Louis were signing to fight again on June 23 at Yankee Stadium.

The veteran Negro scrapper—some contend he's at least 36—sat there under the burning movie lights showing his teeth in a white grin and looking into the champ's eyes as though he owned him.

The official signing, at which each fighter posted a $5000 guarantee that he will show up, took place at the offices of the State Athletic Commission.

Chairman Eddie Eagan sat between the two dusky gladiators as the cameras ground, and eight times by count they reached across his chest and shook hands and pretended to wish each other luck.

No Fear There

Each time Walcott, who thinks he licked Louis the other time they met, last December 5, looked the old Brown Bomber right in the eyes with a sort of impish expression and held it until Louis had enough.

One thing is certain off his showing today: Walcott will never freeze up in his second exposure to the champion, as Billy Conn did. Jersey Joe looks a very resolute character, with every intention of keeping his six children well fed.

Both he and Louis will be able to buy plenty of pork chops off the proceeds of today's document. Louis will get 40 per cent of everything—net receipts, movies, radio and television. Walcott is to receive 20 per cent of receipts, radio and television, and 22½ per cent of the movie money.

A representative of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, which will promote Louis' twenty-fifth title defense, disclosed that movies of the first Louis-Walcott bout already have netted over $700,000 without having fully explored the foreign market.

Training Starts

Both fighters will begin preliminary training at once, Louis at Bloomingdale, Mich., near Kalamazoo, and Walcott at Grenloch Park, near his Camden, N. J., home. Louis and his retinue will shift to Pompton Lakes, N. J., May 18, but Walcott intends to stick to his somewhat remote retreat.

Louis looked today as though he thought he might scale about 225. His face is full, yet his flanks are fairly trim after 96 rounds of exhibition boxing in England. The champ said he expected to scale down to 214-15 for Walcott, as against 211 the last time.

"I'll be heavier and stronger and won't do any of that drying out like last time," he volunteered. "When I catch Jersey Joe this time he won't get away—that much I know."

Walcott, who weighed 194½ for the other bout, said he might come in a pound or two lighter on June 23—possibly indicating that he means to be even fleeter afoot than last time.

Garden State Opens Today, Faces 12 Pct 'Bite'

Camden, N. J., April 14 (AP).—Racing comes back to Garden State tomorrow with the State set to take a bigger bite out of bets.

Feature attraction a this first 1948 meeting at any of New Jersey's three tracks will be the $15,000 added Camden Handicap, a six furlong sprint in which 16 thoroughbreds have been entered.

But also attracting attention is the new tax bill, rushed through the Legislature just in time for this opening. It increases the total take-out from the parimutuel pool to 12 per cent. The former total was 10 per cent. And it sets aside to the State all breakage—the odd pennies of racing.

Abrams, Robinson Get Brain Tests

Chicago, April 14 (AP).—Middleweight Georgie Abrams and Welterweight Champion Ray "Sugar" Robinson were ordered today to take encephalograph tests for brain injury in preparation for their 10-round non-title fight April 21.

Both principals appeared before Dr. John J. Drammis, boxing commission physician, for the first of two prefight physical exams. Drammis said both were in good condition, but he ordered Abrams to take the encephalograph test Saturday and Robinson Monday.

College Games Washed Out

Yesterday's collegiate baseball for the area was a complete washout. The Temple-Maryland game was postponed indefinitely and the Rutgers-Navy game was canceled because of the rain.

George Washington's game at Quantico and Howard's at Fort Belvoir games were postponed until today. And the Catholic University at Washington College contest will be played as part of a doubleheader at Brookland May 28. Also canceled was yesterday's tennis match between Maryland and Navy at Annapolis.

Also on today's slate are a golf match at Annapolis between Duke and the Naval Academy and a tennis match between Maryland and Virginia Tech at Blacksburg, Va.

Bums Farm Al Gionfriddo, '47 Series Star

Brooklyn, April 14 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers sent Outfielders Al Gionfriddo and Cal Abrams to farm clubs today in deals that brought them two new pitchers, John Hall and Dwain Sloat.

Gionfriddo, whose spectacular catch was a feature of the last World Series, was sent to Montreal of the International League outright. Abrams went to Mobile of the Southern Association on option.

Gionfriddo saw limited service with the Dodgers after his acquisition from the Pittsburgh Pirates. In the sixth game of the World Series with the aYnkees he made a sensational stab of Joe DiMaggio's ponderous drive at the left centerfield barrier of Yankee Stadium.

Giants Farm Out Kennedy

Topeka, Kans., April 14 (AP).—The New York Giants today sent Southpaw Pitcher Montie Kennedy to the Minnesota farm club for seasoning, especially so that he could improve his control.

Tribe Options Rosen

Cleveland, April 14 (AP).—The Cleveland Indians today optioned Third Baseman Al Rosen to Kansas City of the American Association.

Coan Slams Two Triples, Single, Drives In Lone Run

By Shirley Povich
Post Reporter

Charlotte, N. C., April 14.—The Nats-Phillies road show hit Charlotte today, without much variation in the script. The Phillies whaled the daylights out of the Nats again, for the fourth time in the five performances since the two clubs left Florida.

Today's score was 7 to 1, and that was a pretty fair index of the relative skills of the two clubs. Three Washington pitchers, Walter Masterson, Forrest Thompson and Tom Ferrick held the Phillies to 15 hits.

Schoolboy Rowe took a quick pre-season workout, and left the game after seven innings. He didn't give up any runs at all. He had the Nats threshing wildly at his soft stuff, knucklers, let-up pitches and fuzzy curve balls. They got their only run when Walter Dubiel, the ex-Yankee, moved into the game in the eighth.

Coan Gets Three Hits

Gil Coan had a fair day. He walloped two well-kissed three baggers, also a single and drove in the Nats' only run, but he wasn't the days top hitter. Del Ennis of the Phillies was Mr. Ennis who has been pounding the Washington pitching ever since the tour started, rapped out four hits in a row this afternoon.

The Nats had little Earl Wooten in center field again, for what ever it may portend, and it may portend that he has ousted Leon Culberson from the job. He walloped a clean tripple to right center in his first time at bat today, and was making fancy catches all over the place.

The Phillies, seemingly weary of being shut out by Masterson for four innings, pounced on him for a 5-0 lead in the fifth. Everything happened to Wasterson, none of it good. The first three things that happened were singles by Caballero, Seminick and Rowe in succession in that fifth. Then Shortstop Sammy Meeks booted one, and then Masterson hit Verban with a pitched ball. Sisler got a humpty-double to left with the bases full, and Masterson retired after walking Ennie. The fifth run scored on Harry Walkers long smash to Wooten, who made a circus catch.

Nats Get Nowhere Fast

The Nats were wastrels in the early innings. Coan tripled to right with two out in the first and nothing came of it, and nothing came of Wooten's triple with two out in the second, either. The Nats didn't get any kind of a run till after Pinchhitter Jay Difani opened the eighth against Dubiel with a single to center. Two outs later Coan scored him with a triple off the right field wall.

Manager Joe Kuhel visited with Buddy Lewis in nearby Gastonia last night but it was no attempt to persuade Lewis to come out of retirement, though the Nats would embrace him eagerly. The Phillies, with an excess of shortstops, have offered to trade their Jack Albright to the Nats for Mickey Haefner. No dice . . . Little Sammy Meeks, who has been getting a shot at the Nots' shortstop job, is fouling himself up with nine hitless trips to the plate in the last two games . . . Del Ennis of the Phillies was in a hitting slump all spring until he shifted to a Joe DiMaggio stance and the pitching of the Nats. Since then he's made 13 hits in 21 appearances against Washington for a .619 figure . . . Charlotte fans, big rooters for the Nats, had little to cheer about today, but they did see Gil Coan leg out two triples, always a treat . . . The Nats tonight spent their fifth consecutive night on their special train and their Florida tan is being repiaced by a Pullman pallor . . . The Phils and Nats take their show to Winston-Salem tomorrow.

Horse Player Loses Again —This Time in N. Y. Court

Albany, N. Y., April 14 (AP).—A suit against the Western Union Telegraph Co. by a woman who claimed a "tip" telegram on a horse race was delivered two days late was thrown out of city court today.

Justice Jacob H. Herzog, in an opinion studded with track terms, declared "the entire cause" of Mrs. Virginia McMenamy "is tainted with the illegality of the wagering contract she alleges she would have made."

Mrs. McMenamy, a department store fitter, had sought damages of $209.73, including $190 she claimed she would have won on a race last August at Washington Park, Ill. She paid $19 for a tip from Baltimore, Md., plus 73 cents for the telegram, she said. She maintained she would have bet $100 "on the nose" had she received the tip in time.

Herzog remarked:

"Who can say she would have bet one dollar, $100 or $1000? Who can say she would have bet 'straigh,' 'show' or 'place' or 'across the board' . . .?"

"There is no such thing as 'a sure thing'," he said.

The Arkansas Supreme Court at Little Rock has a similar case on file in which a plaintiff won a $1182.50 verdict in lower court. A decision on the Arkansas case is not expected before midsummer.

Mets Gets Ace

Virginia Beach, Va., April 14 (AP).—Dick Metz, Kansas golf professional, scored a hole in one today on the eighteenth green at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club while practicing for the specialists tournament to be staged at the course this weekend.

Metz used a No. 3 iron to get his ace on the 200-yard, par three hole. It was the fifth ace of his career.

Navy Windup Today

Annapolis, Md., April 14 (AP).—Light drizzles hampered Navy in its next-to-last spring football practice session today, but academy grid folk were not overly concerned.

Tomorrow's the big day, and they were rubbing their luck charms dutifully to lure good weather.

Trot Races May 1

The first Eastern harness race meeting of the year will open May 1 at Harrington, Del. There will be 20 days of racing.

Bennings Clicks On Five in Row

Bill Bennings, The Washington Post's handicapper, had a big days at Havre de Grace yesterday. He picked the winners of the first five raees, uncluding the $57.80 daily double. Var, winner of the third race, was the long shot with a $22.80 payoff. Other winners and prices were: If You, $5.80; Buddy V, $10; George Case, $9.40, and Whirl Blast, $4.

In case you like to think about such things, a $2 parlay on the five winners would have paid $3109.64.

Bennings' selections for today may be found on Page 18.

Suggs Leads Golf Advance

Pinehurst, N. C., April 14 (AP).—Paced by Louise Suggs of Atlanta, favorites continued to survive the firing in the forty-sixth annual North and South Women's Golf tournament today. The quarter-finals are slated for tomorrow.

Despite unexpected stubborn resistence, Miss Suggs posted a 4 and 3 victory over Mrs. William Hockenjos, jr., veteran Short Hills, N. J., player.

Medalist H. Peggy Kirk had the day's closest call, being extended to the final green before beating off the challenge of 20-year-old Bea McWane of Birmingham, 1 up.

Carol Diringer of Tiffin, Ohio, defeated Pat O'Sullivan, the Connecticut State champion, 3 and 1. Miss Grace Lenczyk of Newington, Conn., scored a 7 and 6 triumph over youthful Mae Murray of Rutland, Vt.

Mrs. J. A. Page of Chapel Hill, N. C., was steadier than hard-hitting Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, and won by 4 and 3. Mrs. Edwin Longcope of Bronxville, N. Y., who ousted Curtis Cupper Jean Hopkins yesterday, was beaten by another Cupper, Helen Sigel of Philadelphia, 5 and 4.

Miss Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., defeated Mrs. John Gossler of Blue Bell, Pa., 4 and 2.

Negro Fighters 'Exploited'

Ike Williams' Australian Trip Opens Barrage on U. S. Boxing

Canberra, Australia, April 14 (AP).—Criticism of United States boxing interests came from two Australian quarters today as California reports of an attempt to bring lightweight champion Ike Williams to Australia were greeted with complete surprise.

Prime Minister J. B. Chifley declared at a news conference that American Negro boxers who come to Australia were being exploited by their managers who remain in the United States.

Discussing the amount of Australian earnings which American fighters can take out of the country in dollars, the Prime Minister said there would be no increase in this figure.

"The fact is," he added, "that many Negro boxers who come to Australia are exploited. They are dumped here like so much baggage. Their managers stay in the States, collecting 50 per cent and never less than 33 per cent of their earnings."

Chifley said boxers can take only 1000 pounds ($4000) in dollars out of the country, adding:

"I told the boxing interests that if a manager came here and did his job, looking after his boxer, he was entitled to take out his share. But I couldn't see that the amount under dollar restrictions should be eased to help managers who exploit Negro boxers' earnings."

In Sydney, meanwhile, officials of Sydney Stadiums, Ltd., said they knew nothing of a renewed attempt, reported in Los Angeles, to match Williams, the world lightweight title holder from Trenton, N. J., with Vic Patrick, Australian champion, or Norman Gent, one of the leading Australian challengers.

Whirlaway's Son Pays $4.00 Mutuel

By Walter Haight
Post Reporter

Havre De Grace, Md., April 14. Calumet Farm's Whirl Blast, going farther out in the stretch than Citation when Saggy beat him here Monday, was the winner of the Pan American, feature of a dismal day at the races.

A son of the mighty Whirlaway and winner of only one previous race, Whirl Blast turned on the heat and won by half length over Mrs. E. H. Augustus' Balmoral. Third money went to A. S. Hammond's Count Display in the field of 11 3-year-olds going 6 furlongs.

Some 7972 customers shivered through the program conducted in a drizzle at a low temperature and over a track that was deeper and heavier than the jungle in the rainy season.

Whirl Blast Moves Outside

Jockey Hedley Woodhouse, who does his Calumet riding without beefing, was aboard Whirl Blast. He had a $4 favorite under him and took him 6 furlongs in 1:16, creditbale time over the plowed field offered for the sport.

Whirl Blast ran a typical "Calumet" race and got away with it. Woodhouse evidently had orders not to risk the expensive colt anywhere in the pack. He made sure the 3-year-old didn't get away any too well and sent him to the outside in safe teritory.

Istan, Sister Leona and Balmoral did the chief early running with Istan, a Brookfield Farms colt, taking the lead at the quarter pole. However, Balmoral developed momentum and displaced Istan to open a good lead. Count Display then moved into second position.

Balmoral Drifts Out

Entering the stretch, Jockey Balzaretti, who later did some fancy manuvering to win with Tumble Boy over Helen Dear, either allowed Balmoral to drift out or took him out. But Whirl Blast, placed to a hand drive came around the bend and made a circle that cost him many lengths.

In the final drive, the handwritting was on the wall. Woodhouse drove Whirl Blast and the youngster showed some of his Whirlaway punch. He was a going-away winner.

The daily double paid $57.80 and the successful combination was "7 and 4." Deane Newmeyer's if You won the first at $5.80 while Mrs. L. M. Carver's Buddy V accounted for the second at $10.

Virginia Gold Cup Tops Card Of Six Races

By Harry De Mawby, Jr.

The renowned Virginia Gold Cup Association's twenty-fourth annual spring races will be run Saturday on the tricky Broadview Course, the estate of Martin Vogel, jr., at the edge of Warrenton, Va.

The feature race, the Virginia Steeplechase, last run as the famous Virginia Grand National in 1936 will be over a modified brush course of 2 miles for a purse of $1200 added.

The water jumps and liverpool remain unchanged and should furnish dramatic entertainment for the thousands expected. The horses leap over 5-foot obstacles to span 20 feet of brush and water.

The remainder of the card consists of The Warrenton Turf, ¾-mile on the flat; The Fauquier Plate, 1¾ miles over hurdles; The Broadview, 2 miles over brush; The Virginia Horseman's Association Plate, 1½ miles on the flat; and The Old Dominion, 1¼ miles over hurdles.

Post time for the first race is 2:00 p. m.

Nationally known stables such as those of Ambrose Clark Alvin Untermyer, Paul Mellon, Mrs. E. Dupont Weir, Mrs. Stephen Clark, Richard Mellon, and Thomas Gay will send their horses over the completely refurbished brush and hurdle courses for $5000 in purses and the 12-silver trophies offered by the Virginia Gold Cup and United Hunts Racing Associations.

Trials to Be Held at Md. On May 4

By Jack Walsh
Post Reporter

Area track talent in this Olympic year is about the best Dorsey Griffith remembers around these parts in the 22 years he's been coaching Catholic University.

The veteran mentor, co-chairman of the District AAU-Olympic trial to be held at the University of Maryland, May 4, thinks a half-dozen or more entrants are capable of performing well enough to qualify for a further test at Milwaukee in late June.

The local trial, a twilight affair beginning at 5 p. m., is the first of four events being held to help raise funds for financing American athletes at the Olympic games.

Collegiate entrants are expected to dominate the meet which includes eight track and six field events. At the moment, Griffith thinks Maryland's Ed Matthews has the best chance of going on to a berth on the American Olympic team.

Matthews, a 400-meter hope, twice has been caught by Coach Jim Kehoe under 49 seconds for the 440-yard dash.

Matthews is going to make a determined effort to make the Olympic squad—if he doesn't as a 400-meter man, he plans to try the hop, skip and jump event.

Among others Griffith thinks have potentialities are Georgetown's Bill Mitchell, hurdler; Ed Sause, dash man, and Dave Smith, half-miler. Maryland's crack squad boasts George McGowan, a sprinter, and Ike Eichhorn, javelin and discus thrower.

Eichhorn, holder of the Southern Conference javelin record, had a 195-foot 9-inch heave against Navy in the first dual meet the Terps ever won over the Sailors.

From Howard University, Griffith likes Charley Jupiter, crack sprinter, who has placed in the AAU Nationals and the Penn Relays.

Another Howard standout is Henry Bright, distance runner.

A speedy youngster who may upset the dope in the dashes is Marcellus Boston, 17-year old Cardozo High star. Boston won the national schoolboy indoor 60-yard dash in 6.5.

G. W. High Lays Claim to U. S. Rifle Crown on '48 Record

By Herb Heft
Post Reporter

George Washington High of Alexandria, winner of the Northern Virginia football and basketball championships, is claiming even greater laurels for its rifle team.

Lieut. Col. George A. Price, G. W.'s rifle team coach says his quintet is the best scholastic team in the Nation. He bases his claim on G. W.'s perfect record in 15 dual matches this year, plus first places in the Hearst Trophy Sectional, Second Army Shoot, National Rifle Association Sectional, and the Marine Corps Rifle Club Invitational.

The only counter-evidence to Price's claim is G. W.'s fourth place finish in the United States National Rifle Association Tournament in which 350 schools participated. Napa, Calif., won the tourney, 10 points ahead of G. W.

"But I still claim we habe the best in the Nation," says Patrick, "They'd have to beat us shoulder to shoulder before I'd believe otherwise."

The five regular shots on the G. W. team are Co-Captains Edgar Lee and Dave Gates, and Robert Baker, Jack Barton and Hubert Clark. All learned to shoot from Patrick in their first year. They are all seniors.

Houston (Tex) Jones, who hurled two no-hitters and three one-hitters at Coolidge in 1946 and '47, has been converted into a third baseman by the Brooklyn Dodgers, with whom he signed last January. Tex is at the Dodgers' farm club base at Vero Beach, Fla., and is hitting .333

An Outstanding Year in Metropolitan's History

1947 was one of the best years in the history of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

"The Company's financial position was excellent. More Metropolitan policyholders than ever before enjoyed the blessings of life insurance. Through investments, the Company played a bigger role than in any preceding year in helping to keep the wheels of industry turning . . . to provide jobs and homes . . . and to maintain high standards of living.

"However, the year was not without its problems. Insurance costs were higher because of lower interest rates, and because of the prevalent increase in the cost of goods and services."

President Leroy A. Lincoln reported these facts in his account of the Company's 1947 activities in a motion picture entitled "Pages From An Open Book." Here are some other important facts about 1947 presented by Mr. Lincoln:

—Payments to policyholders and beneficiaries totalled $671,000,000—topping all records.

—More than 2,300,000 people bought Metropolitan policies during the year. The total of Metropolitan policyholders reached 32,384,000.

—At the year-end, policyholders owned a total of $37,250,000,000 of Metropolitan protection—the greatest amount in the Company's history.

—Metropolitan will pay in 1948 somewhat more in dividends to policyholders than in 1947, although there will be downward adjustments for certain classes of business.

Mr. Lincoln also reported that last year a committee representing all State Insurance Departments completed, as required by law, a periodic examination of Metropolitan. In their conclusions, the examiners reported:

"The examination of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company indicates that it is in a sound financial condition."

"Policy claims are paid promptly, and fair and equitable treatment has been accorded the policyholders."

Metropolitan's Annual Report for 1947, which is entitled "Pages From An Open Book," contains much additional information about the Company's operations. If you would like to have this booklet, fill in and mail the coupon below. A copy will be sent to you without charge.

Air Forces to Get Part of Adjutant General's Office

AGO: The Army's Adjutant General's Office will be split up and part of it will be transferred to the Air Forces. An order dividing it has been drawn and awaits the signature of Defense Secretary Forrestal. The AF is slated to get a piece of the Army's Judge Advocate General's Office at a later date.

NSRB: The National Security Resources Board is making plans for a possible wartime Federal Government. It has let a contract with a private management firm to study and recommend what sort of a Government we should have in wartime.

The records of all World War II emergency wartime agencies are being studied, with emphasis on the coordination, or lack of it, between them. The board will be moved soon from the Pentagon to the old State Building.

BUDGET BUREAU: It must cut off about 50 employes before June 30. The budget of this agency was cut about $200,000 by Congress under what it has for this fiscal year.

ECA: Applications for jobs are now being accepted by the Economic Cooperation Administration. You can get an application, file it, and be interviewed (if you wait long enough), by going to the third floor of the new building under construction at Connecticut ave. and H st. nw.

Walter Rhinehart, departmental personnel director of Veterans, yesterday joined the ECA personnel office on a temporary assignment. Gaston Mark is acting information director. Paul Hoffman borrowed him from his company, Studebaker. Carl Blaisdell, on loan from National Defense, is chief of administrative services. Sam Board, also in personnel, is on loan from State.

NOTES: Henry Buckhardt, who resigned from Civil Service to run for Congress in Illinois, was swamped in Tuesday's primary. Representative Mason beat him about 3 to 1 for the GOP nomination . . . Julia S. Stevens, a typist in Archives' cataloging division, has been given an award for superior accomplishment . . . The Senate has approved the bill to transfer Federal credit unions to the Federal Security Agency.

JOBS: An exam for firefighters at Bolling Air Force Base has been announced by Civil Service. The jobs pay from $2469 to $3648 to start . . . Exams for machinist and laborer are open for jobs at the Naval Powder Factory at Indian Head, Md. Machinist jobs pay $10.56 a day, and $6.40 for laborers . . . An exam for instructor with the Federal Bureau of Prisons is now open.

ARMY: Secretary Royall yesterday ordered the right to appeal to a security review board for any and all employes who are fired on disloyalty charges. He retains the final say on all disloyalty cases, his constitutional right. The Army regulations make no provision for appeals to the Civil Service loyalty review board. Its employes are covered by a special law which gives the Secretary broad and sweeping authority to fire any employe in the interest of national security.

AGRICULTURE: The House has approved a bill to set up a laboratory to study foot and mouth disease. The laboratory is to be isolated. The employes in it would be isolated, too. They would have to agree, prior to appointment, to accept many restrictions so as to prevent the escape of the deadly virus. The committee report suggested that the employes chosen should not have family obligations.

To compensate in part for their restrictions, the House bill would permit salaries of $15,000 to be paid to each of five scientists. Also, no employe in the lab would be under Civil Service and the Classification Act and Agriculture could pay them what it pleased.

REVENUE: Commissioner George Schoeneman of Internal Revenue came to the defense of his 50,000 employes when he testified before the Senate Appropriations Committee. He testified in part:

"I am thoroughly confident that there is no just basis for the charge that there is much wasting of time and lack of discipline on the part of Revenue employes. It's my earnest conviction that the personnel of the bureau, viewed in the aggregate, is as honest, faithful, conscientious, and fine a group of public servants as has ever been assembled. I wish to affirm publicly my complete personal confidence in the diligence and integrity of the staff.

"In any organization of nearly 50,000 persons, it's inevitable that a few will turn out to be incompetent or neglectful of duty, or, in rare cases, even dishonest. We have always had occasional cases of this sort of doubtless we always shall. But these cases are isolated and rare. For every drone, there are literally hundreds of persons who give substantially more than 40 hours a week to their jobs, without any thought of overtime pay."

And then Schoeneman made this key point: "The wonder is," he said, "that we do have so many faithful and hardworking employes in face of the low rates of pay they receive."

Incidentally, the Joint Congressional Committee on Taxation soon will release a report on its investigation of Revenue. It's a good bet that it will be a constructive and honest report on the agency. It should embarrass the people who got up that unfair report on Revenue for the House Appropriations Committee.

Shooting of 2 To Be Probed By Grand Jury

Wide Implications May Result From Brass Rail Fracas

A Federal grand jury is scheduled Friday to begin probing into circumstances of a double-shooting which may have "extensive implications."

Actual participants in the shooting, according to police reports, were Charles Henry Nelson, 39, of 1803 H st. ne., shot in the right chest, and Henry M. Leake, 39, of 104 R st. ne., shot in the back.

The "altercation" took place about 2:30 a.m., January 8, in the Brass Rail, 1739 7th st. nw., after the establishment was closed for business. Court records indicate the case has been continued five times in Municipal Court.

Both men were hospitalized at Freedmen's where Leake was placed under police guard and charged with assault with a dangerous weapon. Subsequently Leake swore out a warrant against Nelson for assault with a dangerous weapon.

United States Attorney Morris Fay when questioned by a reporter yesterday, declined to comment about the case beyond saying:

"I know about it but am not in a position to discuss it since it is pending before a grand jury."

Police records show Leake was fined $100 for permitting gaming in 1935 and sentenced to 90 days in jail in 1937 for operating a lottery.

Specialists On Cancer Meet Today

The American Association for the Study of Neoplastic Diseases will convene in annual meetings here today at Garfield Memorial Hospital.

The conferences of cancer specialists will continue through Saturday noon, principally at the hospital's Kellogg building, with pathologists, radiologists and surgeons attending.

Tonight, at 8, a special symposium will be held on the work of tumor clinics and values of present-day cancer tests. Dr. Calvin T. Klopp, 4621 Glenbrook pky, Bethesda, Md., will be chairman.

A special session for discussion of cancers of the breast will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow. Scheduled speakers include Dr. Jay McLean, cancer chief for the District Health Department, and Drs. H. H. Kerr and Dewitt E. DeLawter, all of this city.

Saturday's morning session will be devoted to discussions on endocrines and the growth and development of tumors. Election of officers of the 15-year-old organization will be held before adjournment.

Doubted Detective

Judge Owes An Apology, Barrett Hints

Police Chief Robert J. Barrett yesterday put out feelers for an apology from Municipal Court Judge Ellen K. Raedy to clear the courtroom record of a detective.

A report submitted to Barrett by Vice Squad Lieut. Roy Blick has cleared Detective Warren A. Dalrymple, whose testimony in a recent lottery case was discredited by Judge Raedy. The charges in the numbers case were dismissed.

According to a transcript of the trial, Judge Raedy told Dalrymple "I don't believe you" after the detective had testified the lottery defendant had admitted he worked for a well-known numbers operator.

Although Blick's report to Barrett said Judge Raedy had already made a private apology, she denied this yesterday. "At the time . . . I heard the case I though it an improbable story," she told The Washington Post.

"I have not apologized."

Chief Barrett said he had not contacted Judge Raedy. She confirmed that statement.

Barrett, convinced that "Dalrymple told the truth," said he had no comment to make on a public apology.

"However," he added, "I personally feel it should be settled in the same way it started. If Dalrymple were to work under the cloud of not having told the truth, every lawyer would bring that up in every case in which he appeared."

Invntor Must Turn Over Rights to U. S.

An Arlington County engineer yesterday was ordered in Alexandria District Court to turn over to the Federal Government patent rights on four inventions he made while a wartime employe of the Army Signal Corps.

The Government claimed William Kober, 1820 N. Nash st., Alexandria made the inventions in the course of his work and that "public interest demands" they should be owned and controlled by the War Department. The Government claimed Kober had greed to assign patent rights on any inventions to the Government.

Kober invented four engine accessories, the Government stated, and tried to obtain patents on two of them for himself. The Government further charged he had refused to assign any of them to the Government.

Kober claimed he had produced the inventions in his spare time and always has signed over all rights except royalties from commercial use. He noted an appeal from the decision of Judge Albert V. Bryant to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Palestine Protest Set Here Today

2 Jewish Groups Allege Petitioners For Policy Change Are Red-Inspired

With police alerted to prevent violence thousands of petitioners are scheduled to descend on Washington today in a mass effort to effect a change in this Nation's Palestine policy when the U. N. General Assembly convenes tomorrow.

A Metropolitan Police riot squad of 50 men, under Inspector Lloyd Kelly, will be available today if needed, and members of the police subversive squad will be on duty.

Leaders Expect 7000

Meanwhile, additional charges that the display is Communist-concocted to make political capital of Zionism came yesterday from two more groups, the Jewish War Veterans of the United States and the American Jewish League Against Communism.

Some of the delegates coming here in the name of the United Committee to save the Jewish state and the United Nations began arriving last night, while about 3000 are due in Union Station before noon today.

Leaders say they expect about 7000 persons in the "pilgrimage," from dozens of organizations. The group is scheduled to visit the White House, State Department, Congress, and Democratic and Republican National Committees. A mass rally is set for 3:30 p. m. at Turner's Arena, with Senator Gien H. Taylor (D., Idaho) scheduled to speak.

Brush Off Charges

Representatives of the committee yesterday brushed off charges that the display was conceived by Communists. A cochairman of the group, Ben Gold, is a member of the Communist Party's national committee and president of the International Fur and Leather Workers (CIO).

"Communists are represented—so what?" declared Jules Paris, New York organizer of the undertaking.

Previously, the American Jewish Congress announced it had declined an invitation to the gathering, and Representative Abraham J. Multer, Brooklyn Democrat, and a Zionist, said the march on the Capitol was a "Communist tactic" to confuse the issue.

Brig. Gen. Julius Klein, national commander of the Jewish War Veterans, said yesterday the JWV "is satisfied that the sponsors of the . . . demonstration . . . are not primarily concerned either with the interests of the United States or the welfare and security of the Jewish people of Palestine," but were seeking "political capital."

Called "Gromyko Zionists"

He said communism is using the Palestine crisis "to pose as the friend and defender of oppressed minority people."

Rabbi Benjamin Schultz, executive director of the American Jewish League Against Communism, said he sent telegrams to Senator Vandenberg, Speaker of the House Martin and the White House warning that the "pilgrims" do not represent either the Zionist movement or the Jewish people.

"We call these people 'Gromyko Zionists,'" he said. They became so-called Zionists only on October 13, 1947, at 4 p. m., when Gromyko declared for the Jewish state and partition."

Senate Votes Year's Extension Of Rent Control for District

Transient Hotel Ceilings Removed In Bill Sent to House for Action

The Senate voted yesterday to extend District rent control, with some modifications, to March 31, 1949.

The bill now goes to the House. Representative Joseph P. O'Hara (R., Minn.), chairman of the House District Judiciary Subcommittee, which will handle it, predicted early approval of the Senate measure, although possibly with minor changes.

Senator C. Douglass Buck (R., Del.), District Committee chairman, steered the rent bill to Senate passage after Senator Wayne Morse (R., Oreg.) withdrew the objection that blocked the bill Monday. He explained that his questions about the bill had been satified by further study and by a conference with Senator Buck.

The bill takes present rent controls off transient hotel rooms on April 30 but continues the control of hotel rooms occupied by perament guests.

Also removed from controls April 30 would be nonhousekeeping rooms in private homes where there are not more than two paying guests.

The controls would be removed, too, on April 30 from housing accommodations which have reached the market since March 31, either as the result of new construction or reconversion.

Washington's present rent control law is good through April 30.

What Do You See in This Picture . . .?

PSYCHOLOGICAL TEST—Prospective ministers and professional church workers of the Washington City Presbytery now must pass a "picture preference" test to qualify for their vocations. The applicant must write a 150-word story on his reaction to such a picture as this

Shot Father 'With Woman,' Boy, 13, Says

Man Near Death After Noontime Attack in Home

A boy of 13 told police yesterday he had shot his father, whom he said he found entertaining a woman.

The father, Bennie Nesbitt, sr., 36, cab driver, was near death last night at Freedmen's Hospital, wounded in the abdomen.

The boy told police he returned home at 3101 Sherman ave. nw, for lunch from the Monroe School about noon, indignant about a recent whipping, and his father's refusal to allow him to ride a bicycle.

"I Fired Two Times"

"I saw a strange women there, so I got a gun out of a bureau drawer," the boy related. "He jumped up and told me to put it down—then I fired two times."

One shot from the .32 caliber revolver took effect. Police, called by a neighbor who was told of the shooting by the visitor, found the youth crouched in a nearby alley, the gun tucked into his belt.

Estranged Mother

Police reported the estranged mother is living in Rutherfordton, N. C., wiht two of her other children. The boy was turned over to the Receiving Home pending Juvenile Court action.

He left his mother and came to live with his father in February, neighbors said. At school he was always "very cheerful and cooperative and socially mature, though retarded in studies because of his rural school background," Monroe principal Mrs. Edna Gray stated.

Neighbors knew the boy as a "gentlemanly little fellow" who ran errands, shined shoes and collected old papers to sell for pocket money.

Dizzy? Blush? Presbytery To Ask Pastors

Do you blush easily?

Have you ever had spells of dizziness?

Do jeers humiliate you, even when you know you're right?

These are some of the 400 queries in the first section of the psychological tests which prospective clergymen and other professional church workers now must pass to qualify for positions in the Washington City Presbytery.

The questions on blushing, jeers and dizziness are under "Personality Inventory," according to Dr. Edward L. R. Elson, pastor of the National Presbyterian Church, and chairman of the presbytery's Committee on Church Vocations.

Under the same classification, to which candidates must answer "yes" or "no," are the following:

Do you day-dream frequently? Does it make you uncomfortable to be different or unconventional? Are you easily moved to tears? Do you usually enjoy spending an evening alone? Do you find it difficult to speak in public? Do you feel self-conscious in the presence of superiors in the business or economic world? Do athletics interest you more than intellectual affairs? Can you stand criticism without feeling hurt? Do ideas often run through your head so you cannot sleep?

Under the heading of "Picture Preference," applicants are asked to write a 150-word story, based on their reactions to pictures shown them.

"These tests are all designed to help gain a clearer insight into the personalities of candidates which will make for better-adapted leadership and for more effective administration of churches and other religious institutions," Dr. Elson says.

Queries in the first section have already been mailed 20 candidates. The second section of the test will be given June 11 at the National Presbyterian Church, 18th and N sts. nw.

Dirksen Fears D. C. Sales Tax Is Unavoidable

School Construction Can't Be Postponed, House Unit Head Says

Representative Everett M. Dirksen (R., Ill.) said yesterday he believes a sales tax for the District now "is unavoidable."

Dirksen, chairman of the House District Committee, made the prediction to reporters after an informal conference with Representative Walt Horan (R., Wash.), chairman of the House subcommittee in charge of the 102-million-dollar city budget for next year.

Horan has strongly urged adoption of a sales tax in the District as the only measure for increasing District revenues to the point where they will carry an adequate city budget.

No Budget Cuts Expected

District Commissioners felt the same way in presenting their budget. They built it on the idea that six million dollars of the total would be raised next year by a 2 per cent general retail sales tax.

Dirksen said it would be Horan's job to present the budget that the city needs and that "we'll take up from there the question of the necessary revenue."

Horan has consistently discounted the possibility of cutting the budget to any great extent. There are some indications that the budget his group will recommend will run above the Commissioner's proposals. Any excess would probably be less than a million dollars—unless a Federal employe pay raise bill is approved, and District salaries are hiked too. Then the excess over the budget might run to another six million dollars or more—in addition to the six million by which the present budget exceeds revenue from present law.

"Must Build Schools Now"

Horan indicated yesterday it will be possible to report a District budget bill—the way the Commissioners prepared their budget—on the assumption that a sales tax bill will be passed.

Meanwhile, Representative George J. Bates (R., Mass.) chairman of the House District Fiscal Affairs subcommittee in immediate charge of the city revenue legislation, remained uncommitted but open-minded on the sales tax. He has opposed it as the least desirable kind of tax, and one to be adopted only as a last resort, but has left the way open for it to be considered.

He renewed his call for a reduction of the budget by at least two million dollars by postponing capital construction plans. Dirksen said he felt Bates' idea of holding down expenses that could be postponed was sound.

But Dirksen added that some construction could not be postponed, particularly the schools that are needed for the bumper crop of war babies that are now reaching the classrooms.

Discussion will focus on "The Role of Modern Dance" in recreation programs, with Miss Evelyn Davis, director of the Washington Dance Playhouse, as the main speaker.

Randle Citizens Plan Drive on Jap Beetle

Randle Highlands Citizens Association, meeting last night at Randle Highlands School, 30th and R sts. se., formed plans to arouse its community to fight the Japanese beetle.

Audit Planned For Business Tax Returns

Tax returns filed by owners of unincorporated businesses in the District will be subjected to a thorough audit, Assessor Edward A. Dent warned yesterday.

His statement came after tax officials estimated that only 8 to 10 per cent of approximately 5000 returns filed indicated any tax payment due.

"I would be surprised if only 8 per cent are taxable after we get through auditing them," he said.

Members of his staff also make a city-wide survey to ferret out owners who failed to file returns on unincorporated businesses, he revealed. All income tax returns will be checked for indications that income was obtained through such business operations.

Approximately 1500 persons passed through tax lines yesterday, Tax Collector Guy Pearson estimated. He said his office will remain open to 4:45 p.m. today—an hour later than usual—to accommodate late filers.

Dent predicted a last-minute rush to beat the midnight deadline tonight.

"We've always had the longest line on the last day," he said.

Returns postmarked before midnight will beat the deadline.

Today Is Deadline For Tax Payments

Annapolis, Md., April 14 (AP).—Maryland opened its wallet today as the tax collector prepared to cut his annual slice of State income.

Tomorrow at midnight is the deadline for filing State income tax returns. Marylanders and those who work or do business in Maryland must pay up.

Eight sacks of mail bulging with tax returns arrived here today for the State income tax division. Even heavier mails are expected tomorrow.

State Comptroller James J. Lacy in Baltimore promised a "vigorous" drive "to seek out" those who refuse to pay.

Although the State income tax has been in force since 1937, Lacy estimated that some 40,000 "willful tax dodgers" have evaded payment over the years.

Tax dodgers are subject to a $500 fine, six months in jail, or both.

For individuals, the tax is 2 per cent of earned income and 5 per cent of unearned or investment income. After automatic deductions, a single man making $3000 pays $32.

For corporations, the tax is 1½ per cent of income.

Floods Hit 8 States, Thousands Homeless

Chicago, April 14 (AP).—Turbulent rivers flooded towns and lowlands in eight States today, driving thousands of persons from their homes and thrusting the Ohio River Valley into a state of emergency.

Property damage ran into the millions of dollars. The floods hit West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Florida, Minnesota and North Dakota.

The Red Cross reported 3880 families have been evacuated from their homes in the States hit by flood waters of the Ohio River and its tributaries.

The Army is sending cots, blankets and food to 29 emergency shelters established by the Red Cross in the area. The Coast Guard is aiding in evacuating families from their homes.

The Red River between Minnesota and North Dakota was the highest in 51 years.

The Suwanee River continued to flood areas in Florida.

The Ohio and Red Rivers rose rapidly and the Suwanee swelled slowly at some points. Many of their tributaries were over their banks.

The situation in the Ohio River Valley was serious. Throughout its length, the Ohio was 4 to 6 feet above flood stage. Crests of from 10 to 13 feet above flood stage were predicted at some cities by Friday or Saturday.

President Truman ordered Federal surplus personal property made available for flood relief in eastern and southern Kentucky, along the Big Sandy River and its tributaries.

Marietta, Ohio., Taylorville, Ky., Point Pleasant, W. Va., were largely under water.

Roads in southern Indiana and southern Ohio were covered by water.

At Point Pleasant, W. Va., a crest of 13 feet above flood stage was predicted by tomorrow night. At Aurora, Ind., the Ohio rose 6 feet today and was expected to climb another 6 feet by tomorrow.

Rain fell Wednesday in West Virginia, eastern Ohio and adjoining Pennsylvania. Forecasters said, however, the outlook for the Ohio Valley was for fair weather.

Wallet Snatching Nets 3 Suspects

He who stole Junior Daniels' wallet stole nothing, but the incident, in full view of three policemen, led to a miniature roundup of three larceny suspects—including Junior Daniels.

It happened like this:

Plainclothes Policemen J. F. Longo, Joseph Bonaccorsy and F. A. Jordan were standing at 3rd and G sts. nw., late Tuesday night. A short distance away they saw a sidewalk fight start and saw Junior Daniels knocked down. The assailant grabbed Junior's wallet and fled, police said.

They caught the fleeing man, walked him back to have him meet Junior legally. Whereupon Roy A. Fox, 310 E st. nw., appeared on the scene and told the policemen Junior was the man who robbed him "the other night."

Junior and his assailant, Fox and the policemen went to the First Precinct station, where Daniels implicated Ellen P. Fleming, 20, of 422 2nd st. nw.

Longo and Bonaccorsy then headed toward the Fleming home. En route they ran across Charles Brown, 19, of 220 E st. nw., whom they've been seeking three weeks on a housebreaking charge. They then arrested Miss Fleming.

Results:

The man who took Junior's billfold had his case dropped because the wallet was empty.

Daniels, 19, of 202 E st. nw., pleaded guilty to petty larceny, and was held in $300 bond pending probation reports.

Miss Fleming was held in $300 bond after a nolo contendre plea to petty larceny, and also awaits a probation report.

Brown was charged with larceny and put under $500 bond for an April 28 hearing.

D. C. Schools Warned to Get Tuition

Corporation Counsel Vernon E. West warned District school officials yesterday they may be guilty of illegal expenditures unless they collect tuition from parents of pupils who live outside the District.

West said he had suggested "they discuss the policy with the General Accounting Office to protect themselves."

Under the 1948 District Appropriations Act, he pointed out, Congress ordered that no part of school appropriations may be spent for non-resident pupils enrolled after July 25, 1947.

Dr. Hobart M. Corning, superintendent of schools, said he already has requested such a ruling from GAO and now is awaiting a reply.

Under the set, students are exempt from tuition if they enrolled before July 25 and their parents were employed in the District at the time.

Corning said West has ruled that pupils who didn't actually attend school here before that date were not "enrolled." But 38 parents in Montgomery County took the matter to District Court, maintaining their children had "enrolled" by signing up after vacation began last June.

The court instructed school officials to allow these pupils to remain in school pending settlement of the case.

Corning said 2694 are exempt from tuition under the law and 442 are not paying because their status under the law cannot be determined.

The Board of Education asked Congress March 17 for a naw ending all exepmtions after July 1.

The board failed to pass on the incompetancy charge.

Hardy denied incompetancy and testified that he had not been insubordinate at any time except when he may have "without intent," failed to carry out the "rambling orders" of the school principal.

Revenue Collector Removed After Hatch Act Fine

President Truman yesterday ordered the removal of Frank W. Kraemer as Internal Revenue Collector for Connecticut.

Mr. Truman acted just a week after Kraemer was convicted and fined $1000 on charges of receiving political contributions from Internal Revenue employes in the 1946 Democratic campaign. The jury recommended "extreme leniency."

Kraemer, suspended since his indictment last December, testified at his trial that he had received the funds and turned them over to a secretary. He said he did not know that was illegal under the Hatch Act.

In announcing Kraemer's ouster, Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters the aetion had been recommended by Secretary of Treasury Snyder. No successor to Kraemer was announced.

Yachtsman's Body Found In Channel

The body of Richard M. O'Boyle, 32-year-old fuel trucking executive who fell from his cruiser in Washington channel Tuesday night, was recovered by Harbor police at 6:30 p. m. yesterday.

O'Boyle, father of four children, apparently slipped on the wet deck of the boat he had recently purchased, fell into the water and sank without a struggle. He lived at 5631 Western ave. nw., and was president of the M. I. O'Boyle and Son firm, 817 Michigan ave. ne.

Body Sought 20 Hours

Police dragged the channel for 20 hours before locating the body about 300 feet up-channel from the Hains Point tea house. The body was found by Pvts. Paul Baicar and Laurence Halstead and identified by Frank L. Grimm, 3708 Oliver st. nw., a brother-in-law, and Harry W. Wright, 2431 31st st. ne., a friend.

Maj. James M. Austin, 33, of 2804 31st st. se., and Capt. Joseph A. O'Connor, 36, of 5151 MacArthur blvd. nw., who were in a small party aboard the boat, dived into the water immediately after Mr. O'Boyle fell, but were unable to find him.

In addition to the three men, Mrs. Barbara C. Austin, wife of Major Austin, and two friends of hers, Mrs. Maxine E. Smith, 33, of 3601 Connecticut ave. nw., and Miss Patricia J. Penny, 24, of 5400 Branch ave., Prince Georges County, Md., were on the cruiser. The party had dinner at a Municipal Wharf restaurant, and Mr. O'Boyle invited them to see his cruiser.

May Have Struck Head

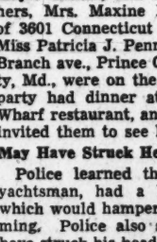
Police learned that the young yachtsman, had a bad shoulder, which would hamper him in swimming. Police also said he might have struck his head as he slipped.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Sarah O'Boyle, and his daughters, Mary, 9; Martha, 7; Kathleen, 4, and Eileen, 2, of the Western ave. address, Mr. O'Boyle leaves his mother, Mrs. Lillian M. O'Boyle, 3708 Oliver st. nw., and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Grimm of the Oliver st. address and Mrs. Joseph Weber of Pasadena, Calif.

Mr. O'Boyle was a graduate of St. John's College High School and attended Columbus University here. He was a member of the Holy Name Society, the Board of Trade, the Touchdown Club and the Congressional Country Club.

Felipe Cadenas Dies; Cuban Naval Attache

Lieut Comdr. Felipe Cadenas, 52, naval attache of the Cuban Embassy here, died early yesterday at the Naval Medical Center, Bethesda, Md.



Lieut. Cadenas

He succumbed at 2:45 a. m., apparently from a heart seizure, while recuperating from a two-week's seige of pneumonia.

Commander Cadenas, member of a prominent Cuban family, had served the Cuban navy for more than 30 years, from duty on a submarine chaser during World War I to aide to the chief of staff in 1940. He was assigned to the embassy here in 1942.

A native of Canaguey, Cuba, he was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and joined the Cuban navy in 1915. After World War I, he became for many years a professor of mathematics at the Cuban Naval Academy.

He served as aide to the chief of staff, Cuban navy, in 1940-41, before his appointment to the embassy.

Commander Cadenas, who lived here at the Shoreham Hotel, leaves his wife, the former Mrs. Flora Fernandes of Mexico City, and a stepson, Jorge, 2d, a student at the Landon School for Boys, Bethesda.

Attaches at the embassy said last night his body would be sent to Cuba for burial.

Truman Balks At Engineer Impersonation

President Truman, gleeful as a boy, inspected a miniature railroad train in his back yard yesterday but balked at playing engineer.

Offered a striped engineer's cap, he grinned but declined, saying it might look as if he were working for the engineer's vote.

He said he wasn't going in for political stunts this year, recalling how President Coolidge once put on an Indian headdress and never did live it down.

The Chief Executive came out for a few moments after noon to give the once over to the motor-driven replica of Chicago's first railroad train. It had rolled up to the Executive Mansion an hour earlier—black locomotive, yellow coach and all.

The rubber-tired vehicle was driven by an engineer in a blue cap and yellow coat, who wore a raise mustache and goggles. The conductor, boasting sideburns and the gay men's atire of the 1800s, and a "passenger" in a plaid, hoop-skirted dress, later arrived in a cab.

All three stood by as Maj. Lenox R. Lohr, president of the Railroad Fair to be held this summer in Chicago, presented a scroll invitation to the President.

Injunction Bars Parking Meter In Princess Anne

Princess Anne, Md., April 14 (AP). Town officials and businessmen of Princess Anne were locked in a court battle over parking meters today.

Circuit Judge L. Claude Bailey signed an injunction restraining the town commissioners from putting up a meter in front of the property of Sidney Hayman, a businessman.

Edgar A. Jones, attorney for Hayman, filed the petition for the injunction after a businessmen's association voted, 19-0, against meters.

Meantime the town commissioners have 150 meters on hand.

Dr. H. C. Robertson, president of the town commissioners, insisted the gadgets were needed to control parking.

Hayman, in the injunction request, countered that "Princess Anne is a pretty little country town, not large enough for meters. They are hideous and unsightly. Placed 20 inches from the curb, they are also a hazard to pedestrians."

Norfolk, Va., April 14 (AP).—United States District Judge Albert V. Bryan today entered an order directing that the United States Attorney General be notified that the portal-to-portal suit against Planter Peanut Co., of Suffolk, will be heard here June 4.

The Suffolk firm, through its Attorney Tazewell Taylor, has moved for dismissal of the suit brought by a local of the Food, Tobacco and Agriculture Workers of America, a CIO affiliate, contending that the claims of the union are contrary to the Portal-to-Portal Act of 1947. It is also claimed that the court lacks jurisdiction in the matter.

A retired Navy captain was found dead in his room at the Sheraton Hotel last night.

Capt. Marson Walton Dangold, who police estimated was about 65 years old, was found sitting upright on the floor at the foot of a twin bed in his room, shortly after his wife, Mrs. Alice Mangold, became alarmed when he did not meet her in the lobby to go to dinner.

Dr. Charles Wirth of Emergency Hospital pronounced him dead at 5:20 p. m., apparently from a heart condition.

Calvin O. Browne, assistant hotel manager, who with the help of a hotel engineer broke the lock of the room, said Captain Mangold was dressed to go out when he was found. Browne said he understood Captain Mangold retired from the Navy about two years ago. He lived in Newark, N. J.

Work Hard or See State Medicine, Doctors Warned

Baltimore, April 14 (AP).—Dr. Charles S. Maxson said today it's getting harder and harder to get a doctor—and that's bad.

The president of the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland, the State's association of physicians and surgeons, assigned these reasons:

1. Patients abused doctors by calling them at all hours of the night for the slightest aches and pains.

2. Doctors like the 40-hour week, too.

3. Medical schools are turning out too many specialists and not enough general practitioners.

It means, Dr. Maxson said, that doctors themselves are unconsciously building up the best arguments for State medicine, which they nearly all oppose. He called on the doctors to take the lead in doing something about it and said he thought that they "will, in the end, prove they have the same high sense of duty" as the old-time family doctor.

President Taft called Justice Martin from the Ohio bench in 1911 to appoint him as Judge of the United States Court of Customs Appeals here. President Harding named him chief justice of that court in 1923. In 1924, President Coolidge appointed him chief justice of the United States District Court of Appeals.

Triple Barreled Celebration

Congressional Club Has Fortieth Anniversary

By Genevieve Reynolds

The Congressional Club—only owmen's social group to be chartered by an act of the Nation's lawmakers—held a triple barreled celebration yesterday in the Statler Hotel. Members honored the First Lady, observed the organization's fortieth anniversary with a dramatic two hour pageant, then burned the final mortgage on headquarters.

Mrs. Truman, formerly active now honorary member of the club, ignited the mortgage and waved the burning paper for all to see before she dropped it into a silver bowl.

A pictorial, dramatized version of past events depicted the 40 years of history for some 500 club members and their guests. Mrs. Joseph R. Farrington, wife of the Delegate from Honolulu, cast in the role of "Minute Woman," narrated the events.

But come, let's look in on the colorful pageant, written and directed by Nora Lynch Kearns, wife of Representative Carroll D. Kearns of Pennsylvania.

It's May 29, 1908. Fourteen wives of Congressional leaders gather in an ante room of the House of Representatives. Mrs. James Breck Perkins, portrayed by Mrs. Charles K. Fletcher, wife of the California Representative, holds a forum to discover how they can break up a Senate filibuster so they can get their bill passed for a club charter. Senator John Sharp Williams holds the floor with an immigration speech. Congress is scheduled to close that day. The House had passed the bill for a chartered club but the Senate had returned it because one of the founder's names was missing.

Filibuster Interferes

Eventually Mrs. Williams, spouse of the filibustering Senator, arrived on the scene. Played by Mrs. William M. Whittington, wife of the Mississippi Representative, Mrs. Williams solved the problem by enticing her husband out to lunch. "I'll tell him it's time for him to eat, that he must look after his health," chuckled Mrs. Williams.

She pulled her trick and the other women had their husbands rush through the Bill while Mrs. Williams kept her husband in the dining room. Incidentally it was Frank Lowden, at that time Representative from Illinois, who suggested the idea of a club to lonely Congressional wives. A California Representative, Julius Kahn introduced the bill in the House.

Several who had roles in the scene are family members of that first band who organized the club, and invaded the Hill that day. These included Mrs. James I. Dolliver, wife of the Iowa Representative, Mrs. James M. Thomson, nee Genevieve Clark who doubled for Mrs. Champ Clark; Miss Katherine Elkins.

Mrs. Taft Portrayed

First social event given by the newly organized Congressional Club, which then met in the Blatchford House at 1432 K st. nw., was in honor of President-elect and Mrs. William Howard Taft.

Mrs. William Howard Taft's role was portrayed by Mrs. John Bricker, wife of the Ohio Senator.

Social arbiter of the town, the late Mrs. John B. Henderson, one-time owner of Henderson Castle and 15 or more blocks of upper 16th st., was one of the leaders in organizing the club. Mrs. Aime J. Forand depicted Mrs. Henderson. Always she was on hand to remind members, "No alcohol and keep your dancing dignified. Don't try the 'turkey trot' here."

By the way, when Mrs. Henderson gave the club the grounds for its present site, 2001 New Hampshire ave., she stipulated that no alcohol could ever be served in the club. To this day the provision stands and the requirement is kept. You can't get a drink of anything stronger than punch or tea in the club.

A mock burlesque session of the Sixty-second Congress provided the most hilarious action on the program. It was taken from the club's original script used at its first annual breakfast honoring a First Lady in 1923.

'Littlest Congress'

Another highlight included a scene from the "Littlest Congress"—the Congressional Children's annual radio party, which was initiated around 1938. By the way this first children's party was slightly prophetic — Margaret Truman, aged 13, daughter of the then Senator and Mrs. Harry H. Truman, played a piano solo "L'Avalanche". Joanna Evins, daughter of Tennessee's Representative and Mrs. Joe L. Evans played the solo for Margaret Truman at yesterday's performance. Bud Ward, of N.B.C., original master of ceremonies, also took over yesterday.

Several congressional wives played exactly the same part on the program as they did back in 1938. These included Mrs. Daniel Reed of New York, president; Mrs. John E. Rankin, Mrs. Ralph Church and Mrs. John R. Sparkman, committee members.

Mrs. Clifford Davis, club president, presided at the gala event and announced that Mrs. Louis P. Cramton was the financial genius who made it possible to cancel the club's debt and pay off the mortgage.

Three club founders attending were Mrs. Finis J. Garrett of Tennessee, Mrs. Timonthy J. Ansberry of this city and Mrs. Robert L. Taylor of Bristol.

SKITS told the Congressional Club's history for the past 40 years from the time it took an act of the nation's lawmakers to bring the unique organization into being. Four participants in the pageant, representing various periods, are Mrs. Walt Horan, wife of the Washington Representative (seated at table) as the 1917 secretary: standing (left to right) Mrs. Abe Goff, wife of the Idaho Representative, in an 1890 gown; Mrs. Edward Jenison, wife of the Illinois Representative, in a 1912 fashion, and Mrs. E. Wallace Chadwick, wife of the Pennsylvania Representative, in an 1890 evening dress. All the ladies use their knitting needles to think with—or so they declared

By Gene Jones—The Washington Post

THE two hour pageant depicting the Congressional Club's minutes for 40 years yesterday closed with a dramatic flag scene representing each State in the Union, the Philippines, Hawaii and Alaska. Seen against the backdrop of the American flag are (left to right) Miss Beverly Farrington of Honolulu; Miss Cecelia Thibodeau of Juneau, Alaska, and Mrs. Pay Manglapus of Manila, Phil.

Hendersons Here

Capt. Robert Henderson, USN (ret.), and Mrs. Henderson, old-time residents of Washington, are at the Mayflower from California for a week before going on to New York, where Captain Henderson will attend the annual meeting of the Associated Press and American Newspaper Publishers.

Tea Canceled

Mrs. Angus Dun, wife of the Bishop of Washington, has canceled the tea she had planned this afternoon, owing to the death of an intimate friend.

Mrs. Clapper Describes U. N. As 'Only Hope'

The United Nations—with or without Russia—is the "only hope of mankind," Olive Ewing Clapper said yesterday at the luncheon meeting of the Women's Advertising Club.

In the atomic age even the strongest nation state does not offer protection for citizens, she continued. "A larger sovereignty is the only solution. If the USSR refuses to join, we can form a union of Western democracies."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Clapper said, we must adapt ourselves to the new era of atomic energy "which promises either a heaven on earth or complete destruction." She urged a U. S. program of continuing economic aid to distressed parts of the world and strengthening our military resources and intelligence service.

The speaker is the widow of Raymond Clapper, former newspaper columnist and radio commentator. She is a member of the editorial board of "Look" magazine and author of "Washington Tapestry," a 1946 best seller. At present she is working on a novel on Washington life.

Other special guests at the luncheon included Tom Stokes of the United Features Syndicate, who introduced Mrs. Clapper; and George B. Parker, editor of Scripps-Howard Newspapers.

Tea Fetes Music Guild Members

THE WIFE of the Luxembourg Minister, Mme. Le Gallais, entertained yesterday for members of the Chamber Music Guild at a tea from 4:30 until 6:30 o'clock. Guests were received at the legation by Mme. Le Gallais; Mrs. Marcel Ancher, wife of the founder and music director of the guild, and Mrs. Edwin M. Watson, president of the advisory board.

Ladies who took turns presiding over the tea table included Mme. de Morgenstierne, wife of the Norwegian Ambassador; Mrs. Hume Wrong, wife of the Canadian Ambassador; Senora de Belt, wife of the Cuban Ambassador; Lady Berendsen, wife of the New Zealand Minister; Mme. Thor Thors, wife of the Icelandic Minister; Senora de Espinosa de los Monteros, wife of the Mexican Ambassador; Mrs. Kenneth Royall, Mrs. Charles Ross, Mrs. Harold Burton, Mrs. Marshall Bidwell Dierssen and Mrs. George Robert Holmes.

Underground Pose?

Howard McGrath Dolls Up As Miner to Start Flurry Of November Forecasts

By Mary Van Rensselaer Thayer

REMEMBER when Calvin Coolidge, who was reputedly weaned on a pickle, was photographed in an Indian war bonnet? Remember when dignified J. P. Morgan was snapped when a midget climbed on his lap? Well, in sedate legislative circles they have been having almost as much fun with a flash of former Senator Howard McGrath, now Democrat National Committee p o o h-bah, dolled in a miner's outfit. Literally hundreds of McGrath well-wishers have clipped the daguerreotype, posted it to him with the following tender inscription: "So glad to see you're ready to go underground—NEXT NOVEMBER!"

McGRATH

Eavesdropping at National Gallery

THE NATIONAL GALLERY OF ART'S exhibition of paintings retrieved from a Nazi underground cache is almost over. During the last days rush a bright pal of ours found herself amidst a clutch of Helen Hokinson matrons. After overhearing a few comments inadvertently, a fascinated eavesdropper, she kept close the entire round.

Raphael's Madonna with Christ Child and tiny St. John attracted their attention. "It seems to me," said one matron meditatively, "that children were much too fat in those days." "Yes," replied her 180-pound companion, "and the mothers were much too fat, too."

Next stop was Botticelli's Madonna surrounded by singing angels—the fragile, weary Madonna, her eyelids inflamed from fatigue. "Why?" questioned another suburban lady, "did he paint a woman with sties?"

The Coward Wit

EDITORS FROM all over the country are debouching on Washington for their annual clambake. A deep "S'uth" newspaper tycoon of our acquaintance, happily forgetting his anguish in running a daily gazette, tossed a few items about Noel Coward.

COWARD

When Mr. C's revival of "Tonight at 8:30" folded in Manhattan he hiked to New Orleans to relax and scrape up color to further his newest career—painting. Like almost everybody else dear Noel has taken to paint slapping and, naturally, turned out some creditable gems.

But he never gets serious, views his intrusion into art with tongue-in-cheek. Over a single drink, probably absinthe, he dropped the following, "I'm not anybody's Monet, it's touch and Gaugin." After a further barrage of similar witticisms, his audience walked out, advising an immediate return to the stage.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Dedicated to Club Work, Parents Go Out Several Nights a Week, Leaving Daughter Alone at Home, Then Discover Her in Affair

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: We have a daughter, 17, who has always been very truthful with us; and we are members of several organizations that require a good deal of time.

We have to be away from home several nights each week and have always felt perfectly safe in allowing Dora to invite her friends in when we weren't there. Of recent months she has been going steady with a young man several years older than she, and has insisted that only he keep her company of evenings.

One night last week we returned home earlier than usual from a customary club meeting and the house was dark as we approached. As we entered the drive, a light went on in the living room, and there we found our daughter and the young man, she improperly clad and both looking guilty.

Father's Dudgeon Evokes Defiance

HER FATHER ordered the young man to leave at once and never to see Dora again. He left, dejectedly, after telling Dora that he would see her, and to remember that. Later, in response to my questions, Dora admitted an affair had been in progress for some time; and she told her father he was crazy if he thought he could keep them apart.

She said they planned to be married, that she saw nothing wrong in their behavior, that she would leave home if necessary to see the young man, and that if we tried to stop her, she would do something drastic.

In view of her attitude, should we stand firm in our decision to end the relationship? Or allow Doris to continue seeing the man? We are anxiously awaiting your advices, as her entire future may depend upon prompt action. J. B.

Parents Party To the Wrong

DEAR J. B.: Dora's unabashed attitude in the showdown scene has a lone-wolf ring, as if she neither loved, respected nor feared her parents, a reaction to reproach which is not surprising in a girl whose mother and dad had long since figuratively abandoned her to her own devices, to grow like Topsy, while they busied themselves like a pair of jugglers with assorted club politics.

No doubt you feel morally outraged, disgraced, etc., to learn of her unchaste behavior when your backs were turned. But seen in perspective, the illicit relationship to which she clings is more of a reproach to yourselves than to Dora and her swain, inasmuch as the chain of precipitating factors developed in consequence of your neglect of her. And unless you can fully accept that truth, in chastened spirit that prohibits "throwing stones," it isn't likely that you can influence them for the better.

With Dora now 17 and the man a few years older, it isn't humanly possible to halt the affair by force. It is proverbial that Eros laughs at locksmiths, so it doesn't make sense to think in terms of standing firm in a decision to end the relationship. Yet, on the other hand, common decency requires you to apply reasonable restraints, if possible, since you are vested with grave responsibility for the general welfare of your teenage daughter.

Calm Suasion Is Advisable

IT IS obvious that the father's high dudgeon in ordering the young man off, never to see Dora again, made a bad matter immediately worse, since now you have outlaw defiance as well as their fever to contend with.

Hindsight is the most elementary form of wisdom, yes; but if in that hour you had confronted them with humane expression of dismay at their misconduct, then calmly insisted on four-way discussion of their misguided behavior and how to rectify it (with your help), I think you might have got control of the situation.

I'd say it's half-past the zero hour, to be asking constructive advices now, when you feel completely licked and know the balance of power has slipped from your hands. However, it might be helpful if your husband would corral the young man for an earnest, peaceful inquiry into the quality of his interest in Dora, also admitting his own sorry feeling of having failed her, and talk in terms of working together to give her really protective love, in the event he sincerely cares. M. H.

Scissors Warning

Children should not be frightened with scissors by warnings that they will cut them. Just keep them out of the way of the children until they are old enough to use a blunt pair. No wonder children cry at the barber's if they are brought up to be scared stiff of a pair of scissors.

Mother Is Wrong in Leaving Small Child Alone

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The whole meaning of motherhood can be packed into one word—protectiveness. From her baby's earliest infancy, a mother's foremost duty is to protect the child's health, his safety and later his morals. A mother is being false to one of these obligations when she subjects her child to any danger from which he would be unable to protect himself.

Mrs. B. F. T. is playing with fire when she so much as toys with the idea of leaving a helpless child alone in a home. She writes, "I am a widow and I have a son of 5½ years. I have reared him alone since he was 18 months of age. He is a very good-natured, intelligent boy and self-reliant for his age.

"During the day he allows me to run out for short shopping trips and he plays very well by himself. In the evening I usually get a sitter when I want to go out; but sitters are expensive and they always fall asleep, anyway. I always feel that the sitter is useless.

"Do you think it would be wrong for me—or taxing him too much—if I were to tell him that I was going out for the evening and leave him alone? How shall I try to explain this to him?"

There is no explanation that would right an obvious wrong. You are this child's protector. Even a sitter who sleeps would be there in case of an emergency, as would you, asleep or awake.

If absent, you cannot guarantee that the child would stay asleep. The fact that he was on his own would tend to make him alert and wakeful. His acts, minus your inhibiting presence, might be hazardous ones. It is natural for a child to experiment with danger when no one is there to tell him no.

You do not need to use your imagination to know what might happen, you have only to read the daily newspapers. The series of accidents and fatalities to children happen, inevitably, when the parents are away, visiting, shopping or entertaining themselves.

A good mother would not want to enjoy recreation at the expense of a child's safety, nor condemn him to lie awake in an empty house knowing that no one would answer his call however urgent or necessary.

Tasty Recipes For Using Shrimp

Will you give me a recipe for Steamed Shrimp or Steamed Spice Shrimp; also for the sauce served with them? M. J. R.

Wash shrimp and place them in the following liquid while it is boiling rapidly. Or place them in a deep fat frying basket, and suspend over the boiling liquid. (If you put the shrimp into the liquid, there should be enough to cover them.)

4 cups water
2 teaspoons salt
2 bay leaves
A stalk of celery, a dash of thyme and a sprig of parsley

Cover tightly and simmer 5 minutes. Remove from fire and let cool in liquid. If shrimp is steamed in basket, drop them into liquid when cooked. Serve with cocktail sauce.

Mix together 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ¼ cup catsup, 2 teaspoons horseradish, 3 drops Worcestersauce and 1 teaspoon salt. Chill well. Approximate yield one-third cup sauce.

Last August, a month of high humidity, we painted our basement floor with a red enamel—a waterproof paint recommended for cement floors and purchased at a department store. The paint did not dry and as time passed, the lacquer separated from the color element. Now when the floor becomes damp, the color runs freely. The season of damp basements is fast approaching and we are facing the prospect again of walking on red wet paint. We have more of the paint on hand. Would you advise repainting the floor with the hope that the floor will dry this time? Or would there be some way to remove what has already been applied? E. B. W.

Usually a cellar floor is laid directly on the earth and picks up moisture from it. This moisture passes into the cement, causing it to become damp, and thus activates the lime in the cement which then becomes destructive to the paint. In your case, it has separated the pigment from the oils and retarded the drying. To counteract this condition, you should have first used a paint which is proof against the effects of lime, that is, waterproof. Some have rubber bases and others are made of synthetic resins. For further information about them ask at any well-stocked paint store or call National 1703. Of course, before this solution is applied, all old paint must be removed. To do this, dissolve 3 pounds of washing soda or trisodium phosphate in a gallon of water. Apply to floor and scrub with a stiff brush. Take up with mop or sponge. When paint is removed, rinse very thoroughly and allow to dry. When thoroughly dry, apply waterproofing solution. Then you may finish with the paint you have on hand.

One on the Aisle—

Humor Leavens An Italian Film

By Richard L. Coe

THE ELOQUENT ITALIANS have made another fine picture, "To Live in Peace," at the Little.

Unlike "Open City" and "Shoe Shine," "To Live in Peace" has a joyful, warmly happy quality about it which a simple recitation of its story might belie. The new film has the honest, human compassion which distinguished those memorable pictures, but the angry passion against injustice is veiled behind less exciting, more quietly humorous events.

It is almost strange to find humor (for lack of a more precise word) in a story that might have been simply wistful and sad. This is the humor not of slapstick nor of irony, but the humor of compassion, gentle, wise and penetrating. It is an emotion which films often try to capture, but don't often manage. This affectionate regard for the human comedy makes "To Live in Peace" outstanding.

Here, too, is a picture with a theme that doesn't labor its point. Its makers have seen no need to sum up its longing for a human brotherhood in any stirring speech. It assumes, and so rightly, that if what it suggests is true, audiences will have the sense to grasp its message without being specifically lectured on it.

The scene is a small Italian village in the days of the German occupation. The villagers all long for the end of the war. It doesn't much matter to them who wins so long as they are allowed to live in peace.

The central family is a farmer who loves the land his forebears have cared for. His wife is a practical shrew and resents his niece and nephew for the food they consume. But when the youngsters find an American correspondent and a Negro soldier, who've escaped from a German prison camp, she does manage to serve as her husband sees fit. The farmer befriends the two Yanks, even though discovery will cost him and his family their lives.

The village is rather divided, though it's suggested they have more respect for the underground than they do for the Fascist mouthpiece. The farmer helps the negro recover from a wound and the secret seems well kept. But one night, when the town's single German soldier is visiting, the Negro gets drunk and breaks out of his hiding place. Farmer Tigna gets the German soldier tighter than he already was and you are treated to watching the two individuals of the opposing forces falling happily into one another's arms and imagining the war is over. There's joy in the village until they all give a thought to the next day. Will the sobered German remember?

Superbly Acted

How he does remember—and how the hitherto ineffectual priest serves his flock—concludes the story with a proportion of realism. Were this an out-and-out comedy you'd have a marriage between the Yank writer and the farmer's niece. Were it an out-and-out tragedy you'd feel bitter about the farmer's violent end. But this is the human comedy, neither rosy nor black, and the ending is neatly, realistically achieved.

The acting couldn't be improved on. Farmer Tigna is played by Aldo Fabrizi, the priest of "Open City," a portrait of a simple, understanding man you'll long remember. Ave Ninchi is superbly real as his troubled wife, and there is a charming half-girl, half-woman in Mirella Monti as the niece. The two Americans are well played by Gar Moore, an Oklahoma boy, and John Kitzmiller, a former Army captain, fine as the Negro soldier. And there's a good clue to the young, dissatisfied Italians in Piero Palermini's line: "I won't slave just to see a few trees grow."

Yes, "To Live in Peace" is a heartwarming, revealing film you'll admire for its down-to-earth sincerity, as memorable in its theme as was that fine prewar film, "Grand Illusion."

TONIGHT will bring a notable audience to the Warner, where "To the Ends of the Earth" opens today . . . Federal Commissioner of Narcotics Harry J. Anslinger will head a group of officials whose work has to do with the picture's subject, world-wide narcotics control . . . Commissioner Anslinger worked closely with Columbia Pictures on the production of this film, which relies strongly on the Customs, Coast Guard and Narcotics bureaus of the Treasury . . . Its showing to members of the United Nations recently brought words of encouragement from Secretary General Trygve Lie.

TWO STUDENTS of Catholic University's speech and drama department, Dan Rodden and Frances Rickett, are the authors of a play on WOL's 10 o'clock Family Hour, "Wanted—One Baby." . . . Dennis Day and Alan Reed will be playing the leads, introduced by Paul Henreid.

WOODROW WILSON High students tonight and Friday will play Robert St. Clair's farce, "The Whole Town's Laughing," at the school's auditorium at 8 o'clock.

THAT PALACE "sneak" preview last night, to salve your curiosity, was "The Big Clock," the Charles Laughton-Ray Milland picture which will be playing the F st. house whenever "The Naked City" calls it a run.

TWO UNUSUAL short films will be shown tonight at the Department of Commerce auditorium, "Language of Watercolor" and "Reflections in Water." . . . These will be shown immediately after presentation of savings bonds to winners of The Washington Post's Student Calendar Art Contest . . . Eliot O'Hara, one of the judges of the contest, directed both these films and in the course of them paints two watercolors showing how to use paints and brushes to best advantage . . . 7:30 is the hour.

Man Who Gave British 'Petrol' in 1892 Dies

Chalfont St. Giles, England, April 14 (U.P.).—Charles Hare Leonard, 87, the pioneer of "petrol," died today.

Over a glass of port in 1892, Leonard, who had extracted the motor spirit or gasoline from petroleum, said, "let's call it petrol."

Petrol—at least, to the British—it became.

Cumberland Civic Leader, 63, Chosen as '1948 State Mother'

A 63-year-old Cumberland, Md., mother of three, who lost a son in the last war, yesterday was named 1948 State Mother of Maryland.

Recipient of the honor is Mrs. Cecil Ward Smith 834 Windsor rd. Her selection was announced by the Golden Rule Foundation, New York, sponsors of the ward.

"My main hobby is my family," Mrs. Smith told The Washington Post yesterday. "I was surprised and flattered by the announcement—there are so many qualified women who might have received it."

Although, she does all her own housework, Mrs. Smith finds time for gardening and a multitude of civic enterprises. She is a past president of the Women's Civic Club of Cumberland and of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian church. She is active in Girl Scout Work.

A graduate of the University of North Dakota, Mrs. Smith is also a charter member of the Cumberland chapter, American Association of University Women. All her children are college graduates.

One son, Converse, 31, operates a monthly newspaper in Maine; another, William, 30 is a food broker in Cumberland, while a daughter, Katharine, is a home service adviser for the Potomac Edison Co. A third son, Edwin, was killed during the war in the crash of a bomber he was piloting in this country.

Mrs. Smith's husband, Harold, is executive secretary of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

Delmarva Flight Decision Appealed

Baltimore, April 14 (AP).—Columbia Airlines is making another attempt to get permission for air service to Delmarva Peninsula and Pittsburgh via Maryland points.

The Maryland firm, headed by O. L. Bonifay of Baltimore, was turned down by the Civil Aeronautics Board when it asked for the short-haul routes in February. Instead, the CAB certified All-American Aviation, Inc., of Wilmington, Del.

In its new petition, Columbia declares that All-American has had no operational experience over the routes or in most of the area involved.

New State Park Ready

Bedford, Va., April 14 (AP).—Claytor Lake State Park will be dedicated Saturday, May 29, it was decided yesterday, when William A. Wright, chairman of the Virginia Conservation Commission, and Randolph Odell, director of State Parks, toured the site.

Jury Criticizes Somerset Jail

Princess Anne, Md., April 14 (AP).—Somerset County's April grand jury has reported that prisoners in the county jail can get liquor and guns without much trouble.

The jury pointed to several deficiencies in the jail. Some of the cell doors, it said, are in such bad order that it takes a blacksmith to get them open. Then they can't be closed.

The jury recommended improved cell locks, stationary window screens, so outsiders can't pass objects in to the prisoners. A central heating plant, segregation of white and Negro prisoners, and improved sanitary facilities.

Tourist Record Predicted

Annapolis, Md., April 14 (AP).—A "record number" of tourists will visit Maryland parks this year, the Department of State Forests and Parks predicted today.

Schools Under Citizen Fire In Frederick

Frederick, Md., April 14.—High school graduates are having a hard time qualifying for college entrance, and taxpayers of this community want to know why.

Spearheading the quest for an answer is the newly-formed Citizens Committee for Better Schools.

The meeting was an outgrowth of a February grand jury report that many Frederick County high school graduates lack the necessary credits for college.

The committee elected Samuel C. Hays of Emmitsburg; Mrs. Oram Woolpert and Earner L. Brittain as an executive board.

Will Appeal to Lane

In addition, a five-man committee was appointed to draft a letter to Governor Lane asking him to withhold any decision on nomination of a Frederick school superintendent until the committee completes its investigation.

The letter is to be sent through channels of the school administration. Dr. Eugene W. Pruitt, present superintendent, who has held the post for 16 years, comes up for reappointment by the county board next month.

Pruitt has denied charges that students are promoted automatically despite low grades.

"There is a certain flexibility in that respect in the elementary schools," Dr. Pruitt said, "but in the high schools a grade of "F" means a student has failed."

Many Can't Qualify

The superintendent agreed that many graduates cannot qualify for college but said: "That is a matter to be settled between the individual student and the college. If a student fails to take those courses required by the college he seeks to enter, he naturally is barred. If a student gets good grades in the necessary courses, he will be acceptable to most colleges."

Brittain said the committee had no preconceived notion as to what was wrong with the school system.

"That is the object—to find out what is wrong, if anything," he said.

The county school board yesterday voted unanimously to dismiss Joseph Hardy, athletic instructor at Middletown High School, on charges of "insubordination."

Hardy clashed with school officials, who had accused him of neglecting his duties and selling athletic equipment to pupils as a sideline.

Idle Pay Lies Laid To 17 at Resort

Warsaw, Va., April 14 (AP).—Seventeen employes of a Colonial Beach packing house have been charged in 48 warrants with making false statements to the Virginia Unemployment Compensation Commission, Commonwealth's Attorney W. A. Jones of Richmond County said today.

They will be given hearings in Trial Justice Court here Monday at 10 a. m. before Trial Justice George Walker.

The investigation leading to the arrest of 17 employes of the L. L. Curley Packing House was made by W. P. Smith, chief investigator for the commission.

Paper Quotes Truman On St. Helena Closing

Norfolk, Va., April 14 (AP).—President Truman is "in sympathy" with students of St. Helena Extension of the College of William and Mary who want the two-year college continued, according to an article in the current issue of She, campus newspaper.

Harrison Magee, writer of the article, and St. Helena student representative, who visited the President during the spring vacation, said the "President could not understand why the school was being closed when so many people are for its continued operation—including Governor Tuck, Senator Byrd and Representative Bland."

The College of William and Mary at Williamsburg, parent institution of the St. Helena Extension, announced several weeks ago the extension would be discontinued after June.

Divers Snared Two Hours in Treasure Ship

New Bedford, Mass., April 14 (AP).—Five divers told today how a sunken treasure ship trapped them for two hours as they hunted the wreck's eight-million-dollar cargo 120 feet down in cold seas off Cape Cod.

Tom Griffin, credited by the others with their rescue after two hours of exhausting struggle, said only:

"It was plenty rough."

Edward Lane of Somerville, one of the three brothers seeking the manganese cargo of a freighter torpedoed in wartime, was the first pinned helpless in the hulk when shifting bales of woo ltangled his lines.

Then three other divers came down to his aid—Walter Silveira of Boston, Thomas Sacco of Springfield and Glarry Edwards of New Bedford.

One by one they were bowled over in the blackness. One would free his lines and those of the mate he'd reached first and then the rocking wreck would send them sprawling again.

"Then Tom Griffin came down," Lane said, "and finally we were all cleared an dable to go up. Tom worked two hours doing it and he'd already spent an hour down there on his first shift."

The rescued men docked here in their leaking old fishing schooner.

The treasure hunters will try again, Lane said, because:

"We've had bad luck with leaks. But if we had a vessel we could depend on, there'd be nothing to raising that eight million dollars."

Strawberry Outlook Good

Norfolk, Va., April 14 (AP).—The strawberry crop looks good, John B. Dey, president of the Farmers Auction Block, reported today. He said the strawberry auction probably will begin about May 1. The daily auction is held at Thomas Corner on the Virginia Beach boulevard. The season usually runs about three weeks.

FPC Sets Hearing On Washington Area Gas Line

A hearing on a proposal to construct additional natural gas pipeline facilities for the Washington-Baltimore area will be held before the Federal Power Commission here May 10.

The application for construction authorization was first filed more than a year ago by the Atlantic Seaboard Corp. and Virginia Gas Transmission Corp., and later was amended.

It proposes 269 miles of 26-inch gas transmission line from a point near Clendenin, W. Va., to Atlantic Seaboard's 20-inch main line at Rockville, Md., and maintenance stations. Total cost is estimated at $20,649,600.

50 VA Officers Kept in Virginia

Norfolk, Va., April 14 (AP).—Fifty naval officers assigned to duty in Veterans Administration Hospitals in the Fifth Naval District are affected by the Navy's recent action in temporarily freezing all medical and dental officers and V-12 graduates.

District spokesmen said today they had been advised by the Navy Department that it is "temporarily holding in abeyance action on resignations and requests for voluntary retirement of medical and dental corps officers, and release orders of those V-12 graduates who have not actually received their orders for separation."

There are six VA hospitals in the Fifth Naval District: one each at Roanoke, Richmond and Hampton, Va.; Huntington and Martinsburg, W. Va., and Perry Point, Md.

Federal Reserve Chief Takes Over

President Truman yesterday formally designated Thomas B. McCabe as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

McCabe, a Pennsylvania industrialist, will take the place formerly held by Marriner S. Eccles, who will serve as vice chairman.

McCabe's nomination for membership on the board was confirmed Monday by the Senate. He is scheduled to be sworn in today.

Grand Jury Exonerates Watchman in Shooting

Princess Anne, Md., April 14 (AP).—The Somerset County grand jury has refused to find an indictment against Arthur Sterling, 42-year-old tavern night watchman charged with manslaughter.

Sterling told Deputy Sheriff Woodland Jackson he heard a noise in the tavern next door to his home early on the morning of March 21, and fired at the building when he saw two men flee in a car.

The body of David Thomas Duncan, 27, of Loretta, Md., was found in the tavern kitchen.

U. S. Airways Service Will Be Reorganized

A Nation-wide reorganization of the first wing of the Airway and Air Communications Service has been approved by Maj. Gen. Harold M. McClelland, commanding general it was announced at Langley Field yesterday.

The statement was made by Col. C. B. Overcracker, commander of the first wing. The reorganization will be completed by July 1 and will affect more than 6000 personnel.

Crisfield Paper Loses Typewriters to Thieves

Crisfield, Md., April 14 (AP).—The weekly Crisfield Times will limp into print this week on borrowed typewriters.

Editor Egbert Quinn reported burglars stole two machines from the Times office.

"They'd have gotten the third one if I hadn't taken it home to do some work," he said. But he borrowed two and the Times will come out on schedule Friday.

Fairfax Sees No Extra Fund For Schools

Outcome of the attempt to make five million dollars available from the Virginia State Retirement Board for school construction will not mean any extra funds for Fairfax County's stalled building program.

County School Superintendent W. T. Woodson yesterday said Fairfax had already received promised of one million dollars from this source on the assumption it would be available and contracts have been let for use of the funds.

The State Literary Fund, set up to make loans for school construction, has been unable to allocate any money to Fairfax since late 1947. The county now has applications for $3,929,500 in loans pending before the State Board of Education.

An attempt by the 1946 General Assembly to make funds available by transferring five million dollars from the retirement fund to the literary fund has been called unconstitutional by the State Comptroller and the money held up. The State Supreme Court of Appeals has been asked to rule on the question next week.

Fairfax County's proposed school budget for the year starting July 1 lists $3,929,250 anticipated from the literary fund for construction. This includes loans now pending before the board. It does not include the one-million-dollar conditional loan which has already been earmarked.

Woodson said he does not believe the amount needed will be available from the State.

$1,000,000 Loan Approved to Build Three Schools

Fredericksburg, Va., April 14.—Spotsylvania County authorized the biggest school loan in its history yesterday, one million dollars, for a central high and elementary school for Negroes and a new elementary school for white children.

The board of supervisors adopted a resolution by a 3-to-1 vote to empower Superintendent of Schools C. Melvin Snow to begin negotiations with officials of the Virginia Literary Fund for the loan. Work is expected to begin this year. The supervisors went on record as opposing any plan of consolidating high schools with Fredericksburg.

The board also established a schedule of bounties for predatory animals under which the county will pay $1.50 for foxes, 50 cents for skunks, owls and hawks, and 25 cents for crows; appointed W. A. Wright, Henry Paytes, John L. Sullivan, S. C. Parker and J. M. Chilton as viewers of roads to be taken into the secondary system.

Budget Increases Rejected in Page

Luray, Va., April 14.—Requests for additions to the Page County budget of items not previously advertized were refused by the Page County Board of Supervisors yesterday on the grounds that the tentative levy, salaries, etc., had already been set and that no new tax could be laid without further advertising.

Requests made at public hearing and before the board prior to the hearing included an increase in the salary of County Agent G. H. Clark; a further increase of 30 cents in the school budget to provide a boost in teachers' salaries, and funds for the building of six new rooms at Stanley High School.

Delaware Mumps Hit Eastern Shore

Salisbury, Md., April 14 (AP).—An outbreak of mumps is pestering Wicomico County schools — right on schedule.

Dr. Seth H. Hurdle predicted the trouble two weeks ago after he received reports that the disease had broken out in nearby Delaware schools.

"It isn't as bad as it sounds," the county health officer said. "Between the age of 6 and 8 is the best time to have the mumps. Complications may follow at earlier or later ages."

The outbreak of measles which Dr. Hurdle foresaw when they broke out in Delaware hasn't materialized here, however.

Maryland Boy, 6, Dies Of Lockjaw Infection

Frederick, Md., April 14.—Leon Edward Wetzel, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wetzel, of near Union Bridge, died of lockjaw last night at Frederick Memorial Hospital. The 6-year-old child was admitted to the hospital last Sunday.

Members of the family attributed the infection to a scratch suffered when the boy ran a splinter in his hand last week. Funeral services will be held Thursday at Union Bridge Methodist Church.

Jewish Appeal to Open Fredericksburg Drive

Fredericksburg, Va., April 14. The United Jewish Appeal drive will get under way here Friday at 7 p. m. with a banquet at the Princess Anne Hotel. Fredericksburg has been assigned a minimum goal of $6000 in the Nation-wide campaign for 250 million dollars.

Rabbi Ariel Goldberg, of Richmond, will address the banquet. Louis W. Hirsch is chairman of the local drive and Joseph M. Goldsmith honorary chairman.

Shrine Conclave Scheduled

Norfolk, Va., April 14 (AP).—J. Binford Sadler, president of the Midatlantic Shrine Association, said yesterday that Virginia Beach was assured of the joint annual meeting of the Midatlantic and Southeastern Shrine Associations, to be held September 9-11.

Herman S. Nowitzky, a past potentate of Khelive Temple, will be general chairman in charge of the convention program. More than 6000 Shriners are expected.

Church Building Fund Tops $10,000 Mark

Berryville, Va., April 14 (Spl.).—Members of the First Baptist Church at the quarterly business session were advised that the building fund has passed $10,000.

The Julian D. Broaddus memorial scholarship was awarded to William E. Barnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barnett and a veteran of the late war who is now attending Richmond University.

Wharf Permit Sought

Baltimore, April 14 (AP).—The Army's district engineer today announced receipt of an application by Francis P. Cluff of Pocomoke City, Md., to build a 30 by 14-foot boat house and a timber wharf extending 100 feet into the Pocomoke River from the Somerset County shore, 0.9 mile upstream from Rehobeth.

Approach of Hitchhiking Season Brings Annual Warning

Walter Whitely Hubbard of the American Automobile Association writes:

"The District of Columbia Motor Club and the American Automobile Association congratulate you on your 'Don't Be a Jaywalker' item in Thursday's paper.

"It will help to save lives and limbs, and to prevent arguments between police officers and careless pedestrians.

"If you want to do your readers another service, remind them that we are now approaching the season when those who are careless in selecting hitchhikers often become the victims of assaults, robberies and even murders.

"Hitchhiking is permitted in both Maryland and Virginia, so we're especially anxious to have this word of caution reach the motorists in this area."

A timely warning, Walter. As a guy who thumbed his way home from college on many a weekend, I can testify that most hitchhikers have nothing more serious the matter with them than a temporary lack of funds. And most motorists are also right guys.

But it's the wrong goes who cause the trouble—so let's try to avoid them and stay alive.

BOGOTA "CASUALTY"

I was at the airport Tuesday night when the Pan American plane arrived with its load of District Liners from Bogota.

I wouldn't exactly say that there was a lot of milling about when the waiting friends and relatives rushed to greet the arriving passengers, but a college class key was torn from my watch chain during the melee.

The finder will discover that I was graduated in '33, thank you.

SURPRISE!

We were circling the Ellipse, following a car that bore Ohio tags.

Ohio was simultaneously rubbernecking and looking for a parking place near the White House. Every time our cab tried to pass him, Ohio's erratic course blocked our path.

The passengers in the taxi began to fume. The driver, I imagined, was about ready to explode.

He finally drew up alongside Ohio, rolled down his window, and called out to the visitor.

"If you're looking for a parking place, mister," our driver said as politely as you please, "let me suggest the other side of the Ellipse. Just follow the road to the left."

Ohio grinned and waved his thanks, and went off in search of his parking place, convinced that Washington cab drivers are wonderful people.

When I got out of the cab a few minutes later, I noted the license number—H-4140. It was issued to Vincent Amoroso of 6033 Hannah pl. se.

AT LONG LAST

Traffic Director George Kenelpp has promised to drop in on my noon broadcast today (WINX) to answer a few questions about Washington's traffic problems.

I've been waiting for an opportunity like this for a long time.

Now maybe I'll find out how motorists are supposed to know which green arrows permit right turns, which permit left turns, and which permit no turns—and what's more important, how we're supposed to know these things at night, when the signs aren't visible.

NEW YORK.—Prince Faisal of Saudi Arabia, who will attend the special U. N. Assembly this week is the heaviest tipper among all the delegates. Faisal always arrives loaded with American currency. . . . William Saroyan, with two new plays, will fly to New York this week. . . . The ILGWU's new radio station, which was licensed last week, will start operating from temporary quarters in September—in time for the election.

David Dubinsky, head of the union, went to Washington on Friday for a two-hour meeting with the AF of L's new Political Action Committee. When he tried to buy a Pullman chair for the trip back to New York, he was told he'd have to wait for a cancellation. He waited, by pacing in front of the transportation desk. "What're you doing here?" Dubinsky was asked, and he answered, "Picketing."

Roy Neuberger, one of the foremost collectors of American art has just acquired 25 paintings by Milton Avery. Avery is the artist who once worked on the WPA Art Project—where the paintings later were sold by the pound. . . . Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., is a victim of virus X.

Bob Hannegan was asked about his successor: "Is Senator McGrath's rise due to the fact that he seconded Truman's nomination at the '44 convention?" He shrugged: "I don't know. But I do know that it didn't hurt him any" . . . Paul Vincent Carroll, whose plays won two Critics' Circle Prizes, has booked passage to New York. The new play he's bringing here is tentatively titled "The Wise Have Not Spoken" . . . Nick the Greek, the gambler, lost at gin-rummy to a man who said, "I quit. I'm ahead $1776. That's a patriotic number." Nick started to deal the cards and told him: "One more game, for $36. After all America won in 1813 too."

New Lewis Political Playoff

By Drew Pearson

John L. Lewis has a cute habit of playing one political party off against the other. Sometimes it works, sometimes it backfires.

Lewis

Therefore it will be interesting to watch the repercussions from his use of Speaker Martin and Senator Bridges. Will it help or hurt their political futures?

In 1936 Lewis put up half a million dollars of his union's money to elect FDR. Then, four years later, he went on a Nation-wide broadcast to urge labor to defeat Roosevelt.

Again in 1946, Lewis threw his weight against the reelection of Senator Kilgore of West Virginia—which also backfired. West Virginia miners ignored Lewis' advice, voted for Kilgore.

Lewis and Dewey

Again last June, Lewis staged another backstage maneuver. Cuddling up to Governor Dewey's friends, he was able to pull one of the biggest wage boosts in recent history, plus welfare fund, plus almost everything else he wanted from both the J. P. Morgan steel interests and the Mellon family coal interests.

The United States Government, previously in control of the mines, had been trying to keep wages and prices down. But the minute the mines were turned back to private operation, the Mellons and Morgans gave Lewis a big wage hike, and smaller coal operators had to do likewise. An inflationary increase in the price of both coal and steel followed immediately.

According to coal-industry insiders, this was part of a deal between Dewey's friends and John L. for future political support. If so, it backfired for the coal operators. And if it helped Dewey, recent political polls don't show it.

Lewis and the Speaker

Lewis' latest deal has all the earmarks of a shift to the presidential bandwagon of Speaker Joe Martin. It was not mental telepathy or intuition that caused the Speaker suddenly to suggest to Lewis and Ezra Van Horn that Senator Styles Bridges umpire the coal dispute. It was a carefully rehearsed deal.

Real fact is that Bridges, an able, hard-working Senator, has been a friend of Lewis' for years.

In 1947 John L. himself proposed Bridges to Secretary of the Interior Krug, then in charge of the coal mines, as umpire between the operators and miners.

Thus it was not divine guidance that prompted Speaker Martin suddenly to conjure up the name of Senator Bridges as the man to smooth out the coal dispute.

All of which proves one thing and raises an interesting question.

1. Whenever John L. Lewis wants to settle a coal strike, it will be settled. He'll always find a way of doing it.

2. Will John L.'s latest maneuver help or hurt the political ambitions of shrewd Speaker Joe Martin? With Dewey and Taft slumping, Joe has the urge in a big way. And John L.'s greatest ambition—never yet fulfilled—is to put his own man in the White House.

Merry-Go-Round

Senator Ferguson's National Defense Committee has just completed its report on the Howard Hughes investigation — and for some strange reason no mention whatsoever of Senator Brewster's mysterious lobbying for Pan American Airways. Not a word . . . (Both are Republicans) . . . After holding out for many months, the CI[illegible] has filed papers under the new Federal lobbying act . . . Mrs. Chase Going Woodhouse, able ex-Congresswoman from Connecticut, will take an important job with the American Military Government in Germany . . . No. 1 "fireman" in President Truman's campaign for renomination is Federal Security Agency Chief Oscar Ewing, an old Democratic warhorse, who has been moving around the country quietly chopping off heads and ditching disaffected Democrats. One political head chopped off by Ewing was Democratic National Committeeman Bob Tehan of Wisconsin . . . A major test of Truman strength is coming up in Cook County, Illinois. Old-line Democrats are trying to oust Jake Arvey because he said Truman had no chance for reelection. Al Horan is the chief Truman leader.

Revamping the Postoffice

The House Postoffice Committee has been sitting on a confidential report on the Cleveland postoffice which may lead to a wholesale streamlining of big city postoffices throughout the country.

The Cleveland postoffice was selected for an exhaustive efficiency study, but spot checks were also made at Cincinnati, Detroit and Buffalo. As a result of the survey, Congress will be asked to earmark $50,000 for overhauling a section of the Cleveland postoffice, and if this is successful, the system will be adopted throughout the country. Annual savings for the Nation are estimated at 72 million dollars.

Throughout each day and night . . . And yet You tell me how to choose . . . Between the wrong and right . . . You bring me rain and sunshine and . . . The flowers at my feet . . . A dream for each tomorrow and . . . The friends I want to meet . . . Wherever I may wander, You . . . Are always at my side . . . However, much I may appease . . . My pleasure or my pride . . . You are so good to me, O God . . . That in a thousand years . . . I could not thank you half enough . . . For all my smiles and tears.
